Gore Pledges Fight To Hike Highway Fund

Predicts Ultimate Compromise On Bill By Senate, House

WASHINGTON, April 28—UP—Sen. Albert Gore Saturday promised an all-out fight to increase funds earmarked for primary, urban and rural roads in a $51.5 billion highway building program.

The Tennessee Democrat, who is chairman of the Senate Highway subcommittee predicted the Senate will insist on $900 million a year in federal aid for such roads. States would put the same amount.

The annual $900 million expenditure for this purpose was authorized in Gore's five-year, $18 billion highway construction bill which the Senate approved last year.

Another Democratic bill, which the House overwhelmingly passed Friday, would provide $75 million in the next fiscal year for the three classes of highways. The amount would be successively increased $5 million each year over a 13-year program.

The bulk of the funds authorized in each bill would be for construction of upwards of 40,000 miles of superhighways in an interstate system linking the nation's main cities and most of the state capitals.

Gore foresaw no difficulty in getting a House-Senate compromise agreement on expenditures for the interstate network. The House and Senate bills call for slightly different outlays in various years but the ultimate expenditures would be about the same.

The Senate bill would authorize only about the first half of the interstate system to give Congress a chance to review the program at the halfway mark. The House bill calls for an annual report on it from the administration.

Under both versions, the federal government would pay nine-tenths the cost of the superhighways and state and local governments, the remaining one-tenth.

Senate leaders indicated approval of the House plan to help finance the huge road building program by increasing so-called "user" taxes. But the Senate may change the House rates.

The House bill calls for hiking gasoline and diesel fuel taxes one cent a gallon, tire taxes three cents a pound and taxes on trucks, buses and trailers two per cent. The cost was estimated at about $8.83 annually for an "average motorist" driving 10,000 miles a year.

Half-Way Marker Passed In Parish Cancer Fund Push

Fifty - eight per cent of the Ouachita parish quota for the 1956 cancer drive fund has been raised, according to George Rorex, crusade chairman.

"We have our hearts set on a successful crusade because our quota is based on the minimum need for cancer control in Ouachita parish and support of the American Cancer Society's state and national programs," Rorex said.

He explained that no comparison with last year's fund drive can be made, because there was only a supplemental campaign in the residential areas in 1955.

"Business firms which have not contributed are urged to forward their checks to P. O. Box 430, Monroe," Rorex said.

He pointed out that business firms and professional people were not solicited in 1955, and asked that they cooperate in the current drive.

Mrs. C. K. Crandall, chairman of the neighbor-to-neighbor drive, said that if anyone has questions about the handling of the fund's envelopes they may call 3-0891.

Rorex emphasized that Ouachita parish is lagging behind other parishes nearby. He said one neighboring parish has exceeded its quota parish lacks 42 per cent reaching its goal.

"Let's all get behind this crusade and push it over the top," he said.

Official Returns Show Amendment One Carried By Margin Of 767 Votes

BATON ROUGE, La., April 28—UP—Gov.-elect Earl K. Long lost his fight against Amendment No. 1 by only the slim margin of 767 votes, officials results of the April 17 General Election showed today.

The final vote on the amendment, which requires a two-thirds vote of the Legislature to increase existing taxes or impose new ones, was 104,283 for and 103,516 against.

The results were released by Secretary of State Wade O. Martin Jr.

Long stumped vigoriously against the amendment because he said "it ties a governor's hands." During the campaign for governor, Long had promised not to impose any new taxes, but has indicated he wanted to shift some present ones, primarily the severance tax on sulphur and possibly the $3 car license fee.

He lost his fight against No. 3, which was approved 111,129 to 90,272. No. 3 makes it possible for the Orleans parish levee district to decrease the tax millage.

All other amendments passed overwhelmingly.

No. 2, which passed 161,130 to 41,693, permits the International House of New Orleans exemption from property taxes.

No. 4 was approved 142,463 to 62,357 and No. 6 passed 143,024 to 62,614. These amendments set up Louisiana's long range highway

UN Secretary In Egypt To Complete Mid-East Mission

CAIRO, Egypt, April 28 (AP)—Dag Hammarskjold met with Egyptian leaders today in an effort to translate the cease-fire agreement with Israel into an enduring Middle East peace.

The close-mouthed U. N. Secretary General flew here from Beirut, Lebanon, for what likely will be the last round of his mission before reporting to the Security Council. He was closeted in short order with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi.

Hammarskjold came here after obtaining the pledges of Egypt, Israel and Syria to a cease-fire along their borders, and conditional pledges from two other Arab states, Lebanon and Syria. The result has been a decided lowering of tension.

He was primarily interested on his second visit to Cairo in physical arrangements for making the cease-fire stick along the Israeli-Egyptian front.

Suggestions for such arrangements have included an increase in the number of U. N. truce observers, mobile patrols, observation posts for U. N. personnel at strategic border points, and the withdrawal of troops from immediate contact on either side of the demarcation line.

On troop withdrawals, the Egyptians have suggested pulling the troops back about 500 yards. But Hammarskjold is reported to have urged simply that the opposing troops be kept out of sight from each other with the actual distance of withdrawal determined by local geography and circumstances.

Israel is reported to have objected that the Egyptian proposal would leave some Israeli border settlements without protection. Syria also has objected that a withdrawal would oblige her to pull back from the Sea of Galilee and put her to a disadvantage

Citizen Councils Seeking Members In North's Cities

DETROIT, April 28 (AP)—The Detroit Free Press said tonight that pro-seyregationists Citizens Councils of Alabama are recruiting members and organizing chapters in the Detroit area.

Citizens Councils were organized in Alabama and some other Southern states to fight the Supreme Court ruling ordering integration of schools.

The Free Press quoted Sam Engelhardt, an Alabama state senator who is executive secretary of the Citizens Council of Alabama as saying that Detroiters had written him for organizational literature which he sent.

"I won't tell you who they are because they are scared of trouble," Engelhardt was quoted as saying.

London Arms Talks Nearing Total Failure

Report Sessions May Be Terminated In Near Future

LONDON, April 28—UP—The five-power disarmament conference here appeared to have all but fizzled out Saturday. Sources said it probably would break up soon without agreement.

Despite a series of proposals by the United States, Russia and Britain and France, sources said there was not enough progress to warrant continuation of the talks which now are in recess until Wednesday.

Canada is the fifth member of the conference, and the delegates are expected to report back to the United Nations in New York for further instructions.

Saturday, American delegate Harold E. Stassen conferred privately with Soviet delegate Andrei Gromyko for one hour and 45 minutes in the third of their two-power sessions. Stassen will meet with the delegates of the other three powers Monday to fill them in on the side talks.

After the London talks end, it is considered likely that the Soviets will try to reap a propaganda harvest by trimming their 4-million-man armed force to approximate the 2.9-million-man force of the United States.

At the London parley, Stassen proposed that both Russia and the United States trim military manpower to 2.5 million apiece. There was no takers.

Russia also balked again at the "open sky" aerial inspection plan of President Eisenhower. And Gromyko torpedoed a three-phase Anglo-French plan seeking ultimate nuclear disarmament by giving it the silent treatment.

Wedding Delayed

Groom Critically Injured As 'Gift' Explodes In Face

DAYTON, Ohio, April 28—UP—A mysterious bomb, disguised as a wedding gift, exploded in a suburban home Saturday critically injuring a high school coach who planned to marry Saturday morning and attend the funeral of his father Saturday afternoon.

His sister, Mrs. George Cooney, 34, Chicago, Ill., and two aunts, Mrs. Donald Stewart, 45, Washington, D.C., and Mrs. Francis Stefanak, Elmhurst, Ill., suffered minor injuries.

They had gathered around a table in the living room along with other relatives to watch Dixon unwrap the package which had been found on the front porch along with two others about 5:45 a.m. (CST). The other packages contained gifts.

Eighteen persons, including six children, were in the house when the bomb, apparently dynamite which was triggered by a portable radio battery, exploded.

Illness Fatal To LSU Agriculture Dean Jordan Lee

BATON ROUGE, La., April 28 UP— Dean Jordan G. Lee, 70-year-old head of the Louisiana State University College of Agriculture, died today at his home after an illness of several weeks.

Lee, who was scheduled to have retired June 30 after 25 years as head of the agriculture department, came here in 1919 as head of the department of vocational agriculture and was named dean of the college in 1931.

Dr. J. Norman Efferson, director of the LSU Agricultural Experiment Station, was named by the LSU Board of Supervisors to succeed Lee as head of the college of agriculture.

Dean Lee was born in Farmerville, La., in 1885 and received both his bachelor's and master's degree from LSU.

He organized and was first head of the department of agriculture at Southwestern Louisiana Institute at Lafayette in 1909. He moved to LSU in 1919.

The Progressive Farmer magazine named Lee "man of the year" in Louisiana agriculture in 1943. He had also been chairman of the Louisiana Soil Conservation committee since it was organized.

Plane Crash Kills 2 At Harrisonburg

Both men are convicted members of the Rosenberg atomic spy ring and were brought from prison by subcommittee for information on use of Americans in Soviet intelligence.

Navy Trainer Plunges Into Wooded Area

Navy Says Third Person On Plane, Body Not Found

HARRISONBURG, April 28 (Special)—Two U. S. Navy airmen were killed 10 miles northwest of here about 2 a.m. today as their AD5 trainer crashed and exploded into flames in a heavily wooded area.

A third person was reported by the U. S. Navy to be on the plane but searchers late tonight had failed to locate him.

The bodies of the two airmen were found by searchers early this morning after the crash four miles east of the Enterprise road. A crash helmet with the words, "Smitty" V. C. 33 stamped on it was the only means of any identification available.

The body of one of the men, presumed to be the pilot, was practically incenerated in the wreckage, Esthman Newman, Monroe Morning World correspondent stated Newman, on the scene of the accident said the second crewman was found hanging in a pine tree about 75 feet from the ground, a half mile from the wreckage. His parachute was partially open, Louisiana State Police said. Officers said his body was badly mutilated.

Newman stated the wristwatch of the man who went down with the plane was stoped at 2 o'clock. Two crash helmets were found by officers, Newman said.

The Douglas AD5 Skyraider cut a path over a half mile through treetops of the heavily forested area. Sources said the plane showed evidence of an explosion after it struck the ground.

A group of boys on a nearby lake this morning heard the plane go over and then crash, authorities reported. The youths reported the crash to the Catahoula Sheriff's office about daybreak.

Charles Phillips, Dr. John Hearn and Ernest Guinn, all of the Harrisonburg area spotted the wreckage while cruising around in a light plane this afternoon about 5 o'clock.

Phillips, owner of an airplane service at Jonesville, directed Louisiana state troper Don Steen and Catahoula deputy sheriff J. Y. McGuffie to the scene by a walkie-talkie radio.

$6.95 Million For Northeast

$160 Million Budget Gets Preliminary Approval Of State Education Board

BATON ROUGE, April 28 (AP)—The Louisiana Education Board today voted to present a 55 million dollar building program for colleges, special schools and trade schools and ask the Legislature for as much of it as possible this year.

The board passed on to the state budget officer as "an estimate of need" a request for 160 million dollars to run Louisiana public schools next year, an increase of 48 million over the present school year.

The eight state colleges, six white and two Negro, estimated their building needs in the near future at $50,560,200.

The special schools for blind, deaf and spastics said they would need $4,834,557 worth of new construction.

The board, explaining it asked for the estimates to plan for the future, voted to ask the Legislature to "provide as much of the necessary funds as are available." The board concluded its meeting with an executive session, indicating it was planning to direct Southern University to institute a graduate school, "at least in the Youth Confesses Attack; 'Learned' By Watching TV

MANSFIELD, La., April 28 (AP)—Police said a 16-year-old boy who told them he thought he had studied enough television crime shows to figure out the "perfect crime" was being held in connection with the beating and robbery of a 65-year-old Grand Cane merchant.

DeSoto Parish Sheriff Harmon Burgess identified the youth as Norman Spencer Negro, 16, of nearby Grand Cane. He said the youth admitted beating Gilmer S. Pittard in Pittard's store and stealing $41. Pittard is in a critical condition in a Shreveport hospital.

Burgess said Spencer described himself as a "television student of crime." He said the youth was being held without charge pending the outcome of Pittard's condition.

Daylight Saving Time In Effect For Wide Area Of U.S.

ELGIN, Ill., April 28 —UP—The 70 million Americans who will turn their clocks ahead for daylight saving time Sunday won't lose an hour's sleep after all.

They'll only lose about 59 minutes.

Experts of the Elgin observatory explained Saturday that the second, the keystone of time, ain't what it used to be.

Last year when the International Astronomical Union met in Dublin, Ireland, it shortened the second by 18 per cent.

The second used to be calculated as a certain fraction of the mean solar day, but the high-domes discovered that the earth is revolving more slowly these days. They changed the second to a fraction of the year.

The observatory said the effect of this will be to give about a minute's extra sleep to those who turn their clocks ahead an hour.

According to the observatory,

Sulphur Man Kills Wife, Then Makes Suicide Attempt

SULPHUR, La., April 28 (AP)—A 40-year-old construction worker ended an argument with his wife today by shooting her to death and then shooting himself, the Calcasieu Parish sheriff's office said.

The man George Henderson, was in front of his house when officers reached the scene. He was taken to a hospital where his condition was described as serious. A deputy was stationed outside his room.

Mrs. Addis Doyle Henderson, 31, was found dead on the floor of the bedroom, deputy Sam C. Mazilly said. She had been shot in the right side of the chest, back of the head, back of the neck, and the right shoulder.

Russian Seamen Charge 'Pressure' Forced Return Of Five Comrades

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) —Three Russian seamen, declaring they plan to remain in this country, testified today they thought "pressure" caused five of their companions to return to Russia.

"Somebody put pressure on them," said Viktor Tatamikov, adding "I am sorry. They will perish. They will cut wood in the slave labor camp."

The three seamen went before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee to tell their story only a day after they had spurned direct appeals from Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin that they return to Russia.

Michael Ivankov - Nikolov, 35, quoted Zarubin that "our families were waiting for us, begging us to come back and that all would be forgotten."

"But the expression on his face contrasted with everything he said Zarubin told him "my family is waiting for me and the government continues to pay them my salary."

A fourth seaman, Viktor Solovyev, had appeared previously before the subcommittee, which is looking into Soviet activities in the United States.

All were crewmen on the Soviet tanker Tuapse, which was impounded by Nationalist China in 1954. They and the five who returned to Russia suddenly on April 7 had obtained political asylum in this country last October.

The fight of the five, under conditions which some have described as "kidnaping," caused the United States to expel two Soviet representatives to the United Nations on grounds they acted outside the scope of their authority.

Since returning to Russia, the five have told newsmen there they acted voluntarily. But this was disputed by the four who remained.

Ivankov - Nikolov testified today the five had seemed to be happy here. None of them, in conversations with him, had ever expressed any desire to return to Russia, he said, adding they had joined in a voluntary statement last December saying how happy they were in this free country.

He said he had read the statement issued from Moscow in the name of the five returnees. Asked if they had written it, he replied:

"Of course not. This was something that was dreamt up and given to them by officials for signature."

Baton Rouge Mayor Killed In Air Crash

LSU Prof, Deputy Sheriff Also Die In Mich. Tragedy

LANSING, Mich., April 28 —UP—The mayor of Baton Rouge, La., Jesse L. Webb Jr., 43, and two other persons were killed Saturday night when their private plane exploded and crashed while approaching the Lansing, Mich., Capital Airport.

The other victims in the crash have been identified as Dr. Kimbrow Owen, professor of philosophy at Louisiana State University, and Paul Pitman, 42, a Baton Rouge deputy sheriff who piloted the craft.

Witnesses told state police the plane lost a wing on its approach for a landing and exploded in mid air. State police said the trio was enroute to the Municipal Conference to be held at Michigan State University this weekend.

They had left Baton Rouge at 3:30 a.m. and were scheduled to arrive at Lansing at noon Saturday. No explanation was given as to why they didn't arrive until 6 p.m. when the crash occurred.

The plane burned immediately after crashing in an open field short of the runway.

Report Discovery Of Murder Scheme Against Top Reds

LONDON, April 28 —UP—Scotland Yard Saturday was reported to have uncovered and foiled a plot hatched by four Eastern European anti-Communists to assassinate Russia's two leaders on their just-concluded tour of Britain.

Two London newspapers reported that the Yard, which was responsible for security precautions during the Russians' 10-day visit, learned of a plot by four men concocted on the Continent and in Britain to kill the two chief Soviet statesmen.

The Daily Express carried a copyrighted story on the alleged assassination plans. The Daily Sketch said the plot involved two gangs.

Although Scotland Yard refused to discuss the matter, police sources said security agents had intercepted letters both from abroad and from within England threatening Bulganin and Khrushchev.

The Daily Sketch said two underground gangs were party to the plot, one centered in Britain and the other on the continent. It said the foreign office, Scotland Yard and naval intelligence had been alerted.

"Checks on white Russians who used to serve in Russia's navy were made, as it was possible that the plotters would try to mine part of the Thames (River) when B and K visited Greenwich by boat," it said.

According to the Sketch, four men planned to draw lots to see who would draw the assassination assignment.

Identities of the four men never were discovered, the paper said.

Open House Planned For New Protestant Chapel

The new protestant chapel on the campus of Louisiana Training Institute will be open to the general public at special ceremonies planned for May 6 from 3 to 5 p.m.

A. L. Swanson, superintendent of the state school, issued an invitation to all interested citizens to inspect the chapel along with other new buildings on the campus.

The protestant chapel, which cost approximately $40,000, is located in the heart of the campus. A large cross dominates the tan brick structure which is trimmed in Roman brick.

Inside the sanctuary is an auditorium with a large permanent seating capacity and additional space which can be transformed if needed. Chaplain R. F. Wyatt has office space in the building along with four Sunday School rooms. One of the smaller Sunday School rooms has kitchen facilities.

Placed in a dominant brick wall above the pulpit is a striking cross. The chapel also has a church organ and a choir loft with a seating capacity of 12.

Chaplain Wyatt conducts worship services each Sunday morning in the chapel. Following the services housemothers hold Sunday School classes. Church attendance is compulsory for both Protestant and Catholic boys at the school.

Each Wednesday night at 7 o'clock Chaplain Wyatt holds prayer meeting services in the chapel.

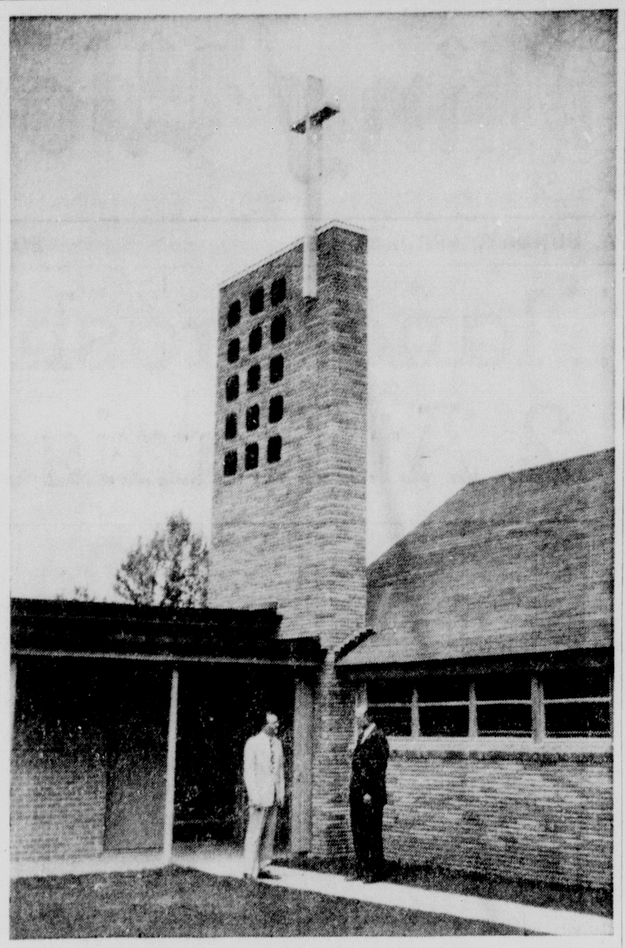

Aiding school officials uring the open house will be members of the United Church Women of the Twin Cities. For the past six years the United Church Women have taken an active interest in the state school.

On the second Thursday of each month the United Church Women meet at L. T. I. for fellowship with all of the boys. Mrs. A. E. Allen, is in charge of the program. Church women also recognize each boy on their birthday and at Christmas.

Members of the open house committee are Mrs. Florence McCoin, Mrs. A. E. Allen, Mrs. C. A. Kincaid, Chaplain Wyatt, Ben Tarver and Kermit Youngblood.

Visitors will be welcomed to the campus by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tarver, housemothers and Chaplain Wyatt. Members of the decorating committee are Miss Norma Duty, L. H. Henderson and Mrs. C. E. Kensie.

Refreshments will be served by boys at the school.

Week For Mental Health Program Proclaimed Here

"Mental Health Week" begins in Monroe and West Monroe today, according to proclamations issued by Mayor John E. Coon and Mayor J. Allan Norris.

The mayors emphasized in their ness" is the most "mental illness is the most serious single health problem confronting the nation. Many mental patients are unable to get the treatment they need because mental hospitals are overcrowded, understaffed, and short of medical supplies and equipment.

"Many people suffering from emotional disorders are unable to get help because there is a severe shortage of psychiatric clinics and private psychiatrists.

"Mental illness research is being hampered by lack of funds and personnel."

But the mayors contend that "These conditions can be remedied by concerted action of the citizens of our city, our state, and our nation."

The National Association for Mental Health says that more than 10 million Americans, or one in every 16, are now suffering from some form of mental disorder. Some 750,000 men, women and children are under the care of mental hospitals, according to the association, and this would be more than in all other hospitals combined.

About 500 state and local affiliates of the national association are working in behalf of the mentally ill. Needed are hospital volunteers, speakers, techincal and professional assistants, education and publicity workers, membership and fund campaigners, as well as financial contributions.

N'east La. Home Show, Festival Opens May 13

Northeast Louisiana's Home Show and Spring Festival will open to the public at 6 p.m. Tuesday, May 8 at the Ouachita Valley Fairgrounds, West Monroe, according to W. L. Dean, president, Northeast Louisiana chapter, National Association of Home Builders of America, sponsors of the event. The show will run May 8 through 13, Dean said.

The Home Show has been designed for universal appeal to the home owner, and home owner to be, Dean explained. "Exhibits will include, but not be limited to, the newest designs in architecture, construction, materials, furnishings interior decorating, appliances, air conditioning, in short everything that goes to build a home and the appurtenances that go to make a home," Dean said.

Featured as an integral part of the show will be an "All Gas Cooking School," produced, presented and jointly sponsored by United Gas Corporation and News-Star — World Publishing company. The sessions will be highlighted by the latest techniques of cooking, to be accomplished on the newest types of gas cooking appliances, the sponsors announced. The many detailed cooking techniques will be accomplished by staff technicians of United Gas. During the school sessions, valuable food prizes will be given daily and the grand prize to be announced later will be awarded at the final session.

Members of the Federated Flower clubs of the Fifth Louisiana District will present a continuous flower show during the run of the show and prizes to competitors will be awarded daily.

Appearing as the feature entertainment attraction, Miss Joan Brandon, described by critics as the "world's greatest lady hypnotist," will present nightly exhibitions of the baffling phenomenon of mass hypnosis. Miss Brandon has presented her unusual and highly entertaining act to audiences all over the United States and is the subject of feature articles in two national magazines in their June issues.

Jack Sebastian, chairman of the show committee for the Home Builders Association and Tom MacKay, vice president of Rowe and Associates, producers, have been working since February 1 on the many details of presentation and, according to Sebastian, "The end result of our joint efforts will be presented to the public with the firm belief that they will be pleased, informed and entertained."

"Manufacturers, distributors and dealers whose products will be presented to the public during the Home show, many of which have never been publicly displayed, have extended themselves to make this show outstanding." Sebastian concluded.

'Dry Hole' Costs Expand Sharply For Oil Industry

HOUSTON, April 28 (AP)—Oil industry annual expenditures on dry holes have increased over 190 per cent since 1944.

An industry survey this week estimated that dry holes in 1944 cost a total of 274 million dollars, compared to 797 million in 1953.

It was estimated the per barrel cost of finding and producing a barrel of oil in 1953 was $3.16, compared to a $1.47 average 10 years earlier.

Sharp, but smaller, changes in volume of operations accompanied the cost increases. Only 25,262 wells were drilled in 1944, when crude production totaled 1,442,997,000 barrels. Wells drilled in 1953 totaled 49,279. Production totaled 2,038,876,000.

The American Petroleum Institute, the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America, and the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn. spent 16 months in completing the survey. Their objective was to develop specific information on drilling and exploration costs.

The drilling costs segment of the survey, released in January, said the average well drilled in 1953 cost $89,000, compared to $59,500 in 1944.

Between 1944 and 1953, total annual costs of explorations for oil increased 203 per cent, from 645 million dollars to 1,956 million. Development program costs increased 184 per cent, from 851 million dollars to 2,419 million Production costs jumped 230 per cent, from 627 million to 2,073 million.

The total cost of finding, developing and producing oil increased 203 per cent.

The production phase of operations experienced the greatest increase, over 137 per cent, jumping from 43 per cent per barrel produced in 1944 to $1.02 per barrel in 1953.

Exploration costs jumped from 45 cents per barrel to 95 cents, a 111 per cent gain. Development expentirures increased 101 per cent, from 59 cents a barrel in 1944 to $1.19 in 1953.

The survey included total operations costs but excluded such items as income taxes and payments of interests and principal.

An announcement accompanying this week's survey said costs and other factors no doubt have increased materially since 1953, the latest year for which complete date was available.

Six Children In Single Family Wed In Ceremony

BLENHEIM, Ont., April 28 (AP)—Two by two, by two by two, by two by two the six Dorssers children marched down the aisle today in a multiple wedding.

They emerged from St. Mary's Roman Catholic church to be greeted by two brass bands and virtually the entire village population of 2,800.

Four daughters and two sons of farmer Leo Dorssers, with their new husbands and brides, were driven in a horn-blaring procession through streets overhung with colored lights.

The girls, solemn during the ceremony, broke into broad smiles as townspeople lining the sidewalks ignored a sudden thunderstorm to wave and call greetings.

"This is the biggest thing that ever happened here," said a tuba player in the Dutch polka band. "We'll want everyone to remember it."

After receiving the village council's gift of six steam irons, the wedding party headed for a social hall for a 12-hour reception, feast and dancing.

After two months of intensive preparations, the six couples agreed they were looking forward to "a quiet time at last." Three said they would go on short wedding trips. The others planned to go direct to new homes.

All said they "never dreamed of such excitement" when the six-way ceremony was announced. It was by edict of Papa Dorssers, 61-year-old father of 15, who said his farm chores didn't give him time to "run from one wedding to another all spring long."

Despite the complicated arrangements, the ceremony went smoothly. Father Willibrord, Capuchin monk who celebrated the nuptial Mass, asked the overflow crowd in the 500-seat church to be orderly.

Then the six couples, brides in identical white gowns moving up one aisle and grooms up the other, joined hands before the altar rail. It took a total of 40 minutes for the separate exchanges of marriage vows and plain gold wedding rings.

Pap Dorssers, who wore bedroom slippers for the lengthy rehearsal, put on his best shoes today but he balked at making trips back and forth to escort his daughters to the altar. He walked up with the first.

With four unmarried children still living at home, Dorssers said he was in no hurry for any more weddings.

"We have to get over from this one yet," he said. He said the wedding had cost "maybe $800, maybe $900 but I haven't added up all the bills yet."

His plump, grey-haired wife, who said in recent days she barely had time to keep up on her farm chores, wearily agreed.

The newlywed Dorssers are Grada and Ben Luiking; Wilhelmina and Gerad Williamson; Christina and Jack Van Haren; Dora and Bill Vandenberg; Andre and Anne Heuvelmena, and Cornelius and Joan Menheere.

SCHOOL OFFICERS—Sue Sims, was elected president of the LaSalle High School student body and Sally Long, vice-president.

Directors Named For United Givers Fund Organization

The United Givers Fund's first board of directors, 60 members strong, was announced yesterday by Grayson Guthrie, president of the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce, which spearheaded the organization of the Fund.

Jim Williams, Chamber manager, pointed out that the board members were chosen by a corps of 40 civic club representatives, serving on a council, from about 20 different groups.

In his announcement, Guthrie said, "A lot of hard work and sincere planning has been accorded by the civic club council representatives toward offering the names of top caliber parish leaders for director posts and it appears that the 60-man delegation presents one of the strongest governing bodies possible for a charity fund raising organization of this nature."

The board's members represent 19 basic classifications of the parish's leadership.

Guthrie said, "We expect to move out in whirlwind fashion in at least five immediate segments of organized effort at the initial meeting and certainly with only six months prior to our big funds campaign we have little time to waste."

The first meeting of the board is set for 7 p.m. Monday, in the Cameo room of the Virginia Hotel, Williams said.

The board members are:

Industry executives — Walter Kellogg, Eckard Wheeler, Robert H. Evans, Jack Gaines, H. M. James and Max Riley.

Insurance —Fred Petty and Kenneth Blue.

Segregationists To Stage Rally In Ark.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 28 (AP)—Arkansas segregationists and Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia will stage what they hope to be a giant rally here Monday night.

The meeting is sponsored jointly by the Arkansas White Citizens Council and White America, Inc., two staunch opponents of mixing the races in public schools.

Former Arkansas Gov. Ben Laney will be master of ceremonies.

Along with Gov. Griffin, speakers will include circuit Judge Tom Brady of Brookhaven, Miss., author of "Black Monday," a book setting out segregationist arguments against the U. S. Supreme Court integration decrees.

The meeting will be held less than 48 hours before the filing deadline for Democratic primary elections, in which segregationists have said they will have a candidate for governor.

Rotating Account

The Palace Rotating Account (P.R.A.) is a new Palace credit service, a new convenience for quick and easy shopping. You use the P.R.A. just like a regular charge account, but instead of paying the full amount each month, you pay only a convenient, prearranged amount based on your credit limit within the month. You decide this amount yourself . . . based on what you can conveniently pay each month.

To avoid confusion as to which account your purchases and payment might apply, it is requested that each customer have either a regular charge account or a P.R.A., but not both. You may raise or lower your P.R.A. at your own convenience just by applying in person at the credit office.

The advantage of this Account!
As long as payments are made regularly, you may always charge the difference between what you owe and your credit limit. For example, if you purchased merchandise up to your credit limit of $60 and you have paid $30, you can charge an additional $30. You will receive a bill each month showing each purchase, payment, credit, and balance.

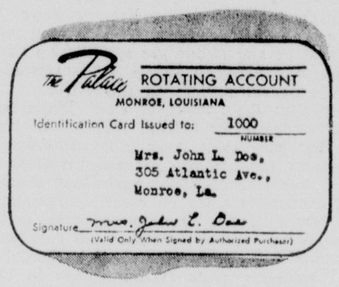

TABLE SHOWING PAYMENT AND LIMITS AVAILABLE:
Monthly payments:	$10	$15	$20	$25	$30	$35
Credit to:	$60	$90	$120	$150	$180	$210

You will receive a P. R. A. identification card which you will present to the salesperson at the time of purchasing . . . or mention it when you order by mail or phone . . . this is your identification for a Palace Rotating Account.

Enjoy the advantage of credit without hard-to-meet payments at the end of some months!

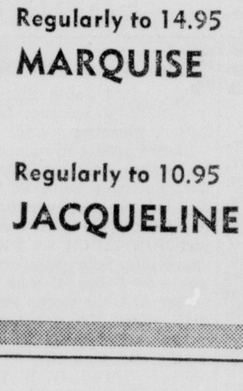

Visit the credit office of our store and arrangements will be made for easier shopping.

Blessedness Of The Sabbath

Woven into the warp and woof of western culture and civilization is the Sabbath day—the day of rest, a profound influence in the development of Christendom through many centuries, powerful in shaping our lives.

We in America take Sunday for granted, just as we take liberty and freedom for granted, and all blessings, including the spring-perfumed air that we breathe in this vernal season.

Have we ever stopped to ask ourselves what life would be like without the Sabbath day?

Sunday brings us, first of all, relaxation from the cares of the busy week. And it brings us the opportunity to renew our devotionals in the churches; to commune with nature in the outdoors; and to perform many odd-time tasks that never would be performed if we had to work seven days a week.

The stern old Puritans of New England enforced rigid discipline over men's conduct on the Sabbath; and nearly all activities except preaching and praying and psalm-singing came to a halt.

We of today, more tolerant, and perhaps more worldly minded, avoid the enforcement of a "blue Sunday." In our modern industrial era, the wheels of machinery must turn to a certain extent. The lights in our homes must be kept burning, the water in the mains must remain available. Our vast complicated transport and communications systems must be manned. The trains and busses and airplanes must run on schedule, the telephone and telegraph must carry their burden of messages. The police and the firemen must be available, the hospitals remain open to look after the ill and the injured.

Yet it is surprising how widely the Sabbath is observed as a day of rest. And those who must work on Sunday receive an equivalent day off.

Most Christian observances have pagan prototypes, but the idea of a day of rest once a week is uniquely a product of the Bible. It is rooted, of course, in the Book of Genesis, and the Biblical account of the creation.

In our modern day of tension and strain, the Sabbath is a life-saving and benificent institution. All citizens should strive to make the best possible uses of their Sundays—spiritually, mentally and physically.

A Super-Market In Rome

Next June, an international meeting of food distributors will take place in Rome, Italy. Among the exhibits will be a complete 10,000 square foot super-market—Amercian style. More than 600 U. S. concerns contributed equipment, supplies and merchandise to make it possible. Food chain experts and technicians from this country will do the big job of setting the market up. The project was undertaken by an American food chain association at the request of a Department of Agriculture agency. The President and other high government officials have expressed great interest in this means of developing international trade and promoting good will for America abroad.

Italians and other Europeans who visit the exhibit will be amazed at the variety of products shown, their quality, and the attractiveness and convenience of the super-market system. And they would be equally amazed at a replica of a typical modern American retail store, chain or independent, dealing in other kinds of wares. We are far ahead of the rest of the world in merchandising techniques. No other people is offered so vast a choice when it's time to shop. Equally important, the average American family income will buy far more than will that of the families of other lands.

Why should this be so? There are many reasons. One of the biggest of them is free competition, under a political and economic system which encourages merchants to everlastingly try to offer more inducements than the fellow down the street.

A Critical Problem— And A Solution

Secretary of State Dulles and Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Strauss have said the long-range security of the country may be seriously affected by the continued shortage of scientists, engineers and other specialists.

Russia is producing about 60,000 trained engineers annually while colleges and universities in this country are graduating only 22,500.

What can be and is being done to bring more qualified American students into engineering? An answer is found in an approach, originated by Michigan State University, called JETS—Junior Engineering Training for Schools. JETS brings the facts of engineering to young people in high school at a time when they are deciding on their future careers.

Since the first JETS club was organized in 1950, the program has grown to include 75 clubs in 18 states with an active membership of more than 2,000 boys and girls.

The hard facts of engineering—that mathematics and other "non-glamorous" subjects are musts—are stressed. This approach both emphasizes the realities of an engineering career and helps to steer students, who have misconceptions about engineering and whose talents fall in other areas, away from the profession.

'Preserve Competition — Not Competitors'

The Sherman Antitrust Act was passed in 1890. The Clayton Act, which supplemented it, came into being in 1914.

"Since 1890," as Nation's Business points out editorially, "the surrey with the fringe on top has become the four-door hardtop." In other words, times have changed to an almost unbelievable extent. Yet these old laws remain on the books—to the confusion both of those who must enforce them and those who must operate under them. The magazine urges a new law, which will recognize present-day business realities. And in framing this law, it adds, one objective should be kept firmly in mind: "We are trying to preserve competition—not competitors."

That is a vital objective indeed. There are vast dangers in the idea that bigness in itself is bad and monopolistic—and that all kinds of protection must be devised in law to keep the small in business. One example of this attitude was found in the campaign of twenty years ago to penalize the chain retailing systems with punitive class taxes and other restrictions aimed purely at growth and size. Had that campaign succeeded, producers would have been deprived of markets and consumers would have been deprived of the economies mass-distribution makes possible. We would have turned the clock back, at an almost unimaginable cost to the nation.

Bigness is not good in itself—or bad in itself. Smallness is not good in itself—or bad in itself. The measuring stick has nothing to do with size. What counts is performance, service, and ethics. That is true of stores, factories, farms, and all enterprise.

More Than One Barrel

Any sound program for cutting the cost of government, getting government out of commercial business, and reducing taxes, must have more than one barrel.

It must be aimed at state and local governments, as well as the national government.

The Leader, of Shawano, Wisconsin points out that many counties have plunged into enterprises which have nothing to do with governing, such as print shops. It adds: "Just as the federal programs of entering the business field work hardships on the taxpaying public, so do the state and county-sponsored enterprises. . . ."

Waste and needless spending of the grass roots level of government are just as bad as at the top.

Ike And Ike; They Think Alike

The brother act now operating in the White House began a long time ago, but only in the last year or so has the country become aware of the close advisory connection between President Eisenhower and his brother Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower president of Pennsylvania State University.

Some of Ike's long time military associates have seen the association develop and they say privately that the help the oldest brother has received from his youngest brother has been so important that it cannot be properly estimated.

Since it has no precedent in presidential history, the full story is worth relating. It tells how a young, astute bureaucrat, highly regarded by both Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, has been able to promote the interests of his big brother, who at one time was also popular with the two presidents.

The reason that Milton Eisenhower's biography in "Who's Who occupies two and a half times as much space as brother Dwight's, the younger Ike's friends say, is that he has held two and half times as many important jobs.

His 16 years in the Department of Agriculture gave him the background for repeated advice to his brother on agricultural legislation, capped by his recent successful persuasion to veto the farm bill. It is of record that when the President had finished his last conference — with a group which plead with him for an hour to sign the bill — he was overheard to say, "I'm going to call Milton and talk to him again".

It is perhaps fortunate for Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson that he and Milton see eye to eye on practically all phases of the farm program built up by this administration. Ike's frequent expressions of praise for Benson are sincere, but they stem from Milton's opinions, for most of what the President has learned about agricultural economics since he came to the White House, has come from his brother, rather than Ezra.

Politicians who have marvelled at the President's quick assimilation of the basic facts of American politics, which has been unobtrusively demonstrated in most of his political decisions, is largely credited to Milton Eisenhower, by those who know. And for those who don't know, it can be accurately said that the younger brother is one of the most important men in the U.S. today.

He is former city editor of small town paper in Abilene, Kansas, his birthplace, which provided experience in judging public opinion at the grass roots. He has been an advisor to two Secretaries of Agriculture, Dr. William Jardine (under Hoover) and Henry A. Wallace (under Roosevelt). For four years (1938-42) he was coordinator for federal land use, which prepared him to draft the administration's present soil bank program, now being fought out in Congress.

Some high ranking officers are convinced that he had real influence in making his brother supreme commander for the invasion of Europe, his stepping stone to the Presidency. At the time the choice was made, Milton Eisenhower was in frequent conference with Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson. His job was director of the War Relocation Authority which moved Japanese-Americans from the west coast to inland concentration centers for the duration of World War II. General George C. Marshall, then chief of staff, was at least a tentative choice to command the attacking forces in Europe. But Ike got the assignment, after many newspapers had flatly predicted, on good authority, that Marshall would be named.

The switch came at the last minute, and left Marshall a badly disappointed man. Some say that is the reason that Generl Marshall, of all top wartime commanders, has refused to write his memoirs, and has said he never will.

Milton ran the Office of War Information with Elmer Davis, where his task was to eliminate overlapping functions and responsibilities. It would be incorrect to say that he plugged for his brother there, but in his contacts with leading public figures he certainly did no harm to the man who had completed the conquest of North Africa.

While Ike had used brother Milton as his personal emissary on numerous diplomatic and other missions, it cannot be overlooked that some of his most important assignments were under the Democrats, including an important part in reorganizing the Department of Agriculture in 1945, and membership in 1945-46, on the three-man fact finding board which made the recommendations settling the wage dispute between General Motors and United Auto Workers.

In 1946, he became permanent chairman of UNESCO, the educational and cultural branch of United Nations, which was denounced last year by the American Legion at its Miami convention.

U. S. Troops Can't Hold Middle East

Americans, unschooled in weapons and tactics, are too often inclined to sit back and say, "Those fellows in Washington must know what they're doing."

And they don't always.

In the 1940's they sent American sons into North Africa armed with M-1 rifles to fight Tiger Tanks!

It was stupid and wrong and yet, when they'd patted the mothers on their backs and hung a gold star on their breasts, they turned right around and did it again . . . in Korea.

The Migs flew rings around our best.

Again we made up the deficit with manpower, the one commodity which we can least afford.

We kept our big bomb in a cave in New Mexico while we fought the limitless hordes of Asia one bloody bayonet at a time.

Of course we didn't win.

In the Middle East.

Our Congress is being pressured to authorize five million callable reserves . . .

Though all five million of those men could not prevent a Red bombing of our heartland. Put every American in an infantry suit and you could not stop a submarine - launched guided missile attack which could sterilize everything including the plant life in 48 states.

These hideous possibilities can be prevented only with our Air Power and our Fleet. Only the threat of retaliation - in - kind keeps the Big Red Bear at home where he belongs.

RESTLESS NIGHTS

Walter Winchell

Lights Over Broadway

The colyumist swings through a revolving door and emerges in the city's shimmering hours, when the light is slowly turned to gold. Dusk, with intense delight, ends its glowing fellowship. In the silken twilight, park breezes along the 59th Street border chant their boisterous devotion. And the newborn grass joyously quivers. . .

The mountainous horizon of spires overlooking the Grand Army Plaza encompasses an impressive array of turquoise roofs, reflecting the flashing banners of a fading sun. In the bronze shadows, the skyline has an imperial splendor. . . Rising into the homes of eagles, soaring buildings yield their naked beauty: Slim, strong and serene.

Glittering like flaming swords, Rockefeller Plaza's towers hover into view. Everything is touched or drenched with the fading light. A study of shimmer and vibrations in twilight's delicate haze . . . Stark and jagged, the skyscrapers are thrust toward the heavens. Tan stone walls and light - blue window shades sketch pretty pictures. Amid buildings staggered to provide proper light and air are patches of sound and fragments of color . . . Lofty structures grope the sky, a forty - five foot bronze Atlas is a sullen guardian, entrances are four stories high and basements are three miles long. Here the Collective Mind and Power of Man and Machine performed an industrial miracle. And here, the most enchanting sight is a child in blazing red sweater and cap gliding gracefully across the ice rink.

Heading South, the grand perspective of Fifth Avenue comes into the colyumist's view. A vast panorama of immaculate glass reflections, granite arches and bursts of ornamental designs. See it as a combination of stone and sky and it is a tapestry — include the buses, cars and mobs and it is a cartoon . . .Here is the metropolitan poetry of beauty and confusion, the trivial and luxurious. . .The descending sun, a flaming orange globe, peers over the lanky shoulders of buildings. Its solar fire ignites shop windows. The light leaps and gleams, a bright wink of eternity. And the people hurry, hurry, hurry. There destination is Everywhere And Nowhere.

From all the latitudes and longitudes, from distant places and dark mines have come the cargoes. Over mountain trails and across oceans — gems, silk, furs, gold and silver have been transported to the shop windows. Stroll along and observe sparkle and colors imaginatively displayed . . . The wonders of the avenue overflow and surge into side streets. The flock of private art galleries on East 57th. The Museum of Modern Art on West 53rd and its private garden. The Stork on East 53rd . . . Here is Luxury Street, shiny and bright, shrill and enervating, artful and crass. Clearly, this is the world's most fabulous bazaar.

From the bondage of gas fumes, General Sherman rises in the luminous air. Proudly defiant, the Plaza's gift equestrian statue captures glory in its stride. . .The glistening excitement of the sculpture is in sharp contrast with the shabby indifference of hansom cab horses. The melancholy angularity of the living animals, ironically, lacks the vitality of the petal-curved monument. . .In the Plaza forecourt, the Pulitzer Memorial — a fountain of abundance — stands impressively erect. Shallow pools, tiers of basins — and the pinnacle: A beautifully carved young lady extending a basket of fruit. . . Amid stony peaks battling the elements and humans caught in the city's frenzy, this island of artistry has an enduring charm.

The colyumist stands at 50th and 5th and watches the light being drained from the sky. Shadow onto shadow builds the pyramid of night . . . In the early evening, St. Patrick's Gothic grandeur writes its own stone poetry. The aerial grace of its pinnacles, the splendor of massive bronze entrance doors, the huge rose window, carved ornaments and molded profiles inspire dream images. From a distance, the delicate stained - glass windows become patterns of red, blue, yellow, green and purple . . . Many centuries of faith went into the building of the cathedral. Day after day, the whispers of winds in the listening sky record their immortal conversations among the twin spires — resembling hands in prayer.

And always — there is the procession of faces. Angular, globular, old and young, smiling and grim. A parade of countless biographies, a mirror of pain and caresses. Agony printed in wrinkles or joy engraved in the twinkle of an eye. The confusion of fleshy outlines in constant movement . . . From every face emerges an extraordinary dramatic story for those who can translate it. In the passing scene are all the emotions. Interlaced are the lights and shadows of happiness and despair. The human story in a Big City night, an endless tale created with every gesture and every glance. The face of alcoholic destruction or the twinkle of beauty, sensual and exquisite. Faces, faces, faces, faces.

Broadway hears that it may take years before the Shuberts unload their theaters, despite the 2-year deadline ordered by Washington. They can request extension after extension and hold off for ages. Until they make financial deals they like. . . . The papers mention Chas. Siragusa a lot. He is the U. S. Narcotics Chief in Italy who makes Lucky Luciano, Joe Adonis and other underworld people very unhappy. Mr. Siragusa started his career as accountant for a Broadway press-agent. . . . "The Court-Martial of Billy Mitchell" has a new title in Britain. It is "One Man Mutiny." . . . Average radio audience in the U. S. according to surveyors is as follows: 16 million per minute in mornings. 15 million in the afternoons. 17 million between 8 and 9 p.m. . . . Andy Russell's first CinemaScope film in Mexico is reported a hit. Chief backer is ex-Ambassador O'Dwyer. . . . Capsule criticism of a special material writer for teevee headliners, many of whom have lost their sponsors: "He makes unknowns out of stars." . . . Critic Ashton Stevens' quotable line: "The real worth of any critic is his reader-following. The only reason a newspaper gives a column to a dull play is with the hope that the critic will not make it a dull column."

Marilyn Monroe, who gives her best acting performances for newsphotogs, has become a tycoon. Spelled with a double-O, of course. Bending gracefully to induce gasps from assembled journalists, Marilyn blinked her baby-blues and announced plans for multi-million dollar productions. MM has been the subject of a remarkable transformation. She is now Miss Bigbiz. Several years ago, when she first inked a movie contract, she carried her entire week's salary ($750) around with her in cash and paid bills out of pocket. She was afraid to put it in a bank.

Congressional Quarterly

Northern Nationalists Accept Interposition

WASHINGTON — Interposition, a doctrine permitting states to use their authority to block enforcement of federal law, now is part of the creed of some northern nationalists.

The transaction was signaled when Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D Va.) a leader of the Senate's segregationist bloc, put into the Congressional Record a radio speech by Clarence E. Manion, spokesman of For America, a group espousing nationalist policies.

In the speech Manion endorsed interposition, the main legal weapon in the South's battle against the Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation in the public schools. Manion said interposition is "the current answer" to the "federal invasion of the long-standing constitutional prerogatives" of the states.

It is Manion's political role that gives his speech significance. The former dean of the University of Notre Dame law school is an ex-New Dealer who broke with the Democrats to support the late Sen. Robert A. Taft's bid for the Republican nomination in 1952. President Eisenhower named Manion to head his Commission on Intergovernmental Relationships in 1953, but dismissed him six months later after Manion had made a number of speeches endorsing the Bricker Amendment, opposed by the President.

Now Manion is co-chairman of For America. His interposition speech was not made under the auspices of that group but, according to its national director, Brig. Gen. Bonner Fellers (ret.), it stated "precisely what we stand for."

For America lately has struck up an informal political alliance with the Federation for Constitutional Government, an association of white citizens councils in 11 southern states. Members of the two groups have agreed on a political strategy for 1956, aimed at throwing the Presidential election into the House of Representatives. That strategy was outlined in the first article of this series.

The two groups always have had a broad area of agreement. Both describe themselves as Anti-Communist and anti-socialist. They are for free enterprise, national sovereignty and states rights. But the southern group is concerned primarily with the segregation issue, and until Manion's speech, For America had not taken a stand on that matter.

Now Manion has aligned his organization directly with the southern federation in its fights against the Supreme Court. In the words of one southerner, "Manion's talk has been a great boost to our cooperation."

The former law professor endorsed interposition without coming out flatly for segregation. He called interposition the theory that "the Supreme Court has no constitutional authority to adjudicate disputes between a sovereign state and the federal government. The word doesn't mean much to the average voter now, but in the coming months interposition may easily make the difference between the success or failure of somebody's ambition to be President of the United States."

Manion asked his listeners to consider how they would feel if the Supreme Court ruled that Nevada could not permit legalized gambling. "One may," he noted, "stanchly defend the constitutional right of the state to permit gambling within its borders, even though he firmly believes that gambling is morally wrong.

"Whether it is gambling in Nevada, segregation in South Carolina, education in California, or the right to work in Kansas, the basic challenge to American liberty is the continuous, contemptuous disregard of the 10th Amendment by the Congress, the Executive and the Supreme Court."

On April 16, Rep. Noah M. Mason (R-Ill.), who had served with Manion on the President's commission and resigned in protest to the latter's firing, delivered another attack on the Supreme Court's segregation decision. Mason said the Supreme Court has become "a court of whims and caprices, with its decisions made on the basis of political, social or ideological theories, not based upon the provsions of the Constitution and the law."

Editor, Morning World:

Thank you very much for your cooperation with our organization during our state convention in Monroe last week.

I enjoyed my meeting with Mrs. Holladay. She was very helpful in all ways.

The coverage and pictures you allowed us in your newspaper was grand. We appreciate it.

Speaking for all P.-T. A.'ers I want to thank you and your city for making our convention a success.

MRS. M. S. WALLACE,
Publicity Chairman.

Our Lot Today

LET us appreciate the lot . . . That is our own today . . . And think not of tomorrow with . . . Dejection or dismay . . . We may be poor in circumstance . . . As worldly wealth is told . . . Yet we may have much better things . . . To cherish and to hold . . . For there are virtues in this life . . . Of more enduring worth . . . Than all the shining glory and . . . The treasures on this earth . . . And there are joys that fill the hearts . . . Of those in humble state . . . Beyond the grasp of many who . . . Are looked upon as great . . . God loves all human beings but . . . Especially the poor . . . And He rewards them richly for . . . The trials they endure.

Cotton Futures Firm For Week

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—The cotton futures market showed a firm undertone this week. Most deliveries finished out the period in higher ground.

Active futures contracts trade on the New York Cotton Exchange closed at prices which ranged from $2.65 a bale higher to 15 cents lower than at the end of the week before. Distant October was the only month to finish in lower territory.

Biggest net gain was scored by nearby July which attracted traders because of its discount under May.

Otherwise the chief supporting factors were provided by short covering and some buying attributed to unfavorable weather in parts of the cotton belt. Selling was confined for the most part to hedging and scattered liquidation.

Traders cocked an ear at Washington where the U.S. Department of Agriculture announced a mid-April parity price of 35.22 cents a pound on middling ⅞-inch upland cotton. That's 25 points higher than the mid-March parity of 34.97 against which the 1956 loan rate of 28.85 cents is calculated.

Trade sources pointed out that the final loan rate will be based on parity as of mid-July. If the mid-July parity is lower than mid-March, the previously announced loan rate of 28.85 cents will prevail. However, if the mid-July parity is higher than mid-March, a corresponding upward adjustment would be made in the loan rate, it was noted.

Youth Arrested For Being AWOL

COLUMBUS, Miss., April 28 (AP)—A 20-year-old Indianapolis youth, given a two-year suspended sentence after his attempted robbery victim asked for leniency, was arrested today on a charge of being absent without leave from Fort Knox, Ky.

Lowndes County sheriff Robert Jernigan said Orville Daugherity and William Biers, 18, of Indianapolis, pleaded guilty last week to attempted robbery of Mrs. J. E. Coltharp, 78.

Jernigan said Daugherity was turned over to Alabama Army Military Police.

Week In Finance

Consumer Interest Rate Climbs As Result Of New Action By Government

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—The government's latest anti-inflation moves began to make themselves felt this week at the consumer level.

Major auto finance companies and some department stores announced they were boosting their interest rates. That means you're likely to be paying higher interest charges when you buy a car on the instalment plan, or when you buy merchandise at a department store under a "revolving credit" monthly payment system.

This goes back to the higher discount rate established by the Federal Reserve two weeks ago—a move which made it costlier for commercial banks to borrow money. The commercial banks passed the increase on to their borrowers, including the auto finance companies and department stores. Now it's being passed on to consumer. The object is to keep the boom from going overboard, and to hold a tight rein on prices.

Retail trade eased off a bit this week. Manufacturers of automobiles and tractors scheduled new production cuts. Elsewhere on the business scene there was ample evidence that the boom packed plenty of power.

Several of industry's giants announced sales and earnings for the first three months this year, and for many the results were never better.

United States Steel Corp., biggest of the nation's steelmakers, reported a record-smashing first quarter profit of 104 million dollars, equal to $1.83 a share. That compares with $1.25 a share in the first quarter last year.

Bethlehem Steel Corp., the No. 2 steel producer, racked up highs in earnings, billings, shipments and production in the first three months and raised the June dividend to $2.00 from $1.50 a year ago.

Equally impressive was the list of other blue chip corporations reporting record first quarter results —Socony Mobil Oil Co., Gulf Oil Corp., American Can Co., National Gypsum Co., The Texas Co., and others. Phillips Petroleum Co., shooting for a billion dollars in sales this year, proposed a two-for-one split of the stock. A higher dividend was voted by directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Good news about first quarter earnings and second quarter dividends sparked a modest rally on the stock market. The market suffered a brief sinking spell but at week's end the Associated Press 60-stock average stood at $190.20, for a net gain of $1.50.

Corporate Profit Reports Push Up Stock Market

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)— A flood of fine corporate profits reports turned the stock market ahead this week.

One large corporation after another reported record high first quarter earnings, and many took highly favorable dividend action. Some didn't do so well, but they were overlooked in the welter of favorable reports.

Looking into the future, many companies saw only a continuation of their present prosperous situation, and they geared their spending on expansion to that condition.

The Associated Press average advanced $1.50 this week to $190.20. The record is $191.50 reached April 6.

The marketwas mixed Monday with a higher tendency. Tuesday found selling general. That day word came from the White House that tax cuts this year weren't likely. Wednesday the market steadied itself.

Gaitskell Defends British Laborites

LONDON, April 28 (AP)— Labor Party Leader Hugh Gaitskell today declared "the democratic socialism for which we stand is no half-way house between capitalism and the totalitarian tyranny of the Communist state."

The 50-year-old Gaitskell, who would be in line to become British Prime Minister in the event of a Labor party election victory, asserted in a May Day message:

"Democratic Socialists reject both the waste and injustice of the capitalist economy and the totalitarian tyranny of the Communist state."

Martin Outlines 11-Point Bill On Election Changes

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — An 11 point legislative program dealing with changes in state election laws was revealed today here by Secretary of State Wade O. Martin Jr.

Martin told the Louisiana Clerks of Court Assn. that he will sponsor the program in the Legislature in May. He said the bills were proposed due to inconsistancies in this year's two primaries and the general election.

The program includes the followin changes:

1. Qualifying dates for write-in candidates from 10 days before a general election to correspond to the date of the second primary.

2. Change the date of the election for municipalities to correspond to congressional election.

3. If a candidate fails to qualify with either party's central committee for an elective post prior to qualifying deadline, the central committee would be called upon to certify a candidate within 10 days after the closing of nomination.

4. Eliminate one of the polls lists now being kept by voting commissioners.

6. Changes the filing of nomination papers for the Orleans Parish School Board to the eighth Tuesday before the general election.

7. Certification of candidates names by the central committee would be changed from 24 hours from the closing of qualifying to five days after closing.

8. Allow registration books to be returned with voting machines to the secretary of state.

9. Machines would be arranged so that single votes could be cast without spoiling the ballot.

10. All political committees have an odd number of members.

11. Would effect the color of envelopes which carry military absentee ballots.

militarily in case the Israelis resume work on the Jordan water diversion project.

After a weekend of talks here, Hammarskjold expected to visit Israel for final conferences there. He then planned to fly to Rome. In that relatively neutral setting he will prepare his final report to the Security Council.

This schedule indicated he would not be back at U. N. headquarters by the May 4 deadline for his report, which he plans to present personally. It is likely that on the target date he will merely send an interim report stating that he is preparing an accounting on his mission.

Daylight

daylight savings time will take effect at 2 a.m. local times Sunday in all of nine states and the District of Columbia. Fast time also will be observed in parts of 15 other states and in most major cities.

Estimates are that 69,799,806 persons will live under DST during the summer and that 216,381,398 watches and clocks will have to be turned ahead. The latter figure is based on surveys which show that the average person owns 3.1 watches and clocks.

Although widely used, daylight time is highly controversial in many areas and has been referred to as "horological lunacy" by one indignant broadcaster.

Radio and television networks, who must juggle programs on a coast-to-coast basis, regard DST as something of a nightmare. It has been estimated that the extension of DST from the last Sunday in September to the end of October last year cost the TV networks $1.5 million.

The headache to broadcasters is such that a special Senate subcommittee is investigating the problem.

No. 5 passed 149,652 to 43,377 and allows the city of Monroe to issue bonds for school purposes within the same limits as parish wide school districts.

In other state races where candidates ran without opposition Martin led the ticket with 165,849 votes.

Other results:

Attorney General, Jack Gremillion, 165,270

Auditor, William J. Dodd, 165,631

Treasurer, A. P. Tugwell, 165,502

Superintendent of Public Education, Shelby Jackson, 165,465

Register of State Lands, Lucille May Grace, 165,178

Commissioner of Agriculture Sidney McCrory, 162,336

Final figures were not available in the race for lieutenant governor. But Lether Frazar, Democrat, defeated Harry Haill, Republican, by more than 100,000 votes.

Louisiana Democratic Leaders Call Session Of State Central Committee

BATON ROUGE, April 28 (AP) — Louisiana Democratic leaders, guided by views of Gov. Earl K. Long, meet May 8 and probably will talk about presidential politics.

The call went out today for a session of the 100-man Democratic State Central Committee.

Actually, the official purpose of the meeting in the House of Representatives at 1 p.m. is to set up Senate and congressional election machinery for the July 31 and Sept. 4 party primaries.

Advance indications from committee members, however, are that some speechmaking about the Democratic presidential hopefuls can be expected.

No decision is likely. The committee, with Long in the saddle, already has named a 24-vote delegation of 80 people. And it is uninstructed. Long is the head of the delegation.

Long, who returns to the mansion a third time May 15, remained in the Adlai Stevenson camp in 1952 when newly elected Gov. Robert Kennon bolted to support President Eisenhower.

And the next chief executive repeatedly has talked about how he prefers Stevenson, with Sen. Kefauver a good choice for the second spot on the ticket. He also has expressed fondness for Illinois Sen. Paul Douglas and Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

But Long is still watching the field without committing himself.

The dominant political figure in Louisiana wants to know how candidates view the golden controversy over the oil-wealthy tidelands, since Louisiana has a dispute with the federal government over its offshore boundary.

Central committee chairman Rufus D. Hayes, a Long leader, called for harmony at the national party convention next August in Chicago.

New state Democratic chiefs believe in operating as Democrats and not wandering into splinter groups.

"I thoroughly believe Louisiana Democrats will resist any third party move," Hayes insisted. In 1948, Louisiana was one of five southern states to back a States Rights presidential slate.

Hayes said there has been a quick and excellent response from delegates and alternates named, "and we will have a good attendance at Chicago.

He expects scores of other Louisianians to go along as spectators.

The Longs operate a close-knit political clan and the next governor's views are certain to prevail when national contention time approaches.

Long gained a step toward new political influence when his colleague, National Democratic Committeeman Camille Gravel, was named last week to represent Louisina and the South on the 11-man Democratic National Committee's executive group.

Gravel contends Stevenson is more acceptable to the Southland than any other candidate with a chance of winning the nomination and election.

Long's nephew, U. S. Sen. Russell Long, also a Stevenson man four years ago, is up for re-election July 21. No opponent has been mentioned.

All eight Louisiana representatives, including Long's brother, U. S. Rep. George Long, will have their offices at stake July 31. So far, only Reps. Edward Hebert, T. A. Thompson, Otto Passman and George Long have encountered any talk of opposition.

The central committee session offers the first opportunity for all congressional hopefuls to qualify. The deadline is May 18.

The way the election machinery will work, individual committees—formed from central committee members—will call for primary elections and candidates to qualify.

And other groups, all within the central committee, under Hayes' direction, will set up the elections for:

1. The second Supreme Court district, since Associate Justice Joe B. Hamiter's term expires next December.

2. The second Public Service Commission district, since chairman Wade O. Martin Sr.'s term also is expiring.

3. The first and eighth district memberships on the state board of education, because the terms of members Joseph J. Davies Jr., Arabi, in the first, and A. A. Fredericks, Natchitoches, in the eighth, will be expiring.

State laws spell out all these steps.

to of the nation. Congress made the discovery and in passing the bill a House leader said: "It will be of great spiritual value to our country to have a clearly designated national motto of inspirational quality in plain English!"

We of Monroe have a prayer services that is available by phone every hour in the day and night. But we find that we are not the originators of the idea. Churchgoers in Ayr, Scotland have for a long time been using a prayer-by-phone system to aid in case of sickness or other emergency.

The pastor, the Rev. William Whalley, states that every church should have a similar system for it has proved wonderful when used by them.

"We do not claim to have saved lives ourselves, God saves the sick, but we merely pray for them," he explained.

The Rev. Jaroy Weber, regarded as one of the outstanding pulpit orators of the Twin Cities and for all North Louisiana, will now be called on to decide whether to remain as pastor of the West Monroe First Baptist church, which he has directed and led to where it is now the largest in membership of any Baptist church in its area.

The church that is anxious to secure the services and skilled leadership of the Reverend Weber is the First Baptist church in McAllen, Tex.

Reverend Weber will not announce his decision until this morning when he appears before his congregation for the Sunday service at 11 o'clock.

His local membership will most surely exert all possible effort to maintain him here for many more years.

A member of the Tusquahoma chapter of the D.A.R., Mrs. J. A. Rainbolt, as chairman of a special committee is still seeking information from aged tombstones in cemeteries west of the river and in Ouachita parish.

Shreveports something that is unexplained and excited her curiousity. She gives the information to the public not for any sensational purpose and is not divulging the name of the man concerned. What she found in nearby separate graves was one that contained the man's nose, while the other contained the man's hand and body.

D.A.R. members have as objectives the preservation of history as it may be contained on aged tombstones. All data that is thus obtained will be sent on to Baton Rouge to be preserved in archives at the state capitol.

Quite a high honor is coming, we hear, to O.N. Reynolds who is slated to become president of the Tensas Basin Levee board.

We personally know Mr. Reynolds and his family well and we are sure that any honor like the one named will be such as to find in him a man who will be able to perform a first class service while connected with the board.

The Tensas Basin Levee board is formed for the benefit of eight parishes: Caldwell, Morehouse, Richland, Franklin, West Carroll, Catahoula, Lasalle, and part of Ouachita parish. Each parish has one director, named by the governor and serving concurrently with him.

Twins Asphyxiated

WACO, Tex., April 28—UP—Two 11-month-old twin boys were found dead in their baby-size beds Saturday afternoon in the homes of their parents, S.Sgt. and Mrs. John M. Simonson.

Authorities said the gas stove in the boys' room was burning full blast, but the cause of death was not immediately ascertained. Autopsies were ordered.

The boys — Roland and Richard —had apparently been dead several hours when found, authorities said. They were found by their mother who had been ironing in another room.

Webb was the second mayor-president of the city-parish form of government which went into effect in 1949. He took office Jan. 1, 1953 and had announced plans to run again in the July 31 election.

Webb attended Louisiana State University and Fenn College in Cleveland, Ohio. He served three years in World War II.

He was the father of four children.

Owens, 40, a graduate of LSU helped draft the new constitution for Alaska. He also was research director for a project to develop a new constitution for the state of Florida.

He was director of student life at LSU until 1951. While professor of government, he was given leave of absence to serve as research director of the Public Affairs Research Council in 1952. He returned to LSU in 1953.

Pittman, owner of a night club near Baton Rouge, was an experienced pilot. He headed a "flying posse" of Sheriff Bryan Clemmons of East Baton Rouge Parish. He often flew newspaper sports reporters to distant sporting events.

Pittman, who was a football star at LSU and a Navy veteran, was the father of two boys and one girl.

Frank McConnell, president protem of the city-council at Baton Rouge, automatically became head of the parish government with Webb's death.

Ellender Raps Ike's Proposals On Corn Supports

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La) said tonight that if President Eisenhower wants a soil bank bill from the Democratic-controlled Congress he must remove corn from "highly preferential treatment."

Ellender, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, and other cotton area legislators are irate at the new price supports announced for corn produced outside of acreage limitations.

Ellender, in a recorded radio speech (WWL- New Orleans), aimed his fire at administration moves to offer commercial corn growers a support of $1.25 a bushel even if they refused to comply with planting limits. The full rate for compliance is $1.50.

In the past, farmers in the regular corn belt had to observe planting limits to get supports. Comparatively few of them did. Those outside the designated corn area got a support at ¾ the commercial rate but faced no allotments education field."

In a statement issued several weeks ago, president Trop Middleton said the main reasons Negroes had been admitted to Louisiana State University was a lack of graduate facilities for Negroes.

Negroes have attended the LSU graduate school since 1950, mostly in the college of education.

However, board members indicated there would be no announcement on the subject until a special session May 17.

At the May 17 meeting, the board also will consider a revised teacher-pupil ratio and equalization formula to be set up by a special committee of school officials now working on it.

The equalization formula provides aid for parishes whose per educable grant, distributed on the basis of school age children, is not enough to meet costs.

Largest item in the proposed budget for state schools was the $67,297,792 teachers and bus operators salary fund. Some $33,918,185 of the total represented an increase over the present school year.

The increase included a new salary scale, providing a hefty pay hike for all teachers, and some 2,300 new teachers at the new pay level.

Education officials explained that under the teacher-pupil ratio suggested by the special committee these teachers would be included in the salary equalization fund. They said about 1,200 of the teachers already were hired and now paid for by parish funds. The others would be needed because of growing enrollments, they said.

But the board balked at recommending the budget on the basis of a formula it hadn't adopted yet, and set May 17 to make formal recommendations to the Legislature.

Board member George Madison of Bastrop, blinking at the 48 million extra required by the budget estimate, added:

"I don't want to be on record at this time as endorsing that amount of money."

In consideration of the capital outlay request, member A. A. Fredericks of Natchitoches reminded that Gov. Robert Kennon had vetoed million dollar capital outlay appropriations for Northwestern State and Southeastern Louisiana College.

He suggested that the budget director be urged to remind the Legislature of Kennon's action last year when he passed on the requests. The board agreed.

The capital outlay requests, planned to be filled over several years, were distributed as follows:

Louisiana Tech $3,950,000.

McNeese State College $6,950,000.

Northeast Louisiana State College $6,950,000.

Northwestern State College $9,975,000.

Southeastern Louisiana College $4,975,000.

Southwestern Louisiana Institute $5,500,000.

Southern University $6,766,000.

Grambling College $5,454,200.

School for the Blind $188,000.

School for the Deaf $194,544.

School for Spastic Children $858,888.

School for Deaf Negroes $1,948,095.

In other action, the board:

1. Approved a $2,325,000 revenue bond issue for Louisiana Tech for construction of two dormitories, an addition to dining hall facilities and a student center.

2. Approved a $1,500,000 revenue bond issue for Southeastern Louisiana College to build three dormitories and married students housing.

3. Transferred $90,000 in capital outlay funds for Southern University to convert temporary barracks into a permanent dormitory for 90 men.

West Monroyan Gets Top State Civitan Position

P. L. (Buddy) Foreman, governor of the West Monroe Civitan Club was elected Saturday to be the next governor of the Louisiana district of Civitans International.

Foreman was chosen by delegates to the annual state wide convention, held Friuday and Saturday in Monroe.

Other officers elected to begin serving at the beginning of the organization's new year on July 1, were: C. D. Lee, secretary-treasurer; J. E. Peters, of Monroe, lieutenant governor; Doug Tilman, of Shreveport, lieutenant governor; Billy McCowen, of Minden, lieutenant governor; E. C. (Gene) Swan, of New Orleans, lieutenant governor; and Dan Wise, of Lake Charles, lieutenant governor.

R. Clarence Williams, of Anniston, Alabama, president of Civitans International, installed the new officers and presented them to the convention.

Williams, in an after-banquet address, stressed the importance of personal integrity in association with other and in government.

He emphasized the work of Civitans in the field of service work, saying, "I consider service the primary objective of Civitans. Civitans have done a world of good in service the past year."

Members and wives of the Louisiana Civitan Club gathered in the Virginia Hotel Saturday morning and Lea Thompson, president of the Monroe Club and P. L. Foreman, president of the West Monroe Club, expressed their gratification in having an international president, in attendance at the convention.

"The Civitan Club strives to live up to its motto 'Builders of Good Citizenship,'" Mr. Williams said.

He explained that the organization carries on a program of work with young people; sponsors boy and girl scouts and an organization known as the Junior Civitans composed of boys and girls on the high school level. Their aim is to instill and inculcate principles of the democratic way of life and prepare for better citizenship. The Civitans also sponsor an international essay contest for high school students to write on some phase of citizenship and scholarships are awarded to the winner.

Skelly Oil Company Announces Discovery of A New Gasoline Formula

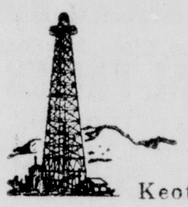

Keotane*

That Our Engineers Estimate Makes New Skelly Supreme Gasoline Give You

6.1¢ Extra Value Per Gallon

At No Extra Cost Per Gallon

6.1¢ makes other premium gasoline expensive to use;
6.1¢ makes any regular gasoline expensive to use;
6.1¢ makes any "cut-rate" gasoline expensive to use:

Keotane burns like gasoline. Yet no other gasoline has anything like it.

In Skelly Supreme Gasoline, its powerful action will remove sticky gum from combustion areas and carburetors.

Yet it is so gentle to metal that you could soak a piston in it for years without a trace of damage. That is Keotane, a type of gum-removing solvent that petroleum engineers have sought for years.

Gum Is Like A Glue

Gum is the "glue" that holds carbon and lead deposits in the combustion chambers. As carbon and lead build up, horsepower, pep, and gasoline economy go down.

Others have attempted to neutralize carbon and lead deposits, but Skelly actually reduces them with Keotane by going directly after the gum.

Over 10 Years of Research And Testing Behind Keotane

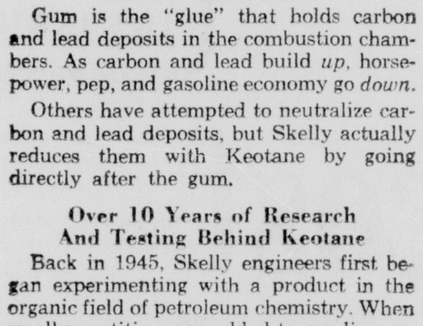

Back in 1945, Skelly engineers first began experimenting with a product in the organic field of petroleum chemistry. When small quantities were added to gasoline, results were startling. That's when our research engineers decided to pursue all possible aspects of this new gasoline formulation.

Now, after years of further research and testing, Skelly announces the addition of Keotane to Skelly Supreme Gasoline.

The action of Keotane is so different from any previously known gasoline formulation that Skelly has filed patent application for its use.

Keotane Tested 5 Ways:

1. Road tests in "matched" fleets of new cars by Southwest Research Institute. Used cars were also tested.

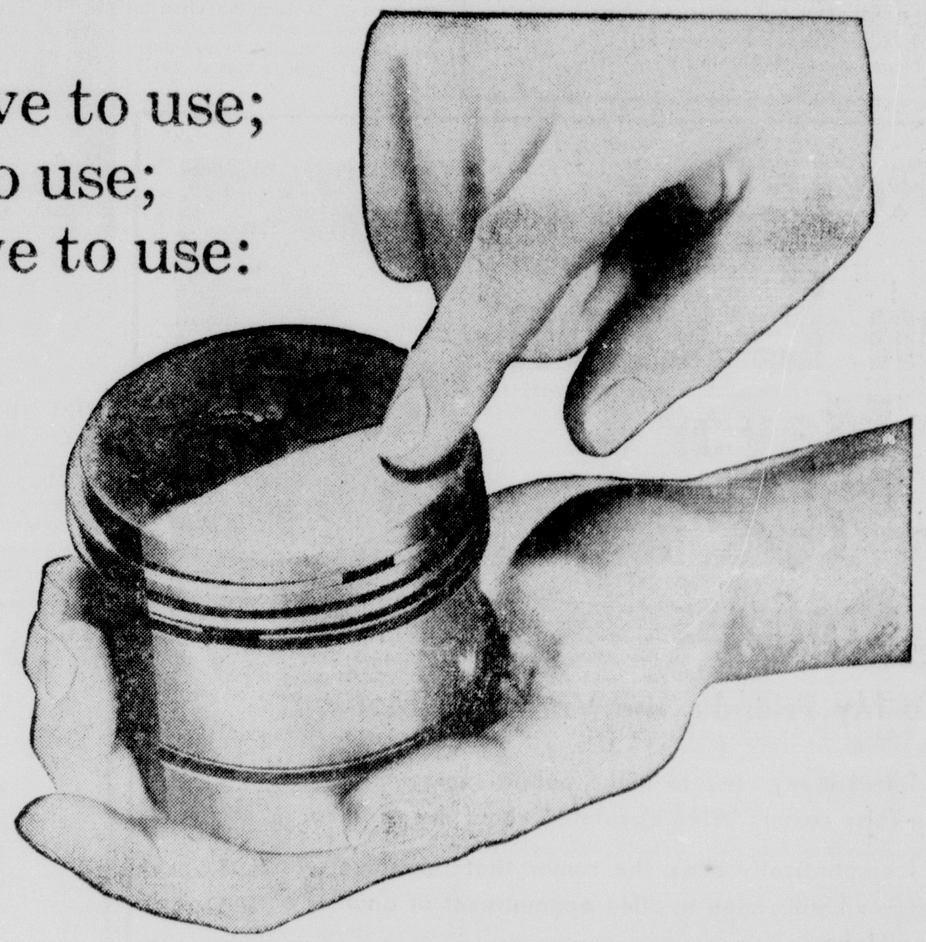

Keotane is injected into Skelly Supreme Gasoline, with special equipment like this, at strategically located distributing points. That's why Skelly Supreme is different from any other gasoline.

Estimated Extra Value Per Gallon To You, of Skelly Supreme Gasoline With Keotane:

(Based on average current premium gasoline prices in the Midwest.)

12.7% average gain in mileage	3.8c
3 octane points extra performance effect	1.0c
14.6% more horsepower output (h.p. saved or added)	.8c
Less gum and cleaner carburetors, faster starts with fewer sputters, longer life for batteries	.5c
Estimated extra value per gallon to you	6.1c

The extra values shown above are conservative estimates by our engineers. These extra values are not figured against inferior premium gasolines or regular grade gasolines, but against Skelly Supreme Gasoline, the best top-octane premium gasoline previously made. And remember, you get these extra values at no extra cost per gallon.

Full strength, Keotane dissolves glue-like gum quickly, yet won't harm metal. Injected into Skelly Supreme Gasoline, Keotane removes gum-stuck carbon and lead as you drive. Some cars may reach their peak improvement with Keotane in 1,000 miles. Others may take 3,000. A few, perhaps, longer. But once you reach peak results, you will hold at that level as long as you continue to use Skelly Supreme Gasoline with Keotane.

2. Chassis dynamometer tests of engines under load by Southwest Research Institute.

3. Dynamometer tests in Skelly's own modern Research Laboratory.

4. Hundreds of laboratory engine tests.

5. Hundreds of thousands of miles of road tests by Skelly's own scientists.

Final dynamometer tests compared engines run on Skelly Supreme with Keotane against engines run on Skelly Supreme without Keotane. Engines that had used Keotane averaged:

12.7% gain in mileage.
14.6% more hp. output.

1. More mileage: If you get just the average increase of 12.7%, that's about one extra mile of driving in every 8. Isn't this, alone, reason enough to switch to Skelly Supreme Gasoline with Keotane?

2. More octane: Many new cars often start to "ping" after 5,000 to 8,000 miles, because carbon and lead deposits have increased the octane requirement. Test cars using Keotane showed an octane "appetite" 3.1 points lower, on the average, than cars using the same fuel without Keotane.

3. More horsepower: By keeping new engines clean, new car horsepower is saved. By cleaning up older engines, much horsepower can be regained. Test cars which used Keotane averaged 14.6% more horsepower output at all speeds tested.

Not A Negative Anywhere

We quote Southwest Research Institute: "No adverse engine operation was encountered during the test program. No evidence of valve burning or abnormal wear of piston rings occurred from the use of these test fuels and oils. . . . No pre-ignition or after-running was experienced during the test program."

Saves Most In Costly Stop-Go Driving

"Stop-Go" driving builds up not only more carbon, but also more carburetor gum. Carburetor gum causes stalling, sputtering, choking, rough idling, and improper functioning of automatic chokes. By dissolving gum, Keotane helps overcome these problems, too.

(Note: First proof of the effect of Keotane that you may notice will be the slightly faster idling of your engine. That's because Keotane has dissolved gum that collects in carburetor jets. This means that Keotane is cleaning out your entire carburetor. Later, you may want to have your carburetor adjusted to take advantage of its increased efficiency.)

See Your Skellyman Now

Drive into your Skelly station, and ask for your free copy of new illustrated folder packed with important facts that show you why Keotane does for your engine what no other gasoline formulation has ever even claimed to do.

Make your next tankful of gasoline Skelly Supreme with Keotane. It's the premium gasoline that makes all others—regular, "cut-rate," or premium gasolines—expensive to use. Get over 6c extra value per gallon. No extra cost.

Now The Skelly Supreme POWER PAIR IS EVEN MORE POWERFUL!

In all tests, Skelly Supreme Motor Oil was used. Team up Skelly Supreme Motor Oil and Skelly Supreme Gasoline with new Keotane formula. This famous "Power Pair" is guaranteed to give you more power—and more miles—per dollar than any other combination of premium gasoline and motor oil.

Only Skelly Supreme Gasoline Has New Keotane*

ODM Rejects Further Aid For U. S. Pipeline Firms

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — Since the long tank car trains of the war when submarines menaced tankers, pipeline transportation of petroleum has grown rapidly.

The progress of the pipelines was reflected in a report issued this week by the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) with applications for federal help in building more pipeline systems from the Southwest to the East.

The ODM report said in effect that growth of the pipeline network since the war makes unnecessary further government financing for pipeline construction.

Applicants are Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. of Shreveport and American Pipeline Corp. of New York. Texas Eastern proposes to expand greatly its gas pipeline system to provide a large crude oil carrying capacity through conversion. American's proposal is for a 145-million dollar line from Beaumont to New York for refined products.

The report, indicating rejection of the applications, said existing pipelines could deliver, in an emergency, a million barrels of crude oil daily to the east. The report concluded:

"These considerations make it clear that the government is not justified in obligating funds either in the form of direct loans or guarantees of private loans for the development of pipeline capacity above that which is already potentially available."

Defense Mobilizer Arthur Flemming sent copies of the report to the applicants, and other interested parties, giving them until May 10 to offer comments before he acts on the propositions.

The companies still could proceed with their construction plans, regardless of the ODM decision. Texas Eastern sought a government guarantee on a loan of about 100 million dollars. American asked a guarantee on about 35 million dollars worth of loans on their "giant inch" project which would deliver about 500,000 barrels of refined products to the East daily.

ODM experts noted that privately owned pipelines "now constitute one of the country's major transportation systems." Their report said an average of 11,000 miles of oil and gas pipelines has been laid each of the last 10 years with 17,000 miles more scheduled this year.

Brooks Is Named To Head Fathers' March On Palsy

J. Dodd Brooks, manager of the local Social Security office, has accepted the post of chairman of the Fathers' Walk for Cerebral Palsy, May 11, it was announced yesterday by Bob Downing, president of UCPA of Northeast Louisiana.

In assuming the campaign chairmanship, Brooks said he welcomed the opportunity to lend his support to the job of helping the Cerebral Palsied in this area, and he added:

"Though much progress has been made nationally and locally in helping the palsied to lead more nearly normal lives, much remains to be done. We have a splendid school - clinic for cerebral palsied children at Selman Field, but our job has really only started. There are many more afflicted children who need to be brought into our school."

Brooks emphasized that with proper treatment and care, many of the Cerebral Palsied can become productive citizens. He stressed that the palsied children services of the local school - clinic must be continued and enlarged to serve more children.

Brooks stated that a large force of volunteers is being organized to conduct the Fathers' Walk. He invited anyone wishing to volunteer to help to telephone him at 2-3777 or 5-1491.

No Definite Opposition Yet In Sight For Passman

Two persons reported last week to be possible candidates for congress from the Fifth District have definitely denied they will enter the race. Four others mentioned as possible candidates were not sure but were "thinking about running."

Declaring themselves emphatically, Lt. Gov. C. E. (Cap) Barham, of Ruston, and Sheriff Hiram B. Waller, of Winnsboro, said would "definitely not" be candidates for the congressional seat now held by Congressman Otto E. Passman. Barham and Waller were identified with four others, in a report from Baton Rouge last week, as possible candidates.

Barham said he has "always said that's one office (Congress) I will never run for." When his term as Lt. Governor expires he plans to return to his law practice in Ruston.

The Franklin parish sheriff, Waller, said he had "no intention whatever" of running for congress. "I am grateful to the people of Franklin parish who put so much confidence in me as their sheriff—I have no ambition but to make the people a good sheriff," Waller declared.

Those who indicated some interest in entering the race are: Helen Kovac, Bastrop school principal; Mrs. Guy Alford, mayor of Columbia, Ragan D. Madden, of Ruston and A. L. Dickerson, Monroe hardware salesman.

Mrs. Kovac said she had "toyed with the idea" but had made no commitments.

The Columbia mayor, Mrs. Alford, said she "wouldn't want to make any commitments at this time." She has been mayor for four years.

Madden said he was "not an announced candidate but have given some thought to it (entering the race)."

The Monroe man, Dickerson, has indicated interest in the race for several weeks but has not said definitely that he will run.

Meanwhile, in Washington, Congressman Passman said he was "too busy attending to the peoples business to become involved in district politics until I am forced to do so." He added that if he is opposed for re-election he will "conduct a vigorous campaign if necessary."

J. Noland Harvey Dies After Short Illness: Rites Set

J. Noland Harvey, 54, died in a Monroe Hospital after a short illness Saturday morning. He was a heavy equipment dealer.

Funeral services for Harvey will be held at Grace Episcopal Church at 2 p.m. Sunday with Rev. John M. Allin and Rev. James E. Marshall officiating. Bural will be in Riverview Cemetery under the direction of Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Harvey is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Gish Harvey of Monroe and two sons, Joseph Noland Harvey III attending L.S.U. in Baton Rouge, and Paul Gish Harvey of Monroe, and one sister Mrs. M. S. McCaffrey of New Orleans.

Harvey was a member of Grace Episcopal Church and was associated with Caterpillar Tractor Co. for twenty five years, 15 of them in Baton Rouge before coming to Monroe.

Pallbearers will be M. J. Carbone, Rayford Walton, A. F. Canizaro all of Monroe, and E. B. Stribling of Greenwood, W. Z. Adams of Tallulah, and Julius Curren of Baton Rouge.

The remains will be carried to Grace Episcopal Church at 1 p.m. Sunday.

Re-Elect
John E. Coon
Mayor
For Continued Progress

To My Friends, the Voters of Monroe:

I feel it my duty to make public expression concerning certain false rumors being circulated about my candidacy.

I emphatically deny the rumor that upon reelection as your mayor I will resign to allow appointment of another person as your Mayor.

Never was there a more unfounded, untrue rumor, and I want the good people of Monroe to know my denial and to assure them that upon reelection as Mayor I will positively, God willing, serve out my entire term.

A false statement being circulated is to effect that I influenced State Attorney General LeBlanc in his recent ruling concerning failure of candidates for various city offices to file loyalty oaths as required by the anti-subversive law of this State. I wish to declare this statement to be absolutely false.

Everyone knows that I opposed Attorney General LeBlanc in his recent race for reelection and will clearly see that it is inconceivable that Mr. LeBlanc would make a ruling favorable to my candidacy unless that ruling be based on the laws of our State.

It is interesting to note that Attorney General LeBlanc was running for reelection on the Preaus ticket which had one of my opponents as its State Campaign Manager, therefore, it seems odd indeed that Attorney General LeBlanc would ungratefully make an adverse and unfair ruling against his own State political Manager as charged by that party, in the News-Star of April 3rd.

At no time have I filed one word of protest or contest against any candidate for public office, nor would I ever attempt to prevent an election by the good people of Monroe. In fact, I have many times publicly declared that I would willingly enter an election with my opponents regardless of the Attorney General's ruling on the loyalty oaths.

I respectfully ask the voters to turn deaf ears to all unsavory rumors, misstatements and half-truths during this campaign, whether they be favorable or adverse to my cause.

Good news from State Farm Mutual
"the careful driver insurance company"

STATE FARM Auto Life Fire INSURANCE

New! Low-cost auto insurance plan

Lowest renewal rates available to the general public in Louisiana... 25% lower than the rates charged by most other companies.

Thanks to a recent ruling by Louisiana officials, State Farm Mutual auto insurance is now an even better buy.

NEW LOW RATES:

In recognition of its streamlined, money-saving operating methods, State Farm Mutual is now permitted to sell auto insurance to its present members at 25% less than the rates fixed for most other companies by the State. And this 25% saving is pocketed by members in advance. It is not paid afterwards in the form of a dividend.

For present members, these new rates become effective with their first renewal after May 13, 1956.

NEW MEMBERSHIP FEE:

This is a slightly higher premium paid once only by new members for their first 6 months of insurance. This membership fee helps make low rates possible. It covers sales cost, such as sales commission and other sales costs of putting a new member's name on the books. It's charged once and only once—the first time you take out a coverage.

Present State Farm members are not required to pay membership fees for coverages they now carry.

WADE H. KENNEDY DISTRICT MANAGER
MONROE LOUISIANA

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

It may already be too late in a lot of respects, but its time this squabble over the eligibility of three West Monroe High School athletes was coming to an end. The turmoil isn't helping the three athletes in question a bit, and it's causing trouble that could have been avoided.

The pressure group that is carrying on the fuss would have us know they have the welfare of these boys at heart and that the youths were not treated fairly in being handed suspensions. But now the welfare of more boys is involved, a lot of West Monroe athletes are disturbed, and two coaches have already asked permission to resign. And the pressure is still on for the sake of three and with apparently no care about what happens to the rest. Some football boys say they want Howard Barker back or they will quit the game. And Bobby Wilson's baseball club certainly hates to see him surrender his coaching duties.

West Monroe has too good a high school to have it torn apart by something that could have been averted. Certainly there are a lot more people with some pressure of their own who can give the principal, coaches, athletes and even the Louisiana High School Athletic Association reassurance to offset the damage being done by others.

It was an honest mistake of a coach that started it all. He used three high school athletes in an exhibition game against a touring professional girls' basketball team. It violated a rule of the L. H. S. A. A. and the athletes were subsequently suspended by Commissioner T. H. Waters. An appeal was heard by the executive committee which sustained the commissioner.

Then the school board asked for another hearing when it had no new evidence to support possibility of reinstatement of the boys. Without this evidence, the reply the past week from W. L. Colvin, president of the L. H. S. A. A., in rejecting the appeal was to be expected.

Commissioner Waters appeared in West Monroe recently to try to explain the situation. He was subjected to some pretty raw treatment, threatened that he would lose his job and also the members of the executive committee, all responsible high school principals from throughout the state.

Now that it's evident nothing can be done to have Waters or the principals composing the committee ousted, it appears that some sources think the solution is to run off all the coaches and principal of West Monroe.

We would rather have the coach who made the honest mistake, because we're certain he would never make it again.

Principal P. B. Mangum, who reported the rule violation as soon as it came to his attention, did exactly what he should have done. Yet, he also is a target from some who feel he should not have reported on the boys, although by doing so he met an obligation to the association as well as his school which could have drawn a more severe penalty affecting the whole school should the report have been made from another source.

Mr. Mangum is from a family of athletes and himself served 19 years as a coach. He realized the rule had been broken the minute he learned of the use of these boys against the pros. There's even been some to suggest Mr. Mangum should have post-dated permission slips for the boys to play after they had already done so. If such is so, we approve of his rejection. It then becomes a case of whether you want an honest or a dishonest principal. Just for the heck of it, let's say Mr. Mangum did "fix" the slips. He would not be the only one to know about it, and it eventually would get around that the principal, who is supposed to be a leading example to the youth of West Monroe, isn't above stooping to perpetuate a rule violation.

We don't believe any steps can be taken now to help the disqualified youths one bit. Even if such a possibility as reinstatement should develop, the spring athletic season is practically over and they're due to graduate. They're fine boys who have fallen innocent victims of a circumstance that can't be helped now.

We should commend the principal, forgive the coach, or coaches, and hope the youths will outgrow the discouragement of missing their final year of spring athletics at their school.

We're sorry for the way school has had to end for the three athletes, but find what has been going on in recent days even more regrettable. Again, West Monroe High is too good a school to be torn apart by those who would have a rule overlooked once it is broken.

We have been fed a line that "rules are for slaves." Then that fits us all. Everybody in this country is governed by rules of some sort, including license to preach, practice medicine, run a business establishment, operate an automobile, and countless others.

Short Chills Lafayette; Sports Win 10-0

McGuckin Sparks 12-Hit Offensive With Grand Slam

Bill Shorts three - hit pitching and the steady hitting of Bill McGuckin and Don Pierce proved all and more than the Monroe Sports needed last night to card their second straight shutout of their Lafayette rivals of the Evangeline League, 10 to p, at Legion Memorial Stadium here.

McGuckin gave the 907 atending fans a great lift in the eighth innig when he poled a 350-foot grand slam homer over the left field fence to provide more cushion for Short who already had a 6-0 bulge on Manager Ken Raffensberger's Lafayette invaders when the eighth frame rolled around.

The mighty wallop was McGuckin's fourth hit of the night, in five times at bat.

Short, a lefthander, got into trouble at times with free passes, but snappy fielding that included three double plays and one runner nipped trying to steal pulled him out of holes. The three singles off the southpaw as he notched his second win against one loss were collected by Fred Caviness, Joe Pearson, and Manuel Trabous. Jerry Neal, righthanded hurler, had shutout Lafayette for the Sports in the series opener here Friday night.

Tony Sosa, first of the Lafayette hurlers, pitched seven innings to absorb the loss. Jim Schandvel worked the eighth to deliver the grand slam pitch to McGuckin.

Manager Ed Head departs with his Sports today for two games today and tomorrow at Lake Charles, and he will return home Tuesday for a pair with Lake Charles, followed by two with Thibodaux before taking the road again next Saturday.

Bill Carr's triple to left scored Jack George, aboard on a free pass, and Herman Creasey's single counted Carr to start Monroe scoring in the first inning.

Three more Monroe runs romped across in the second as a triple by Don Pierce and a double by Short led the attack. Pierce's triple scored Morris Millet who was on by an error. Short's double scored Pierce, and an error at short on George's grounder permitted Short to score.

Sosa kept the Sports in tow from the third until the seventh when Monroe bagged another run as McGuckin led with a safe bunt, gained third on a passed ball and Manuel Trabous' bad throw to second, and scored as Phil Stevens forced Carr who had walked.

Then came the fat eighth and McGuckin's grand slammer. Schandvel relieved Sosa to start the inning. A single by Pierce and free passes to Short and George loaded the bases. McGuckin followed with his long poke over the left field fence for the final runs.

Segregation Rule Postpones Baton Rouge-Giant Game

BATON ROUGE, La., April 28 (AP) —The listing of a Negro player in the Lake Charles Giants' lineup caused postponement of an Evangeline League game with the Baton Rouge Rebels tonight.

Negroes are barred from the park used here by the class C baseball clubs, but the problem was solved last night by a "gentlemen's agreement."

Under the agreement, the Giants benched Negro shortstop Ralph Crosby and centerfielder Felipe Alou for subs while the Rebels benched their regular white shortstop and centerfielder. Baton Rouge then beat the league-leading Giants 7-4.

Tonight, however, Lake Charles presented its lineup which listed Crosby. Chief umpire Joe Powers in turn gave the lineup to Bob Brazeale, president of Baseball Fans, Inc., which operates the Baton Rouge team.

The public address system then read a statement to approximately 600 fans, explaining that the game had to be postponed because of the segregation ban.

The Baton Rouge club had expected Lake Charles to use at least one Negro tonight and had not opened the ticket office. The fans drifted in to see what would happen.

Powers next will report to Ray Mullins, president of the Evangeline League, who will rule on the situation. Mullins was expected to declare it a forfeit.

Sam Tarleton, general manager of the Lake Charles team, previously warned that the "gentlemen's agreement" would not be in effect tonight.

"Somebody will forfeit that game if we can't play Negroes," Tarleton predicted.

Laker manager Mike McCormick said it was a "gentleman's agreement he made last night to get the game in.

But he added, "my entire ball club will be dressed out tonight" with Crosby at shortstop and Alou "on the active list."

President Bob Breazele of Baseball Fans Inc., which operates the class C baseball team, replied:

"If that's what he does, then we'll have to issue a statement when its time for the game to start that we can't play because of the park commission policy against it. We will announce that the game has been postponed.

Breazeale said it would then be up to the league to decide whether it was a postponement or a forfeit victory for Lake Charles.

The hassle began April 4 when the commission announced that no Negroes would be permitted to play on the newly-completed, city-owned baseball park used by the Rebels.

Negroes have played the past three years in the Evangeline League and Baton Rouge has been a member, playing in the old city ball park.

Lake Charles and Lafayette both have Negro regulars this season. The Lakers have a working agreement with the New York Giants and Lafayette with the Chicago Cub.

The league directors met April 15, but delayed action on the segregation question until their May 6 meeting. Both Lake Charles and Lafayette are slated to play here before then.

An apparent compromise had been reached yesterday when Tarleton told Breazeale that Alou would play, but said Alou was a native of the Dominican Republic who spoke only Spanish.

Crosby has been troubled with an injured foot, and the third Lake Charles Negro, catcher Charles Weatherspoon, has a broken leg.

However, less than an hour before game time, a commission representative warned Breazeale if Alou played against the Rebels they would have to find somewhere else to play.

Breazeale, Rebel manager Bob Reid and McCormick worked out the compromise for last night.

But today, in a telephone interview from Lake Charles, Tarleton denied an agreement had been reached because "only the general manager or president is authorized o make such an agreement."

However, he said he would "stand behind McCormick if he made the decision last night. I feel certain that after last night's misinterpreted ball game that McCormick will use any player he wants to."

And president Harry Romero of the Lafayette club indicates his team's two Negroes will play next week when Lafayette plays here.

He said he had no choice in the matter since the Chicago Cubs notified him they "would not be responsible for where Lafayette finished in the standings, nor would they promise to make any committeement about the 1957 season.

"The big ruling factor in our situation is our working agreement with the Chicago Cubs," he explained.

ENGLISH AMATEUR

ST. ANNES, England, April 28 (AP)—Guy Wolstenholme holed a 75-foot putt on the 35th green today to defeat Harry Bennett by one hole in the final of the English Amateur Golf Championship. The 36th hole was halved. Wolstenholme, 25, is a candidate Britain's Walker Cup team.

FINE PITCHING REWARDED—Jerry Neal, left, pitcher for the Monroe Sports, last night was presented a wristwatch by Sam Rubin Jr. of R. and A. Jewelers for his four-hit shutout of Lafayette here Friday night. Next Rubin will be making a similar award to Bill Short who achieved a three-hit shutout of the same Lafayette club last night. Grid Browns Trade 2 Players To Packers

CLEVELAND, April 28 (AP)—The Cleveland Browns said today they have traded tackle Don King and guard Gene Donaldson to the Green Bay Packers for two undisclosed draft choices.

King played with the Browns in 1954 and Donaldson played with them in 1953. King played Canadian football part of last season before seeking reinstatement in the National Football League. Donaldson has been in the army the last two years.

Bastrop, Bernice, Minden Will Get Big 8's Openers

RUSTON, La. April 28 (Special) —The Big Eight Baseball League will open it's eleventh season June 2 with Ruston at Minden, Homer at Bernice, and the new club, Springhill, will journey to Bastrop. There will be 30 games, the All-Star game on July 5, and the Shaughnesey play-off will follow the regular season. All games will be played under lights and the playing days for all the teams will be Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

League rules this year will favor the playing of local talent. Only one major college player will be allowed on the 12-player roster. High school players will not be counted on the player roster which will force all teams to use at times high school players. Springhill was allowed an 18-team roster as they are in the process of organization and plan to use local talent.

The teams will be allowed eight out of town players. These players will come from teams in the Gulf States Conference and the Arkansas Intercollegiate Association, and also Centenary and Loyola. The major college player can be recruited from the Southeastern Conference or the Southwestern Conference.

The Springhill club which took over the Farmerville franchise will be sponsored by the baseball fans of Springhill and the International Paper Company.

Keen rivalry should exist between Springhill and Bastrop and these two teams are sponsored by the International Paper Company. The Clairborne Drug Company of Homer has donated an opening day attendance prize. Trophies for the most valuable player, the best pitcher and the best batter will be given by Raymond Heard Wholesale Company, Ruston Hardware and Willis-Lane.

Indians Throw Cowboys From G. S. C. Top, 18-5

LAKE CHARLES, La., April 29 (Special) — The Northeast Indians kicked the McNeese Cowboys out of first place in the Gulf States Conference today with an 18-5 trouncing. The Pokes now fall into a tie for second slot.

The Tribe jumped off to an eight run lead in the top of the first inning with a run-around affair off of two hits, three walks, and a host of errors. Antony who was the starter for McNeese left the mound to give room for Mixon during the frame.

Vernon's 2-Run Homer Provides Victory Margin

BOSTON, April 28 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox broke the Yankee jinx with a 6-4 victory over New York today on Mickey Vernon's two-run homer and the fine relief pitching of rookie Dave Sisler, the pride of Princeton.

The contest was played under protest by Yankee manager Casey Stengel after Mickey Mantle's eighth inning drive off the top of the center field wall was ruled no home run by second base umpire Ed Rommel.

Vernon lined his second home run of the season 400 feet into the visitor's bullpen in right field in the seventh inning. Billy Goodman had singled ahead of him and the blast put the Sox into a 4-3 lead.

The victory broke a five-game sox losing streak and was Boston's first over New York in five tries this season.

CATCHES LARGE SNAKE

JONESBORO, April 28 (Special) A 17-year-old Jonesboro youth, Billy Rockett, caught a five-foot, nine-inch long coach whip snake near here Saturday morning with his bare hands. Rockett made the catch around 11:15 a.m. near Machens pond as he and two companions, C. R. Wallace and Joel Majors, were returning from an all-night camping trip. Rockett saw the snake crossing the road, he said, and hopped from his bicycle and caught it. Late Saturday it was being quartered in the family garage.

Four Runs In 9th Bring Phils, 6-2, Win Over Giants

NEW YORK, April, 28 (AP)—Stan Lopata cashed in on three Giant errors to score runs in the seventh and ninth innings today and gave the Phillies a 6-2 victory over the Giants in a pitching duel between Robin Roberts and Johnny Antonelli. Richie Ashburn hit his second home run of the game with two on base after Lopata scored the tie-breaking run.

SIX TRACKS IN ONE

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—With a new turf course available, Delaware Park now has six individual tracks. There is the main dirt track, the new grass layout, a brush steeplechase course, a hurdles course, a training track and a steeplechase schooling course inside the training track.

BROOKLYN, April 28 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, who regained their batting punch with their return to friendly Ebbets Field, exploded four runs in the seventh inning today and made it two straight over the Pittsburgh Pirates with a 5-2 victory.

Big Don Newcombe, turning in the fifth straight full-length pitching performance for Brooklyn, bested even bigger young Dick Hall on the pitching mound, giving up nine hits and striking out nine. But Newk had to work hard until the big inning eased his tasks.

A crowd of 17,506, including about 10,000 Knothole Gang members, saw the Dodgers blow a fourth-inning scoring opportunity after Gil Hodges had started the scoring in the second with his third homer of the season. They fell behind 2-1 in the seventh and then blew the lid off.

The 6-foot, 6-inch Hall, absorbing his second defeat of the season after compiling a 6-6 record for Pittsburgh last season, also did a solid job and allowed nine hits. But he couldn't cope with Brooklyn's long range swatting.

The victory, Brooklyn's seventh in nine games this season, put the Dodgers 1½ games ahead of Milwauke and St. Louis, who were rained out.

Cary Middlecoff Favored To Take Colonial Tourney

FORT WORTH, April 28—UP—For the first time in the event's 10-year history, Bantam Ben Hogan won't go to the post as the favorite when the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation golf tournament begins next Thursday.

Twenty - eight sports writers, radio and television sportscasters have awarded that pre - tourney distinction to Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist who plays out of Dallas and who is leading the 1956 money winnings to date.

Asked to rate their choices in 1-2-3 order, the "experts" gave Middlecoff an 8 to 5 edge over Hogan, who has won this event over his home course four times.

Ten voters picked Middlecoff to win, 12 named him as runner-up and three chose him for third. Under a 3-2-1 point system, that gave him 57 points.

Hogan compiled 35 points on seven firsts, four seconds and six thirds, while Masters champion Jack Burke was the third choice of the voters with 26 points on three firsts, five seconds and seven thirds.

Dave Sime Cracks Ancient Record In Drake Relays

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 28 UP—Dave Sime of Duke cracked the oldest record in annual competition at the Drake Relays Saturday with a sensational 9.4 seconds in the 100-yard dash on a wet track.

The 5-degree temperature and soggy footing combined to slow an outstanding field of 800 athletes from 75 colleges and universities in the 47th annual track classic.

But Sime, flashy Duke sophomore, blazed across the finish line two steps ahead of Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian to erase a record of 9.5 first set in 1926 and tied twice since then, once by Jesse Owens in 1935.

It was Morrow's first defeat in the 100-yard dash in 31 starts.

Joe Savoldi of Michigan State, running into the stiffest downpour of the afternoon, failed by 1-10th of a second to equal the Drake record of 14.1 second in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Most of the favorites in relays competition came through as expected, but no record was seriously jeopardized.

Abilene Christian's crack college relay team anchored by Morrow won both the 440-yard and 880-yard relays to defend both titles successfully. Abilene also recorded a 3:18.6 to win the feature college mile relay.

One other record went into the Drake books. Pole vaulter Bob Gutowski of Occidental cleared 14 feet, 8 1-4 inches. The old Drake record was 14 feet, 6 inches by Don Laz of Illinois in 1951.

Baylor hit 41.7, well over its time of 41.2 which equaled the old world record at the Kansas Relays last Saturday, in winning the university division of the 440-yard event.

Baylor also won the 880-yard university relay in 1:27, two seconds off the record, with Oklahoma A&M's J. W. Mashburn failing by two strides to catch anchorman Del Shofner.

Mashburn, a speedster who is regarded as a top Olympic candidate, avenged the loss as he nosed past the Baylor anchor-man in the last 60 yards of the university mile relay to give his team a winning 3:18.3.

The foul weather also made its mark in field competition. Bill Nieder of Kansas defended his title in the shot put with a heave of only 54 feet, 11 3-8 inches, compared with his 56 3 1-4 inches in 1955. American collegiate titleholder Parry O'Brien had a heave of 58 feet, 7 inches in exhibition.

Hughes Takes 3 Events; Jackets Win AAA Honors

RUSTON, La., April 28 (Special)—Billy Hughes of West Monroe High sacked three first place medals and a second place at the district track and field rally conducted here today.

Coach Jeff Hennessy's track star set a new meet record in the board jump with a leap of 22 feet, 7½ inches; won the hop-step-jump with 44 feet, 8½ inches; took the 200-yard dash in 10.4 seconds, and was second in the 220 run with a time of 23.1.

The Rebel 440 relay team of Hattaway, Price, Brashear and Furlow finished second in 45.9. Fourth places were taken by West Monroe in the 880 relay, mile relay, and W. E. Martin in the shot put and discus.

Shreveport's perennial track champion, the Byrd High Yellow Jackets, pulled out front in the final events and coasted to their second straight title in district 1-AAA with a 96 point effort.

The afternon program held at Louisiana Tech Stadium also saw Ruston High Dethrone Jonesboro-Hodge High in District 1-AA. The local prep squad registered 11 winners during the 17 event card to post a 98 to 76 margin over Jonesboro.

The well-balanced Byrd assembly finished with a wide gap over their crosstown rival, Fair Park. The runner up Fair Park team totaled 79½ points.

Haynesville came in third on the 1-AAA with 73 points, followed by West Monroe with 39, and Ouachita with six and one half.

Career Boy Now Doubtful Entry For Turf Classic

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 28—UP—C. V. Whitney's Career Boy became a doubtful starter for next week's Kentucky Derby classic after it was discovered he had severly bruised his right hind heel Saturday.

Trainer Sylvester Veitch discovered the injury shortly before noon as Career Boy, regarded by many as one of the top horses for the Run for the Roses, was led to his stall after grazing outside his barn for about an hour.

Earlier Saturday hardboots got up early to watch early Derby favorite Needles work out for the first time over the mile and one quarter distance he must run next Saturday at Churchill Downs. Needles worked the distance in 2:09 2-5, but as usual his heart was not in it.

The son of Ponder was on the track for nearly half an hour before jockey Dave Erb and trainer Hugh Fontaine finally convinced him that a workout was in order.

Fontaine said he was pleased with the workout, but admitted, "I'm more tired than the horse."

Lion Boots Help N.S.C. Demons To 4-2 G.S.C. Win

HAMMOND, La., April 28 (AP) — Southeastern Louisiana errors today helped give Northwestern State a 4-2 Gulf States Conference baseball victory.

An error, two singles and a walk in the fifth inning brought in two NSC runs to tie the score at 2-2. Two errors helped bring in a sixth inning run to give NSC the lead.

Joe Segers scored both Southeastern runs.

The victory put Northwestern into a tie with McNeese for the GSC lead with 5-2 records. Southeastern's record is 3-4.

Dubach Triumphs, 2-1, In Chatham Tourney Finals

CHATHAM, La., April 28 (Special) — Chatham moundsman Jimmy Moore engaged Dubach hurler Fuller in a pitching duel this afternoon in the finals of the Fifth Annual Chatham Baseball Tournament and came out on the short end to the tune of 2 to 1. Moore released four hits while Fuller gave up only three.

The Dubach club took the first place trophy with a two run rally in the bottom of the fifth frame. A walk handed out by Misoore, an error, and a hit scored the pair of marks.

Chatham waited until the seventh inning to try their come-back but were cut short of their objective. A lone run came around on a hit, a sacrifice, and another safe swat.

Good Bream Catches In Lake Providence

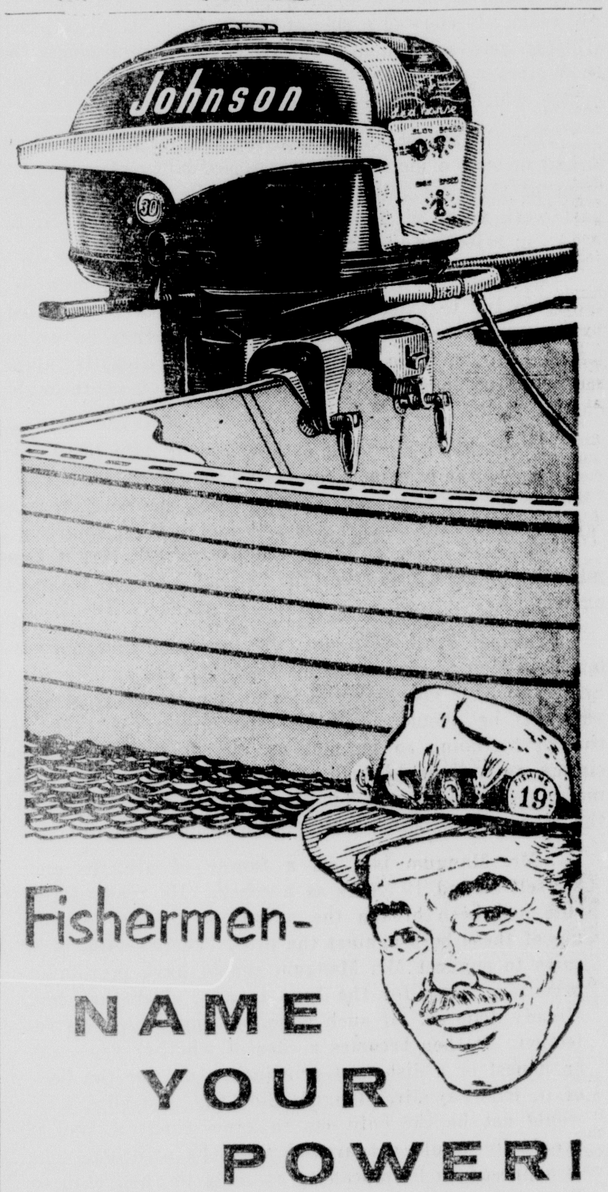

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., April 29 (Special)—During the first part of last week, some very nice strings of blue gillbream were caught in Lake Providence on articicial bait. Many people brought out the limit of bream which were caught around the trees. However, almost any part of the lake was good for bream fishing from Monday through Wednesday.

Blue gills are taking crickets, roaches and worms at almost any time of the day. The cool weather has again slowed the artificial bait fishing to the early morning hours and the hours just before dark.

Black bass have been taking deep running lures during the early morning. Thursday morning, several nice strings of bass were brought to Greer's Boat Dock.

Rehearing For Suspended Rebel Athletes Rejected

The Louisiana High School Athletic Association, through its president, W. L. Colvin of Jeanerette, has rejected an appeal from West Monroe High School for a rehearing in the case of three suspended athletes who were ruled ineligible for spring sports for participating in a benefit exhibition with a touring professional girls' team in February.

After the executive committee of the L.H.S.A.A. had upheld the suspensions handed down by Commissioner T. H. Waters at an appeal hearing late in March, the Ouachita parish school board a little over a week ago sought through Principal P. B. Mangum to obtain another hearing for the student athletes.

Rejection in a letter dated April 23 and reported by Principal Mangum was as follows:

"Mr. P. B. Mangum, principal,
"West Monroe High School,
"West Monroe, La.

"Dear Mr. Mangum:

"Replying to your letter of April 18 relative to a rehearing in the case of Jimmy Haddox, Gary Huckabay, and Robert Smith who were suspended from participation in interscholastic athletics under the amateur rule of the L.H.S.A.A., I wish to advise that I have carefully studied the resolutions of the Ouachita parish school board and fail to find any justifiable reason for a rehearing as there is no new data to be presented.

"You and every school official know that under no consideration or conditions shall an amateur athlete play with or against a professional and maintain his or her amateur standing. From the evidence presented to the L.H.S.A.A. committee there was several of your parish school coaches who participated in the same game, and all of whom either knew or should have known the rules which they permitted the three above named boys to violate.

"The rule under which the boys were suspended was made by you and the other high school principals of Louisiana and the executive committee was selected by the same group to enforce the said rule; and if there is to be any violation of such rules then it certainly is not going to be made by the president of the L.H.S.A.A. committee.

"It is always unpleasant for me to render the decision of the committee whenever it becomes necessary to suspend a school or a student, but I feel honor bound to accept the decision of the group over which I preside, and render the decisions according to the majority of the group.

"Assuring you that I regret to state that there is no justifiable reason for a rehearing.

"I am very tryly yours,
"W. L. Colvin,
president L.H.S.A.A."

Robbins Conquers Hyndman To Take North, South Title

PINEHURST, N.C., April 28—UP—Hillman Robbins Jr., of Memphis avenged his defeat in the semi-finals of the last National Amateur Saturday by defeating William Hyndman of Abingdon, Pa., 1-up to take the North and South Amateur golf crown.

The finals were marred by an accident when Hyndman, one down with three to go, hooked his drive on the 16th and the ball struck a spectator in the head. The victim, John Zelie, a Southern Pines merchant, was taken to a hospital bleeding but conscious and his condition was reported fair.

"My God, I thought I killed him," Hyndman said as he walked down the fairway, shaken by the accident.

Hyndman defeated Robbins at Richmond last summer 4 and 3, then Hyndman lost in the National Amateur finals to Harvie Ward.

Both shot makers ended the first 18 holes of the 36-hole pressure match all even Saturday. Both had missed several opportunities to break into the lead.

Nash Defends Muny Amateur Title Today

3 Deadlock For Medalist Honors With Low Of 72

The annual Municipal Amateur Golf Tournament, a one-day meeting, will be conducted today over the Municipal Golf Club's course here. Clyde Nash will be defending his club championship title.

Area golfers rounded out their last day of qualifying for the event yesterday and finished with three-way deadlock for medalist honors. Paul Jones, Al Gallagher, and Jimmie Rivers each exhibited a 76 total to fall into the tie.

The meet kicks off this morning at 7:40 o'clock when the seventh flight begins their tour of the course. The championship group tees off at nine a.m. to fight for the title honors.

The pairings and starting times:

Seventh flight—Luke Coonrod vs. Earl Jones, Bud Lyons vs. W. T. Renwick, Sonny Durham vs. A. S. Myers, and W. R. Fisher vs. Amos Smelter; 7:40 a.m.

Sixth flight—Charles Regan vs. George Luffey, Herbert Spencer vs. David Schennault, William Bendal, Jr. vs. Bill Heard, and E. E. Brady vs. Jimmie Hill; 7:50 a.m.

Fifth flight—John Edy vs. Glen Walker, Bob Creighton vs. Jack Windam, T. Rogers vs. J. R. Garrett, and Tom Hyland vs. F. T. Smith; 8:40 a.m.

Third flight—Julius Haddad vs. R. B. Koos, Les Olive vs. Barwain Grigsby, Sam Correro vs. Hugh Smith, and G. E. Wrighting vs. Barrell Forman; 8:10 a.m.

Second flight—Amos Shelton vs. Claude Duplissey, Paul Petitt vs. Jim Riddle, Frank Cascio vs. Al Schidl, and Bobby Clark vs. John Lacy; 8:10 a.m.

First flight—Tony Danna vs. Jim Simmons, Bill Jones vs. Bennie Johnston, Sonny Richards vs. Jerry Gregg, and Bone Parker vs. Ken Bartlett; 8:00 a.m.

Championship—Clyde Nash vs. E. B. Peddy, Paul Jones vs. Bill Russell, Jimmie Rivers vs. Brice Pirtle, and Al Gallagher vs. Robert Ewing; 9:00 a.m.

Littler Firmly Grips Champions Tournament Lead

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 28—UP—Gene Littler clipped par for the third consecutive round in the Tournament of Champions Saturday and only a fast-closing performance by Dr. Cary Middlecoff kept the $38,500 event from being a one-man show for the second straight year.

Littler, who won this tournament by 13 strokes last year, fired a three-under-par 69 Saturday for a 54-hole total of 210. Middlecoff had a 68 and a 215 score, the biggest advantage that the 25-year old San Diego man has had.

Gunning for his second straight title in the most select tournament in the country — where a man has to be a champion to qualify — Littler had two birdies on the front side and two more on the back. His lone bogey came on the seventh hole the third straight bogey he has had there.

Littler had started the day with a four stroke lead over Gardner Dickinson, Lloyd Mangrum, Shelley Mayfield and Ted Kroll. But these four all fell by the wayside leaving only Middlecoff in any kind of a threatening position.

And as Middlecoff said after his second straight 68:

"Littler is going to have to back up faster than that for me to catch him."

The golfing dentist got behind by shooting a 79 the first day.

In third place, seven strokes back of the leader, came young Gardner Dickinson of Panama City Beach, Fla., with a 72 and a 217 total.

There was a four-way tie at 218 betwen Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio (72 Saturday); Doug Ford, Mahopac, N. Y. (72); Mayfield (73) and Kroll (73).

Mangrum had a 74 for a 219 total.

Dick Mayer came in with a 74 for a 220 total; and at 221 were Bo Wininger, Oklahoma City, who had a good 69; Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa., 71; and Al Balding, Toronto, Can., 75.

The 222 bracket included Dow Finsterwald (72); Bedford Heights, Ohio, and veteran Henry Ransom, St. Anderews, Ill., (75).

Mike Fetchick came in with a 77 for a 223 total.

Don Fairfield, Casey, Ill., had a 72 for a 224; and Mike Souchak, Grossinger, N.Y., had a 73 for a 225. Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N.C., had 74 for 226; Chandler Harper, Portsmouth, Va., had a 79 for 231.

National Open champion Jack Fleck had his best score of tournament, a 75, for a 237; and the terrible tempered Tommy Bolt a big 83 for last place with a 238.

Bolt was so disgusted with his game that he smashed two clubs, kicked at his golf ball when it refused to go into the hole and then gave the wrong score to the scorekeeper on the ninth hole when he four putted the green.

CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS IN GOLF for the past three seasons, the Louisiana Tech linksmen have racked up a 5-2 record this season and will be shooting for their fourth straight Gulf States title when the official meet is held at Lake Charles May 18 and 19. During the 1953, 1954 and 1955 seasons the Bulldogs won 29 matches and dropped only three. This week the Techsters will be in Athens, Ga., on Thursday, Friday and Saturday (May 3, 4, 5) to participate in the Southern Intercollegiate golf tourney. Members of the Tech squad are shown from left to right. Front row: Joe Morris, Shreveport, Irving King, Jr., Shreveport, Gerald Latham, Vicksburg, Miss. Back row: Jim Rivers, Monroe, Dick Taylor, Minden, Bobby Irby, West Monroe, and Howard Dennis, Shreveport.

Best 3 Of 5 Scrap Heads Week's Grappling Event

George and Jack Curtis, who lost their tag team brawl last week through a freak accident, continue their tussling at Kallio's Arena Tuesday night against the same opposing tieup of Charley Laye and Herb Larsen. The Curtis grappling family seems to think that an accident such as took victory from them last Tuesday could not defeat their organization in a longer muscle stretching contest.

When the pair asked Promoter Gus Kallio about a best-three-falls-of-five scrap the gentlemen, Larsen and Laye, quickly answered to the affirmative.

Larsen, who calls Hamilton, Ont., home, said "We'll fight those cry babies from Mississippi any time and anyway that they'd care to. We gave both of them a beating last week and we will do an even better job this time. Those charters don't even know how to wrestle!"

"I'll go into any match with my pal, Herb, and I certainly agree with what he said about those acters being cry babies," commented Laye. "They're always yelling about something like pulling hair when the going gets tough."

The better trio-of-five encounter is carded as the main event of the grappling evening which begins at 8:15 o'clock and will have a 90 minute time limit.

In the preliminary matches that kick off the event George Curtis will meet one of the villians and brother George will follow in a grunt and groan fest with the other.

SEEK NEW ICE PLANT

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—The Grand Rapids Rockets of the International Hockey League are shopping for a new home. The stadium is to be leased to an eastern mercantile firm, which plans to convert it into a cut-rate shopping center. The stadium had a hockey capacity of about 6,000. It was completed in 1949.

Jameson Goes 3 Strokes Ahead In Peach Blossoms

SPARTANBURG, S. C., April 28—UP—Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., parlayed a second day of consistent play into a three-stroke lead in the fourth annual Peach Blossoms-Betsy Rawls golf tournament Saturday as Veteran Patty Berg blew to her second straight 77.

Miss Jameson came home with a one-over-par 72 after her 71 of Friday for a 54-hole total of 216 while Miss Berg, of St. Andrews, Ill., fell five strokes back after leading the field at the halfway mark.

Tied for second at 219 in the $5,000 tournament were Marlene Bauer Hagge, Asheville, N. C., and Louise Suggs, Sea Island, Ga. Mrs. Hagge had a 72 and Miss Suggs one of Saturday's two par 71 rounds.

Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg came next at 220 after a 73 while Mickey Wright, San Diego, Calif., and Fay Crocker, Montevideo, Uruguay, were knotted with Miss Berg at 221.

Miss Jameston started out as if she intended to make her lead even larger. She went around the first nine in par 35 and added a pair of birdies on the back nine but went over par when she double bogeyed No. 17.

Fay Crocker and Mary Lena Faulk had 222s; Marilyn Smith 225; Bonnie Randolph and Beverly Hanson 226; Diane Garrett 230; Alice Bauer 231 and Vonnie Colby 232.

Offering Divided Book Tickets To Monroe's Games

Season book tickets sales for the remainder of the Monroe Sports baseball season are now in full swing and the ducats may be purchased from any member of the Twin Cities Baseball Corporation's board of directors, from Adler Tire Company or by phoning 3-8805 or 3-9461.

A resumption of this campaign was decided upon at the last board meeting.

In order to make the purchase of these books more practical for all fans concerned the directors decided to offer tickets in the following amounts, 24 (1-3 book) for $10, 36 (½ book) for 13.75, as well as the regular full book for $27.50. These are all grandstand seat prices. Bleacher seats are priced at 17.50 per book of 72.

New Charge

Service gives you

6 Months to Pay

6 MONTHS to PAY "DRESS WELL" PLAN

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS!

1. With this modern, sensible new plan, you decide how much you want to pay each month for clothes. Multiply that by 6 for your 6-months charge limit. Say you decide to pay $15 a month. This would make the charge limit you put on your charge account $90.

2. Suppose you buy an EAGLE SUIT and some ARROW SHIRTS. You don't pay anything until the next month, then you mail in your first $15. (There is a small service charge on the balance each month).

3. After you've made two regular monthly payments, you are $30 under your original $90 charge limit, so you or your wife can pick up some extra things you may need. That's why you'll like the new TOGGERY 6-month charge plan—you get what you want without stretching your budget.

4. Your account is now a regular monthly affair—you can be the best dressed man in your crowd—on the same easy budget. You pay as you get paid—with small, no strain payments spread over 6 full months. You may use your credit amount all at once or little by little as you need it. It's good in every department in our store.

WHERE SEVEN CHILDREN PERISHED IN HOME FIRE—Seven children were burned to death in these ruins of their home near Toledo, O., Thursday. The youngsters, ranging from nine years old to two months, had been left alone in the house while their father, John Cooper, 33, drove their mother to her work in a Toledo cafe. Firemen found the bodies of four children in bed. The others apparently had tried to escape. Their bodies were found sprawled in a hallway near a door. The overturned tricycle at left apparently belonged to one of the children. A neighbor discovered the flames and called firemen. (AP Wirephoto.)

Summer Session Opens June 8 At Northeast State

Northeast State's summer session will include workshops, conferences, and a program designed to meet current educational needs of teachers and administrators. The term also will provide specific courses to fulfill certification and other requirements.

The summer school will open June 8 and end August 10. The program of study offers special opportunities for persons graduating from high school this spring who wish to begin immediately their college work.

All students entering Northeast for the first time should present high school transcripts and transcripts from colleges and universities which they may have attended. This regulation also applies to former students who re-enter the college after taking work at other institutions.

Veterans on the G. I. or Korean Bills should clear with their local Veterans Administration officers.

Summer schedules may be secured by calling or writing the office of admissions.

Students working on degrees in the various fields at other colleges and universities will find enough courses offered at Northeast to apply toward their degrees. Many regular students at the college attend summer school in order to shorten the time for graduation.

The regular teaching staff of the college will be assisted in some areas by visiting professors and specialists. Consultants of national and international reputation will direct workshops and conferences.

New dormitory facilities are available for both men and women at the cost of $90 for the session. This includes meals from Monday breakfast through Friday luncheon. Room reservations may be made by sending a $1 deposit to the auditor of the college.

A student may earn a maximum of ten semester hours for the summer session. All veterans, both Korean and World War II, are required to schedule a minimum of nine hours for full subsistance.

The summer laboratory school is designed to serve those who wish student teaching and observation in most learning areas. Only in-service teachers and others unable to schedule this work during the regular semesters will be accepted into the student teaching program.

Persons desiring summer school student teaching should communicate with Mrs. Evelyn Otts, director of teacher training, for application forms.

Delta Seeks New Routes To Serve South California

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — Applications by nine airlines for new routes between Texas and California were on file at the civil aeronautics board today.

Proposals, filed during the week, include:

Western—A route between San Francisco and Dallas by way of Los Angeles; one between San Francisco and Houston by way of Los Angeles, El Paso and Dallas; and one between San Francisco and Miami by way of Los Angeles, El Paso, Dallas, Houston and New Orleans.

Delta—A route between Dallas and San Francisco by way of Fort Worth, Amarillo, El Paso, Albuquerque, San Diego and Los Angeles, with authority to serve Lubbock and Santa Fe.

National—A route between New Orleans and San Francisco by way of Houston, with routes serving Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso and San Antonio.

American — A route between Seattle and Fort Worth by way of San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, El Paso and Midland-Odessa.

Eastern — A new route between Miami and San Francisco by way of New Orleans, with other service points including Baton Rouge, Lafayette, New Iberia and Lake Charles, La. Beaumont, Port Arthur, Houston, El Paso, Amarillo, Albuquersue, Shreveport, and Los Angeles.

Continental—Between San Francisco and Houston by way of Los Angeles, Albuquerque, Lubbock, Fort Worth, Dallas, El Paso, Midland, Odessa and San Antonio.

California Eastern — A route between Dallas and San Francisco. and between California and Houston, and one between Houston and Dallas. The Texas-California routes also would serve Midland, Odessa, El Paso, San Antonio, Albuqerque and Las Angeles.

France To Sell More Jet Planes For Israeli Use

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — Israel is due to get 12 more Mystere jet fighter planes from France soon in a deal which the United States favors but does not formally approve.

The carefully limited American policy of trying to encourage other Western countries to sell defensive arms to Israel while keeping the United States aloof from the whole business is expected to get a boost from Secretary of State Dulles in Paris next week—whatever boost he is able to give it.

So far it has not been very productive.

Dulles is leaving Tuesday for a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Paris. There he will make known to the foreign ministers of the 14 other NATO countries the United States readiness now to join in giving the essentially military alliance greater responsibilities in economic and political fields.

Date With Blonde Leads To Trouble For W. Monroyan

A frisky, effeminately dressed man was arrested here yesterday after securing a $7 date with a West Monroe man who wound up robbed at gunpoint in a sideshow tent at a Louisville avenue carnival.

The victim, a West Monroe man whose identity police did not reveal, said he was approached by the long-haired blond while he sat in a Louisville avenue sandwich shop. "I thought it was a woman," he told police.

He said the man, who dressed and looked like a woman, offered to "go out" with him for $7. They left the sandwich shop and went to a tent at the carnival grounds.

A few minutes after arriving at the tent, the victim told police, two men rushed in, one wielding a pistol, and demanded "what are you doing with my wife?" Then, he said, they robbed him.

He said they took his wallet, but overlooked several bills carried in his watch pocket. One of the men struck a match to look for something he dropped in the poorly lighted tent and the holdup victim got a "good look at his face."

The bilked man managed to flee from the tent and reported the incident to the police.

Yesterday, Det. Chief Hugh L. Tolbert said the victim was disguised and sent to the show grounds where he spotted and pointed out the blond to detectives, who executed an arrest.

The suspect, identifeid as Billie Bell, was returned to headquarters and subjected to questioning. At headquarters, Tolbert said, Bell had all the appearances of a buxom blond woman "but I noticed a manish look in his hands."

Tolbert said Bell at first denied that he was a man. "I picked up the phone to call a doctor to have him examined and then he admitted he was a man dressed as a woman," Tolbert said.

The detective chief said Bell's clothing was "precisely padded in the appropriate places."

Further questioning an investigation revealed, Tolbert said, that Bell was at one time employed as an entertainer in a New Orleasns nightspot that specializes in womanish appearances of masquarading men.

Tolbert said he understood Bell was scheduled to appear in "some sort of strip act at the carnival here — until we headed it off."

A man believed to have been a participant in the holdup turned up yesterday at the parish jail charged with drunkenness. He was identified as a "fire eater" at the carnival. He was later charged with simple robbery, Tolbert said. A similar charge was placed against Bell, he said. The third man was still at large.

The detective chief said he believed the trio worked as a team to bilk men who fall prey to the bogus blonde.

Miss Ann Flinn Honored At Lovely Afternoon Tea

Miss Ann Flinn, the bride-elect of Hall Peyton, was the inspiration of one of the season's most beautiful parties on Thursday afternoon. She was honored with a tea, given in the L. D. Ritter home on Park Avenue with Mrs. Ritter, Mrs. Ray Rhymes, Mrs. T. B. Godfrey, and Mrs. Landry Ducote, hostesses.

The 500 guests were met at the door by Miss Landrea Ducote, Miss Suzonne Kellogg and Miss Sallie Hinkle. Bouquets of calla lilies and red roses were used for decorations in the reception rooms. Receiving with the hostesses and honoree, who was wearing an afternoon frock of ice blue lace, trimmed in a deeper shade of blue taffeta, and a corsage of red roses, were her mother, Mrs. Clifton Flinn and her grandmother, Mrs. G. A. Hume, of Mer Rouge.

White flowers were featured in the dining room. The table was centered with a bridal bouquet of white roses with a white lace fan for the background. On the buffet was a lovely arrangement of early summer blossoms.

Presiding at the lunch tables and assisting during the afternoon were Mrs. Robert Rhymes, Mrs. Henry Hinkle, Mrs. Ivy Jordan, Mrs. G. L. Morgan, Mrs. John Sherrouse, Jr., Mrs. J. L. Adams, Mrs. Foster Wallace, Mrs. Scott Hamilton, Mrs. Shelby Hill, Mrs. Fletcher Ashcraft, Mrs. George Weaks, Miss Nell Bridge, Mrs. Roy McCue and Mrs. Gene Demmary.

Miss Barbara Ann Kelso To Wed Jerry McWilliams

Mr. and Mrs. John Franklin Kelso announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Barbara Ann Kelso, to Jerry Louis McWilliams, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fred McWilliams.

The wedding will take place at 7 o'clock in the evening, June 9 at Saint Paul's Methodist Church. A reception will follow at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

The bride-elect graduated from Neville High school and attended Louisiana State University and Northeast State College.

Mr. McWilliams is the grandson of Mrs. A. P. Pittman and the late Mr. Pittman and Mrs. W. McWilliams, and the late Mr. McWilliams, both of Monroe. He is now a student at Northeast State College.

Cook diced kidneys, strips of onion and sliced mushrooms in butter; use as a filling for a luncheon omelet.

Couple Plans May Wedding

The approaching marriage of Miss Mildred Cooper to Mr. James Stringfellow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stringfellow of Shreveport, is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Cooper of Harrisonburg.

The wedding will be an event of May 12, 1956 at the Calvary Baptist Church in Shreveport, with the Reverend Alfred Mitchell of Mansfield officiating. Friends of the couple are invited to attend.

Miss Cooper, a former resident of Monroe is the grand-daughter of Mrs. Mary Duke of this city.

Garden Wedding Unites Miss Jackie Walker And Harold Lesslie Woods, Jr.

In the elegant setting of a southern garden at "Forty Oaks," the William Addison Walker's country home, their daughter, Miss Jackie Walker pledged her marriage vows to Harold Lesslie Woods, Jr. The ceremony, one of the major weddings of the season, was solemnized at 5:30 o'clock Saturday evening. The Rev. Ernest Holloway performed the nuptial rites.

Mr. Woods is the son of Mr. Harold Lesslie Woods and the late Mrs. Lena May Harvey Woods of this city.

The vows were exchanged before a beautiful garden arch entwined with magnolia blossoms and greenery. White colonial urns of white lilies complemented the traditional arch, shaded by majestic oaks.

Bordering the garden walk leading to the arch was a myriad of white potted lilies. Other accents of white were provided by scores of white caladium leaves placed at points of interest throughout the garden.

Music was presented by Mr. Leon Hammonds, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's wedding gown was fashioned of Italian silk with a lace bodice adorned with seed pearls. The skirt was waltz length. Her short veil of silk illusion was attached to a cap designed of pearl strands.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Wilfred Quales Cole, Jr. of Jackson, Miss., was matron of honor and her only attendant. Mrs. Cole's dress was a waltz-length model of yellow organza. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mr. Wayne Woods served his brother as best man.

Mrs. Walker chose for the wedding a white linen over blue taffeta with a lace yoke. White roses completed her ensemble.

Two glass-top punch tables were decorated with garlands of gardenias. The wedding cake was also placed on a glass-top table and was surrounded by gardenias. Serving the wedding cake were Mrs. A. E. Montgomery and Mrs. Marie Frazier.

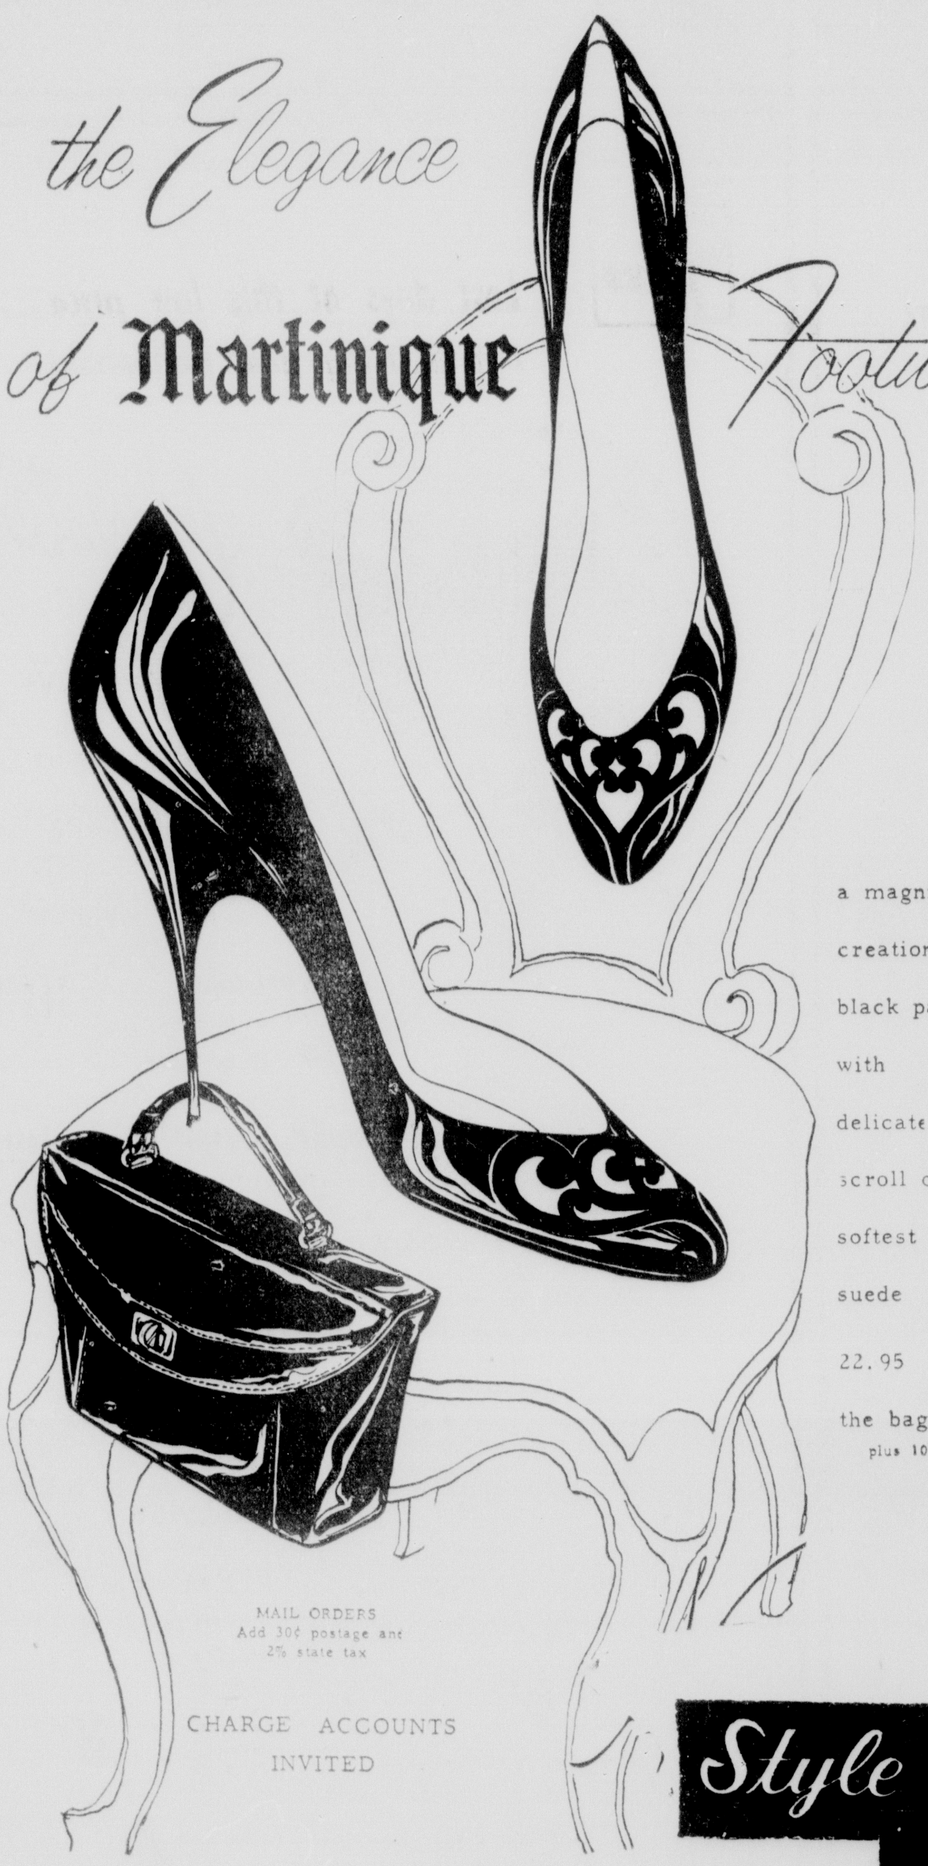

Alternating and serving at the punch tables were Mrs. Ben Marshall, Mrs. D. V. Loflin, Mrs. Jack Terzia, Miss Jane Walker, Miss Carolyn Cordell, Mrs. Fred Sartor, Mrs. William McDowell, Mrs. Jack Inabnet, Mrs. Stewart Scott and Mrs. Lee Edwards.

For a wedding trip to Hawaii, the bride changed to a beige silk shantung suit with a straw hat and matching accessories.

A member of Chi Omega sorority, the bride attended Newcomb College, the University of Colorado and graduated from Louisiana State University.

Mr. Woods is a member of Kappa Sigma. He attended Louisiana State University and is a graduate of Northeast Louisiana State College.

MISS MARIANNE BUCE

Miss Buce Will Be Heard In Piano Recital

Miss Marianne Buce, a senior in piano major in music education at Northeast State, will be presented in recital Monday at 8 p.m. The program will be given in the Fine Arts Building on the campus as partial fulfillment of requirements for the degree in music education. The public is invited to attend.

Miss Buce began her early study of piano with Miss Mary Grace Lawn of West Monroe and continued with her until the sophomore year of high school. Following Miss Lawn's departure from this city, Miss Buce became a student of Mrs. Florence Ziegler Allbritton at Northeast State, and has pursued study with her during the past eight years.

While a student in high school she appeared in joint recital with other students on several occasions. In 1951 she tied for honors in the Paul Hewitt contest for scholarships to Interlochen, Michigan.

During her college days, participation in musical activities has included playing violin in the Twin City Symphony and Little Symphony of the college as well as making numerous appearances as piano soloist and accompanist.

In 1954 she received the Northeast Music Faculty award given to the most outstanding music major, and she also represented the Music Department in the 1954 Chacahoula's "Who's Who" in music division.

Aside from musical interests, Miss Buce has been prominent in other campus activities. In 1953 she was elected a campus beauty and sweetheart of Sigma Alpha Chi fraternity. During the two following years she was chosen as Sigma Alpha Chi sponsor. Her sorority is Phi Mu.

A native of West Monroe, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Buce. She presently is serving as organist of Memorial Presbyterian church, West Monroe.

MISS KARLEEN WELCH SAVONY

Miss Savony's Engagement To John Roddey Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Fernand Jules Savony of Shreveport have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Karleen Welch, to John Barber Roddey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Roddey of this city.

Their marriage is planned for Saturday evening, June 9, at seven thirty o'clock in Shreveport's Southside Baptist Church with the Rev. Floyd Harris, pastor, officiating.

Wedding attendants will include the bride's sister, Miss Jan Savony, junior bridesmaid; Miss Judy Savony, maid of honor; and Miss Ila Mae Jones of Monroe, Miss Sue Vinson, Mrs. Charles Thomas, Miss Glynda Ervin and Miss Mary Robinette, bridesmaids.

Miss Martha Carroll and Miss Anita Adcock will light the candles and Catherine Ann Sloan of Monroe will serve as flower girl. Ring bearer will be George Miller, Jr.

The groomsmen and ushers will be announced later.

Miss Savony, an outstanding senior at Byrd High last year, is a freshman student at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute in Ruston, where she is pledged to Kappa Delta sorority. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Frank Lilley and the late Mr. Lilley and the late Mr. and Mrs. Jules Savony all of Shreveport.

Mr. Roddey, also a student at L. P. I. is a graduate of Neville High School in Monroe. He is a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity. Both plan to continue their studies following their marriage. His grandparents are Mrs. J. B. Roddey and the late Mr. Roddey and Mrs. Maud Sloan and the late Mr. Sloan, all of Monroe.

Announcement Tea

The approaching nuptials were announced to friends at a tea Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Jack L. Beckett in Shreveport.

Miss Sue Vinson opened the door to arriving guests and the hostess, honor guest and the two mothers, Mrs. Savony and Mrs. Roddy, stood to receive. Miss Savony was wearing a pale green crystalline dress designed on princess lines and with a tucked empire yoke. She wore pink slippers and a matching corsage.

Yellow and white roses decorated the reception rooms and, on the guest book table, a ceramic Cinderella carriage stated the theme of the occasion.

Guests were registered by Miss Glynda Ervin and Miss Mary Robinete and Mrs. John G. Caca, Jr. and Mrs. George Miller alternated with Mrs. Pat Ervin and Mrs. William Huckabay in serving punch and cake at the refreshment table in the dining room. Covered with a Madeira cloth, the table was centered with an artistic bouquet in yellow and white featuring iris. Candelabra burning yellow tapers flanked the arrangement.

SUMMER SKIING

TIMBERLINE LODGE, Ore. (AP)—Ski classes will be held at the 10,000-foot level on Mt. Hood this summer. Pepi Gabl, head of the Timberline Lodge ski school, said students would be taken up the mountain by snow tractor. A rope tow will be installed. The high altitude site was picked because that is the only place giving assurance of summer-long snow.

MRS. JOHN MARVIN SIPE, JR.

Sipe-Stephens Vows Pledged In Houston

Miss Margie Ann Stephens was married to John Marvin Sipe, Jr. Saturday evening in the Park Place Baptist Church in Houston, Texas. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Daniel Stephens and Dr. and Mrs. J. Marvin Sipe, both of Houston. The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. Joseph Stiles.

Antique ivory satin was chosen by the bride for her wedding gown, fashioned with long sleeves, a shelf portrait neckline and gathered skirt with a cathedral-length train. Her illusion veil fell from a pearl-embroidered tulle clothe. She carried white roses and an orchid.

Miss Janet Stephens was her sister's maid of honor. Mrs. R. G. Dunkin was matron of honor and Mrs. Clifford Payne, Miss Jane Mogan and Miss Pat Corrigan were bridesmaids.

Their ballerina-length gowns were styled in yellow crystalline and their heart-shaped bouquets were of yellow carnations. Karen Oglesby of Conroe was her cousins flower girl.

The best man was Edward Lee, groomsmen were Raylond Neal, Harold Sheffield, Jerry Dunkin, and Clifford Payne, and the ushers were Bob Wilson and Bill Webb.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Louise Goodwin, Mrs. W. E. Oglesby, Mrs. R. H. Wunsch of Monroe, Miss Joyce Carlton, Miss Judy Spears, Miss Jerry Marie Hart, Mrs. Dan Wagner, Miss Glenda Henderson, Mrs. J. P. Morgan, Miss Mary Payne and Miss Martha Payne.

Mrs. Sipe is the grand-daughter of Mr. D. W. Stephens of Wisner, and the niece of Mrs. R. H. Wunsch of Monroe.

After a trip to New Orleans the couple will live at 4301 Hull St., Houston, where both are Senior students at the University of Houston.

MRS. CHARLES SPENCER

Eloise Word Is Bride Of Charles Spencer

The Start Baptist Church was the setting Friday evening, April 20 for the marriage of Miss Eloise Word to Charles Spencer of Rayville. The Reverend James S. Deal performed the ceremony before relatives and a few close friends of the young couple. White iris and peonies decorated the altar. Miss Jane Alton of Monroe presented the nuptial music.

For her wedding, the bride wore a frock of ice blue faille with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Nell Word, who was dressed in pink faille and wore a corsage of white flowers.

A reception followed the ceremony in the home of Mr and Mrs. George Word. White flowers were used throughout the house and the bride's table, covered with a lace cloth, was centered with white daisies in a low crystal bowl. Mrs. Word was assisted in serving by Mrs. Robert Ross.

Swedish supper: your best meat balls (made miniature size) along with a casserole of scalloped potatoes and paper-thin slices of cucumber marinated in vinegar, sugar, salt and pepper. Apple pudding for dessert!

Miss Rich Weds Pvt. Odom In Home Ceremony

FARMERVILLE —Miss Delores Ann Rich, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Rich of Farmerville became the bride of Pvt. Max Odom of Alaska, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Odom also of Farmerville on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. Luther B. Hall pastor of the First Baptist Church officiated at the double ring ceremony in the home of the bride's parents, in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends.

Prior to the ceremony, Miss Harriett McMurrian rendered a melody of nupital music and also accompained Miss Billie Jean Roam, who sang "Always" and "Oh Promise Me."

Miss Anita Wilhite was the bride's only attendant and Mr. Ross Odom served as best man.

The vows were exchanged before an improvised altar. Easter lilies, spring flowers and burning white tapers were used as decorations throughout the home.

Immediately following the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip.

Out - of town guests were the grandparents, Mrs. M. O. Adkins of Homer and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Rich of Arcadia.

When you serve pineapple rings as part of a fruit salad, you may have the syrup left over. Add a tablespoon of soy sauce to it and boil gently in a small saucepan until reduced in quantity and serve with a slice of broiled cooked ham.

Wink-Eppinette Nuptials Are Pledged In Afternoon

The chapel of the First Baptist Church of West Monroe was the setting for the marriage of Miss Loretta Eppinette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Eppinette, and Mr. Julius Wink, son of Mrs. J. D. Wink and the late Mr. Wink of this city, at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, April 22.

The altar was decorated with branched candelabras holding tall white tapers and an arch covered with greenery. Baskets of white gladiolas were in the foreground.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Bob Oldenburg. He also accompanied Miss Sharon Thomisee who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The candles were lighted by Misses Faye Parker and Joan Gaster who wore blue sheath dresses of embroidered crystalite and wrist corsages of pink carnations.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Jimmy Eppinette, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Harrisonburg, a brother of the bride. Assisting him was Rev. Jaroy Weber.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a sheath model of white crystalite over cotton satin with a full back overskirt of white embroidered crystalite. She wore a cummerbund and long mitts which came to points over the hand. Her shoulder length veil of nylon tulle was held by a hat of white embroidered crystalite over taffeta. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and streamers of white satin and tuberoses.

Mrs. Robert Lowe of Winnsboro, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a sheath dress and cummerbund of pink crystalite over pink cotton satin. Her headdress was a small pink hat covered with lace medallions and rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses edged with pink.

J. D. Wink, Jr. served his brother as best man. Ushers were Eugene Eppinette, of Shreveport, brother of the bride, and Robert Lowe of Winnsboro.

Mrs. Eppinette chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of dusty rose with navy accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a beige lace dress with yellow and brown accessories. Her corsage was of yellow carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony in the banquet hall of the church. Arrangements of pink carnations and white gladiolas were placed at vantage points.

The reception table, overlaid in an ivory lace cloth over pink, was centered with an arrangement of white stock, calla lilies, pink roses and fern. Crystal candelabras held tall pink tapers. At one end of the table was the three - tiered wedding cake topped with a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses. The crystal punch bowl was placed at the other end.

Mrs. C. H. Wiltshire of Winnsboro, sister of the bride, presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. J. D. Wink, Jr. served the cake.

Mrs. Wink graduated from West Monroe High School and attended Northeast State College.

Mr. Wink graduated from Ouachita High School and Louisiana Tech in Ruston.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr and Mrs. Clay Harper of Alexandria, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Butler, Miss Shirley Butler and Mr. J. W. Thompson of Baskin, Eugene Eppinette, Mr. and Mrs. Glenwood Graham, Mrs. Rupert Pickett, and Mrs. Mary Ann Graham of Shreveport, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wiltshire, Misses Linda Faye and Evelyn Wiltshire, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lowe and Misses Ann and Connie Lowe of Winnsboro, Rev. Jimmy Eppinette of Harrisonburg.

Rehearsal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. James Eppinette and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lowe entertained the Wink-Eppinette wedding party with a rehearsal dinner at the Rendezvous Friday night, April 21, at 8:30.

The table was centered with an arrangement of pink carnations and fern with white tapers on each side. The bride and groom chose this time to present gifts to their wedding attendants.

She was presented a corsage of white daisies by the hostesses.

Those attending this dinner were Miss Loretta Eppinette, Mr. Julius Wink, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Eppinette, Mrs. J. D. Wink, Misses Faye Parker and Joan Gaster, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wink, Jr., Miss Sharon Thomisee, Mr. Bob Oldenburg, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wiltshire, Rev. and Mrs. Jaroy Weber, Rev. Jimmy Eppinette, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Parker and the hosts and hostesses.

Bono Nostrorum Club Meets In Archibald

The April meeting of the Bono Nostrorum Club was held in the home of Mrs. H. G. Tillman with Mrs. Maude Parham, co-hostess.

The president, Miss Watson, opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. W. C. McKay then led the group in giving the salute and pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Mrs. C. W. Jones, leader of the evening, spoke on the great efforts being made by some people on the behalf of peace.

Mrs. Jones introduced Miss Virgie Evans, principal speaker of the evening. Miss Evans gave a most interesting and informative review of the Life of Winston Churchill. Miss Evans told many amusing and little known facts about Churchill's life. She explained that those traits of character such as a driving ambition and forceful determination showed up very early in life.

The roll, called by Mrs. Tillman, showed thirteen members present for the meeting. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. A treasurer's report was then given by Mrs. Tillman.

Mrs. Ethel Murray gave a good report on the activities of the Teen Club which the Bono Nostrorum Club is helping to sponsor.

A list of the new officers and chairman for the next year was read by Mrs. Jones, incoming president.

The group voted to give an extra five dollars to the Red Cross, as the need was great due to the recent emergency in this section.

Mrs. F. C. Sheppard became a new member of the group by a unanimous vote.

The meeting was closed by all present repeating the collect.

HD Clubs Observe 11th Anniversary

When you ride through Ouachita parish this week, April 29-May 5, you will see exhibits, car stickers, newspaper publicity, TV programs and you will hear radio programs all concerned with the observance of the eleventh anniversary of National Home Demonstration week. The home demonstration club members in this parish, anxious to demonstrate the objectives and purposes of this observance so that people of the parish might know more about this significant program. Merchants, newspaper editors, farm directors of TV and radio programs are enthusiastically cooperating in helping club members to disseminate information about the various club activities this week in which many women of this parish are engaged. In addition to these activities the Ouachita women are putting on a sign-up campaign to increase the number of members in organized clubs. Any woman in Ouachita interested is invited to join a club. Home demonstration work is free. It is for all. The program is planned by the members to meet their needs and desires. The club presidents will meet May 1st to plan 1957's program. This parish has twenty-three clubs with an enrollment of more than 800 women.

Garden Tour Sponsored By 10 And 25 Year Club

More than a hundred home demonstration club members and friends of home demonstration were inspired by the garden tour last Tuesday. The tour was begun at the W. A. Calloway's home, which was an array of color with petunias, pansies, verbana, daisies, petunia, pansies, verbenia, daisies, iris and roses. Well, there were so many, many plants and so varied were their colors, on this deep spread of lawn making this landscape a perfect picture.

The second stop was made at Synope the plantation home of the Reynolds. This home was built more than 150 years ago. It reminds us of the culture of the people who established our beautiful state. The spacious grounds have formal and informal gardens with nature and rare plants. One of the most beautiful features was the patio at the rear entrance, where the group enjoyed the refreshments served by the gracious hostess. The group was hesitant to leave this beautiful plantation.

Although the hail storm had damaged the roses and not so many were in bloom, the group learned much about varieties and culture of roses at Mrs. V. H. Fausts'. Those in bloom were certainly outstanding specimens. The group drove through the spacious, lovely garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Stout, which is always interesting and inviting to their many friends.

Our next stop was at the home of Mr. L. L. Price, dean of home economics and agriculture of North east State College. The agent missed this garden, but the group reported seeing a beautiful terrace or patio. They also told about the aerial propagation he was doing with camellias.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Swift, the group saw many evidences of "Do-it-yourself". The walks, patio, and terraces were all made of brick. A second patio was in the process of construction, a new project of Mr. Swift's. The terrace near the bayou, with its barbecue fireplace and seats, was an outstanding feature of this garden. An espaliered pyracantha made the chimney another interesting feature at this home. The side entrance was draped with the Confederate Jasmine which was in full bloom. Hating to leave this restful, beautiful garden, but urged on by the pains of hunger, the group hastened to get to Dixie Acres club house at Sterlington where they were greeted by the Sterlington Home Demonstration club members. Tables which these members had made ready and decorated with flowers, were soon spread with the dishes of food brought by the tourists. Needless to say the entire group truly enjoyed this event. The group then visited four homes in Sterlington. The visit to the home of Mr. A. D. McCalip was convincing to the group that the fairer sex was not the only one who could make a home of beauty and in splendid taste.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Phillips, having purchased their home in December, had proved a beautiful landscape can be had in a few months. Large shrubs and trees had been transplanted, roses in bloom, walks laid, etc., until the ground seemed lived with. At the back of the house was a bed of strawberries with red-ripe fruit.

Two other gardens inspected were those of Mrs. L. B. Stall and Mrs. Floyd Dollar. At Mrs. Stall's we inspected a most inviting patio with a brick wall — a big fan, 3 inches or more in diameter, had been located here for summer comfort. Both yards were colorful with annuals, perennials and iris etc.

The 10 and 25 Home Demonstration club is to be congratulated for planning this wonderful tour for the home demonstration club women and the friends of home demonstration work. We are indebted to Mrs. J. S. Simms, Liberty club, and president of the 10 and 25, club, Mrs. Gertie Landrum, Logtown club, Mrs. C. R. Alexander, Sterlington, and Mrs. Billie Luton, Logtown club for planning the

Fishing Potentials Of Ouachita Are Studied By Commission Biologists

Biologist of District II of the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission are engaged in an extensive investigation of commercial and recreative fishing potentials on the Ouachita River system.

This program, under the direction of James T. Davis, District II fisheries biologist, involves studies of food preferences, necessary cover, extent of pollution, silt loads, the balance between species of fish, migration habits, reproduction, and ages and sizes of fish.

In an effort to arrive at food preferences of fish, biologists take samples of insects and small fish that are available both in the water and on the bottom. And in conjunction with these samples, they take stomach samples of fish and determine which of the available foods the fish are using most.

The study of available cover in the Ouachita River system involves analysis of the area available for spawning, hiding and feeding. This is directly correlated with studies of the amount of water in the river and nearby lakes that are connected with the river during high water seasons. These lakes furnish a reservoir to replenish the stocks of fish in the river which may be depleted with the advent of pollution or other harmful physical factors.

Chemistry, bottom samples and fish numbers are the primary tools in determining the extent of pollution on the Ouachita. By using these, it is possible to determine accurately the effects of immediate, and to some extent, long-term, pollution which may enter the river periodically or regularly.

According to fishery biologists, the silt-carrying capacity of any body of water is determined both by its current and the physical and chemical characteristics of the water. For the Ouachita system the silt load is determined by use of a turbidimeter, an instrument to measure the light penetration of the water.

For studies of the balance between species, migration habits, and size and growth, seining and tagging is a frequent activity of fishery biologists. Food fish seined are labelled with a small plastic tag that is attached behind the dorsal fin. The tagged fish is then released into the area where it was caught. Inedible fish, such as shad that are caught in seining are simply left outside the water to die. Tagging fish gives biologists information on the extent of movements through polluted areas and also enables them to trace migrations into connecting bodies of water.

To date District II personnel have tagged 2350 fish on the Ouachita system, these representing 19 different species. Of the number tagged, 73 have been captured by fishermen and 140 have been seined again by commission workers. The commission gives an award in the form of a fishing plug to each fisherman who returns a tag.

Potential reproduction of fish is extremely high and except for various factors that hold down populations streams would be crowded indeed. Pollution, overcrowded conditions, lack of food and cover, and adverse water conditions, such as floods and drouths, all combine to decrease the percentage of fish which grow to maturity. Some of the highest egg producers on record are a large-mouth bass that laid 109,314 eggs and a bream that laid 22,119 eggs in the same area. However, the average number of eggs laid by a bass is approximately 8,000 and the average for bluegill is about 5,000.

Although the objective of the Commission on the Ouachita is currently that of investigation, effective fish management and pollution control is the eventual goal.

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Averell Harriman expressed "regret" last night that the Eisenhower administration has not opposed British control of the island of Cyprus.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: I am a young man who has been raised in a Christian home. My father has been in an active ministry for many years. One of my brothers is a missionary. I have lived a clean life, and am thought of by many as being very religious. But I am troubled. I often have fears about whether or not I will join them in heaven. Do you know why I should have such fears? B. I. C.

ANSWER: I cannot answer for you, and say that you just should have no fear. Perhaps there is good reason for your fears. In your letter to me, you have not so much as mentioned whether you have personally trusted Christ. You mention no time when you took Him as Saviour and Lord. You cannot depend on your father and brother. They came to the time when they made a decision to receive Christ, and so must you. I would suggest that you no longer think of your family as a basis for your hope, and face the clear question for yourself. Have you been born again? Jesus said, "Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of heaven." I think that Nicodemus, to whom Jesus spoke, was just as surprised as you are. Nicodemus acted on this counsel, and you will find your peace when you do the same.

YMCA To Sponsor Family Pow Wow

The Twin Cities YMCA Indian Guide Longhouse will sponsor a family Pow Wow today from 3 to 5 p.m. in Forsythe Park.

All braves will be officially inducted into the YMCA Indian Guide movement and little braves will receive official YMCA Indian Guide pins.

Group games for the entire family will be held with prizes for the winners. Each tribe will have five minutes to introduce their Braves, tell a little concerning their tribal program and show any projects they have completed during the year. Each family is to bring its own picnic supper and the YMCA will furnish the drinks.

Chief "Running Deer" Chappell of Sherrouse No. 3 Seminole tribe, has been designated as coordinator for the pow wow. He has prepared the signs to identify each tribe's projects and will coordinate the entire program. Chief "Red Bear" Miles, chief of the Longhouse and the Barkdull Faulk-Lida Benton, Mohawk tribe, will be master of ceremonies and will conduct the induction ceremony.

Bible Words for Today

PSALMS 119:60—"I hasten and do not delay to keep thy commandments." (RSV)

This brief passage from the Psalmist indicates a sense of urgency in keeping the commandments of God. Such a sense of urgency should dominate all of life's major interests. There may be some situations which call for a delay in our decisions to determine whether we are making wise investments on our time, money and energies. There are times, however, which call for immediate decision and action. If I am standing in the path of an approaching automobile, I should not hesitate to leap to safety. In such cases to abandon the sense of urgency is to suffer heavy loss.

The acceptance of Christ's claim upon the individual calls for immediate action. No one should ever hesitate to do good or to accept golden opportunities for service. If we have any serious purpose in life for the future we must do something about it in the present. When we overlook this truth we suffer heavy loss to both our minds and our characters. Today is ours. Let us say with the Psalmist, "I hasten and do not delay to keep thy commandments."

The Rev. Alden A. Read,
Chaplain, U. S. Navy

MR. AND MRS. ERNEST EUGENE NEIGHBORS

Miss Caldwell Is Bride Of Mr. Neighbors

A candlelight ceremony at 2 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, April 15, united Miss Marjorie Lee Caldwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hopson of Crowville and Ernest Eugene Neighbors, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Ernest Neighbors of Bastrop. The Rev. C. Q. Smith performed the double ring nuptials.

White tapers in candelabras illuminated the altar which was decorated with bouquets of white carnations, while gladioli and fern. Pews were marked with white carnations and stock.

Miss Ann McDuffie of Crowville presented nuptial music at the organ and accompanied Ed Johnston who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing a semi-formal gown of Irish lace over taffeta with leg-of-mutton sleeves. She wore short lace gloves and carried a bouquet of orchids surrounded by small mums and white split carnations. Her veil of illusion was attached to a headdress of seed pearls.

Miss Doris Jean Knox of Monroe served the bride as maid of honor. Her dress was of light blue net over taffeta, worn with a headdress of white sweetheart roses. She carried a bouquet of blue split carnations with matching streamers.

Candlelighters were Miss Anna Bell Price and Miss Helen Spearman. Miss Price was attired in a yellow frock of net over taffeta and Miss Spearman's was of light blue. Both wore white gloves.

Little Miss Vickie Little of Bastrop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Little, Jr., was flower girl. Her dress was a pale pink organdy and taffeta complemented by a headdress of white split carnations. She carried a basket of white rose petals.

Billy Rogers of Monroe served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Danny Donnell and John Donnell, both of Crowville.

The bride's mother chose a rose Irish linen dress for the occasion. She wore white lace gloves and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Neighbors, the bridegroom's mother, was attired in a navy blue creation trimmed in white lace. Her accessories were navy and her corsage was of white carnations.

A Queen Anne's lace cloth was used on the bride's table which was centered with the wedding cake, surrounded by white mums and carnations interspersed with sweetheart roses. The cake was served by Miss Anna Bell Price. Presiding at the punch service was Miss Helen Spearman.

The bride attended Crowville High school and graduated from the Natchez High school in Natchez Miss.

Mr. Neighbors graduated from Bastrop High school.

Out - of - town guests at the wedding were Miss Carrie J. Haberyan, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Little, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Carter Cobb, all of Bastrop; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Exhibits will be judged at 11 a.m.

There will be a horticulture division and arrangement division.

MR. AND MRS. OWEN ROY PHILLIPS

Miss Fincher Is Bride Of Owen Phillips

Miss Billie Marie Fincher, daughter of Mrs. W. R. Ober and the late Mr. W. A. Fincher and Owen Roy Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Robert Phillips of Glenmora, were married recently at the Parkview Baptist Church.

The Rev. H. L. Sampson performed the double ring ceremony.

The couple pledged their vows before an ivy covered arch flanked by candelabras. White tapers were also used on the choir rail.

Mrs. W. W. Wilkerson was organist and accompanied Sherrod Towns of Natchitoches, who was the soloist.

The candles were lighted by Misses Donna Patricia Locke of Dallas, Tex., and Miss Linda Ruth Gonn of Glenmora.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, J. B. Fincher. Her floor-length gown was fashioned of satin and nylon net featuring rows of ruffles, a low neckline and full skirt. She wore a crown of seedpearls and a fingertip veil of illusion. Her bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by Easter lilies.

Miss Mona Gray Miller of Natchitoches was maid of honor. Her dress was made of royal nylon net over taffeta in a waltz-length. She carried Easter lilies and deep pink daisies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Jane New, Miss Faye Johnson, Miss Barbara Evans and Miss Louise Pons of Shreveport. Miss New and Miss Evans wore ice blue model and carried bouquets identical to the honor attendant's. Miss Johnson and Miss Pons' gowns were in a medium shade of blue.

Master Sonny Ober served as ringbearer. Ushers were James Byron McCain of Rosepine, James L. Gorre and E. M. Pringle of Glenmora and J. Cloyd Walker of Rayville.

Lace cloths covered the bride's table which was underlaid with pink. The tiered cake was embossed in pink and featured four columns. Arrangements of pink daisies and bridal wreath were also used on the table.

A member of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, the bride graduated from Neville High School and Northeastern State College at Natchitoches.

The bridegroom graduated from Glenmora High School and Northwestern State College in Natchitoches. He is a member of Phi Mu Alpha music fraternity.

Among the out-of-town relatives at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Mackey of Denton, Tex., Mrs. C. B. Locke and children, Donna and Larry of Dallas, Tex., Mrs. Burnis Martin of DeRidder.

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Maj. Gen. Stanislaw Tatar, commander-in-chief of the Polish underground during the German occupation, has been released from prison and exonerated Radio Warsaw said today.

PARIS (AP) — Italian President Giovanni Gronchi left Paris today after a four-day good-will visit. In a statement Gronchio pledged French-Italian unity and asked for greater European unity.

GAY STREETMAN, the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Streetman, Jr., was the 4th place winner in the State Beginners Baton Twirlers Contest held last week in Alexandria. She is the niece of Mrs. Emmett Otwell and Miss Carol May of this city.

Latin Neighbors Discussed By AAUW Members

Vice president, Mrs. Evelyn Otts, presided during the business meeting. Miss Carrie Dee Drew, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Maude Merritt Bentrup, chairman on International Relations, who in turn introduced the panel members; Mrs. Herbert Steed, who discussed our Latin American Neighbors"; Mrs. W. R. Hammond who told of "The Land and the People"; Mrs. Margaret Robinson, who analyzed "Foreign Relations Today."

Hostesses for the evening were Miss Carrie Dee Drew, Miss Frances Flanders, Miss Winona Probus, Mrs. Elmer Slagle, Mrs. W. W. Ward, and Mrs. J. P. Zoll.

Other members present and sharing in the pleasure and edification of the evening were: Mrs. Adelia Baylor, Miss Frances Barner, Mrs. P. L. Crowell, Miss Anne Gannaway, Miss Eleona Brinsmade, Mrs. James R. Catchings, Mrs. John E. Coon, Mrs. Gladys Jones, Mrs. Elizabeth Leake, Dr. Julia Hunter, Mrs. Mary Gunning, Mrs. Sara Hollingsworth, Miss Hazel Mitchell, Miss Bettie Oxford, Mrs. A. L. Tatum, Mrs. George Riser, Mrs. Ida Lee King Wilbert, Mrs. Addie Pearce, Miss Norma Stewart, Miss Jane Steed, Mrs. O. D. Brantley, Miss Ola Mae Pennington and Mrs. Hazel Owen.

Mrs. W. R. Hammond, 2001 Pargoud Boulevard, will be hostess of the May meeting, which is the last regular monthly meeting of the year. Everyone is urged to be present.

Guillot-Ingram Vows Pledged In Baptist Church

Miss Katheryn Marie Ingram, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ingram became the bride of Harvey Eugene Guillot, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Guillot of Winnsboro in an impressive double ring ceremony at 8 o'clock Thursday evening.

Sandy Lawn, pianist, accompanied Miss Billie Beeson, who sang "Oh Promise Me," "Because," and "The Lords' Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing a waltz-length gown fashioned of white net embroidered lace with a taffeta midriff. The bodice was fitted and featured small sleeves with a voluminous, gathered skirt. Her headdress was a halo of lace covered with seed pearls from which her veil of illusion fell. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and stephanotis.

Serving and assisting with the courtesies were Mrs. Wallace Jarrell, Mrs. P. C. Hendrix and Miss Laverne Bridges.

Mr. Guillot graduated from Fort Necessity High school and Northeast Louisiana State College.

Girl Scout News

Nobody could have had more fun than the 76 fourth-grade Brownies who attended the Brownie cookie day at Pine Wood on the 21st. We have s sneaking suspicion that the grownups had just as much fun. Just being out in the sunshine, where the telephone doesn't ring, is something.

The girls formed patrols with girls from other troops so that they could make new friends. Each patrol wore name tags of a different color for identification. The day's activities started with a flag ceremony in charge of Troop 62. A nature scavenger hunt came next, with the grey patrol coming in first, rose patrol second. Every patrol succeeded in finding all of the items on the list.

Before lunch many of the patrols walked to the river, while others visited the tent encampment of senior scouts who had spent the night in the tents on one part of the site. What seemed to impress the younger girls most was the clothesline, where articles were hung through loops instead of being fastened with clothespins.

Each patrol drew for a kaper, as camp duties are called, and had as much fun carrying it out as they did the activities that are "just for fun." One of the patrols set up the cooler of drinking water and kept it filled, another helped prepare lunch by scraping carrots, cutting pickles, and opening bread, other were hostesses to serve the dessert, wash dishes after lunch, empty papers in the incinerator, dispose of garbage and see that the grounds were left clean.

A firebuilding demonstration was followed by a firebuilding race, with each patrol choosing a representative to build their fire. On a given signal other members of the patrol scattered to bring wood to the chosen firebuilder. The first girl whose fire burned through a string fastened sixteen inches from the ground was winner. It turned out to be Sally Ann Portman of Troop 28, with Brenda Hensley, Troop 62, second. Sitting in the shade, the girls learned to whip the end of a rope and to tie a square knot. Lowering the flag with ceremony ended the full and happy day for these Brownie Scouts.

Pine Wood will be the site for the day camp for Ouachita Parish Scouts. Also, some parents have waited too late to register their daughters for day camp. Registrations have been closed, except for a few vacancies in the intermediate age group. All girls now applying will be put on a waiting list, Lucy Huckabee, chairman, says.

We hear that plans are underway for a day camp for the girls of Caldwell Parish this summer. It sounds good to us. By next summer there should be day camping available for all girls in the Silver Waters Council.

The two-week camp at Wawbansee still has vacancies, but it is a good idea to make a reservation soon, the camp committee advises.

J. Bart Reviews Recent Visit To State Of Israel

Jan Bart, tenor, humorist and raconteur who appears here for the Israel eighth anniversary celebration has much to say about that tiny state in the Middle East.

In an interview with a New York columnist, Eddie Zeliner, Bart, who had just returned from a trip to Israel had this to say:

"With driver and guide we set out to see this land of milk and honey. You cannot travel a half-mile without seeing a burst of activity.

"We covered the Galill in two days. Never before have my eyes beheld such natural beauty and splendor. As we circled Lake Kenereth (The Sea of Galilee) we could actually hear the winds repeat the countless songs we had heard about it.

"We traversed the mountains taking in every scene with breathless emotion and traveled down to Tiberias, where they took the fish out of the lake and broiled them before our eyes.

"We visited the Kibutzim along the way and learned many stories of heroism from the members. We were inspired by the cleanliness and efficiency of the way cooperative living can build a land and were greatly impressed by the health and vitality of the children of Israel," Bart said.

He said the soldiers, both men and women, were engaged in transfer or in actual work. The size of the Israel army is a military secret.

On the road to Jerusalem he saw the remnants of burned trucks of the convoys which never reached Jerusalem when that city was under siege.

"A feeling of hurt overcame me when I saw Mt. Scopus which is under Arabic rule, where stands the immense Hadassah Hospital, and the Hebrew University, serving no purpose and manned by U. N. soldiers while under dispute," Bart said.

On a trip to the Negev, he witnessed numerous factories busily engaged in taking out the riches and gold found in the chemicals extracted from the desert. "We were amazed that from this very sand, so neglected for centuries, now comes the fruit which will spell economic independence for Israel," according to Bart.

In a meeting with Prime Minister Ben Gurion arranged for the final day of his visit, Bart showed him a scroll of names of ones who purchased a bond for the privilege. With sincerity and humbleness, Bart said, the Prime Minister expressed his thanks.

"We visited London, Paris and Rome. All may know of those places. But only one who has actually seen Israel and the miracle it is making can tell the true story."

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

YES ☐ NO ☐ 4-28

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes, and Edgar S. Bley in his fascinating little book, "Have Fun With Your Son," gives 101 suggestions on how father and son can have fun together. Even though you aim to help him become skillful in games, practice lessons should be exciting right now—because children live in the present, not the future. If he gets the idea this is like an arithmetic drill, he'll drop Dad in favor of more congenial or exciting playmates.

Should lying in children be considered as serious as in grownups? Your opinion ——

2. It is seious, but needs coaching, not punishment. One research showed we learn "honestly" just as we learn the other rules of the game of life. Some children learn them easier, and some have better parents and teachers. A child is not responsible for lying, cheating, or stealing until he has learned what he ought to do, and has been coached in the habit. Children up to 7 or 8 have such vivid imaginations often they can't tell the difference between what they imagine and what is true.

Why do certain traits run in families? What determines whether your child will be a boy or girl? These and other questions discussed in Public Affairs Committee booklet, "Genetics — The Science of Heredity." For a copy, send 25c and your name and address to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, c-o your newspaper.

Who causes most trouble — wife's or husband's mother? Your opinion ——

3. A survey among students taking marriage courses showed that men students thought they could handle the wife's mother all right, but the women were more afraid they could not hit it off with the husband's mother. A research at the University of Chicago, by sociologists Burgess and Cottrell, found that more often the husband's mother causes trouble. She is often jealous lest her daughter-in law will not properly care for and feed her darling boy.

Flowers Noted On Eastern Trip

Wish I could tell you all about my trip but that's impossible, so here goes about the flowers. In Washington the cherry blossoms had just quit blooming, but the crab apples were gorgeous. There were literally hundreds planted around the Capitol buildings, both the flora bunda and hoppa varieties. Also, the soulangeana Magnolia was in full bloom. Of course they use more conifers there because the weather' is colder and that's where they grow best.

At Rockfellow Center in New York the yellow tulips and purple hyacinths were magnificent. There were literally thousands of Easter lilies. Of course they were in pots, buried in the ground and had been raised in a hot house. It's much too soon for lilies to be blooming that far North.

In New Jersey they use lots of forsythia and red flowering quince, along with conifers. There are several new shrubs whose acquaintance I'd like to have made, but there was nobody around to ask. Once I asked a cop the name of a lovely berried shrub and he very curtly said, "Lady, I'm a cop, not a garden club member."

In Our Own Gardens

As the Iris stop blooming that's a good time to divide and reset if they are too crowded. Your bearded iris need to be planted very shallow. Work some bone meal in the soil before planting.

The purple sage and cleome that bloom so profusely in summer and early fall can be transplanted now. Those gardeners who have these plants pass a few over the fence to your neighbors. Three or four plants of each will give you cut flowers for your house.

The white fly is really out in droves. Your oil emulsion will get this fellow as well as scale and red spider. Use according to instructions on the bottle. No more — please!

Along about May the verbena that has been so beautiful all spring, suddenly gets all "leggy" and sick looking. It usually has some mildew, too. Well, lets cut off those long runners. In fact you can shear the growth within two or three inches of the ground. Dust with sulphur when the plants are compietely dry. Fertilize with a sprinkling of 5-10-5 or 8-8-8. Very soon the plants will look like spring again.

If you want a long blooming season for your daisies, keep the blossoms cut. They'll stand a sprinkling of fertilizer about now, too. After your early blooming climbing roses have finished blooming, then is the time to prune. Cut out the oldest canes. instead of pulling on this long cane to get it loose, take the shears and chop it in small pieces. The pieces fall to the ground and there you are all pruned and no thorn scratches.

You can select and plant your hibiscus as soon as this cool spell is over. It is not too late to plant caladium bulbs. Coleus in its many colors is a nice foliage plant and lends color to the garden in summer.

If your rose buds dry up before they open, or if the blossoms become dry and discolored, you most likely have thrips. Five per cent DDT or malathion will control this pest. Spray entire plant and burn old blooms and buds.

Strawberries For Good Eating

Have you noticed that the strawberries are a better quality than usual? Fair price, too. The yield is larger than last year but not up to the five year average. Take a close look as you select berries. They should be dry and firm but not over-ripe. They should have green hulls attached to them. A solid red color in strawberries is desirable although some lighter color is not too objectionable. If berries in the bottom of the box are overripe and mushy, the box will be stained where the juice has colored it. Wash strawberries before you remove the caps to keep that valuable vitamin C. Handle carefully. One large serving of berries give you almost all the Vitamin C you need for the day.

A new variety of strawberry hailed as Louisiana's answer to competition from California berry growers, has been developed at the LSU Agriculture Experiment Station and should be ready for extensive planting next fall. The berries are sweeter, firmer and larger than the Klondike and Klonmore. I saw a picture of one of the plants that had buds, blossoms and fruit in various stages of maturity. Sponsors say when it comes to freezing the new berries prove more desirable than the old.

The most popular way to serve strawberries is in shortcake. Let's not overlook other delectable ways of serving this fruit. The French serve them with mild cream cheese which is softened with a little milk. Strawberries with cereal is a treat for the family.

This spring fruit is equally as good in salads. A bowl of lettuce, diced fresh pineapple and strawberries tossed with either a French or sour cream dressing, is as refreshing a luncheon dish as is possible to imagine. Strawberry and pineapple salad is another idea for the menu. Mashed fresh strawberries can be mixed with powdered sugar to make a delicious frosting. Add a little fresh lemon juice to cut the excessive sweetness of the sugar. Spread on a home-made or a bought sponge cake. Don't forget to garnish the cake with whole berries.

Announcements

Your "Open House" programs for next week are as follows: Monday, and Tuesday the agents from Morehouse Parish will make a slip cover; Wednesday, Mary Margaret will bring the three winning flower arrangements and Miss Winona Chauffe, State Garden Specialist will give us some gardening. Thursday, Alice Teddlie and her Home Demonstration women from Franklin Parish will show us how to make several useful articles for the home; Friday is Marketing Day with Mildred and Mammy and Mrs. Spielman and her home demonstration women will show you some of their fine home making projects. After all this is National Home Demonstration Week when women all over the world are saying "Todays Home Builds Tomorrow's World."

The Young Mens' Business Club of Lake Charles will stage the Third Invitational Deep Sea Rodeo at Lake Charles and Cameron, La., on May 5th and 6th, it has been announced.

Over one hundred United States, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Mississippi legislators are expected to be present for the stag fishing event which is annually presented to inform the public officials of important facilities at Lake Charles and on the matter for improvement in this area. The event will be preceded by a barbeque Saturday noon, May 5th, at the Port of Lake Charles and a shrimp boil in Cameron, La., that night.

The Lake Charles Harbor and Terminal District will be the host for the barbeque and Cameron Junior Chamber of Commerce will have the legislators as their guests at the shrimp boil.

Wholesalers have come forward to supply food, drink and incidentals to be served aboard the 20-boat "fleet," embarking from Cameron early Sunday morning, May 6th.

The Association of Commerce and industrial plants in this area are also participating in various arrangements made to entertain the large group headed by Senator Russell B. Long who is expected to attend.

The fishing boats are expected to come into the Cameron wharves at 4:00 p.m., Sunday, May 6th, when Joseph B. McIver, Jr., YMBC president, will make presentation of trophies to the winning individuals and to the boat whose crew has annexed the most points for fish caught.

Flower Show To Be Held Here Week Of May 8

Flower lovers in this part of the state are looking forward with a great deal of interest to the coming Fifth District Flower show to be staged at the Ouachita Valley Fair Grounds, May 8 through May 13.

The flower show, appropriately named "Flowers For Gracious Living" is to be an integral part of the Northeast Louisiana Home Show and Spring Festival. There will be a new show every day with all the federated and non-federated garden clubs in the district participating. Flowers have a way of adding that touch of individuality and beauty to the outside of our homes. There are many fine gardeners in this area and top quality horticulture specimens will be on exhibit each day. Flowers too have a way of adding to the charm and cheer of the interior of our homes. The schedule for the arrangement division takes you right through the home from the entrance hall to the kitchen with arrangements appropriate for each room. It will be most interesting to see each individual arranger's interpretation of the theme.

Mrs. E. B. Knotts, general chairman, has announced the following committees: Staging, Mrs. V. S. Garnett; Judges, Mrs. Norman Jardine; Awards, Mrs. D. F. Dennis; Entry and Classification, Dr. Katherine Foster; Assignments, Mrs. C. C. Lucky; Schedule, Mrs. C. T. Payne, Ferriday; Clerks, Mrs. R. T. Farr. The show will be open to the public from 6:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. each evening. Watch for further announcements.

Ground Observers Alert Scheduled In Ark-La-Tex

"Operation Ark-La-Tex.," a joint Air Force — Civil Defense skywatch exercise, is slated for an eight - hour alert today, according to Clay Johnson, Civil Defense administrator here.

Johnson said an observers' post atop the Frances hotel will serve as the local headquarters for coordinating the operation from this area through the Shreveport Air Defense Filter Center.

This is the first exercise for which three Civil Air Patrol Wings, Louisiana, Texas, and Arkansas, have coordinated to fly the specified routes over the ground observer posts.

About 2,815 Civil Defense volunteers will man the 127 ground observer posts throughout the Shreveport Center's area of responsibility and phone aircraft flash reports to the center, which is headed by Capt. Leon B. Patton, Air Force commander.

There will be more than 100 people at the Filter Center charting the information as it comes in, and they will work the exercise in four shifts, two hours each, according to W. O. Hoover, civilian administrator of the center.

A few of the volunteers who manned the center for the exercise in February will take part, and for 90 of the workers, this will be the first exercise.

In addition to the 44 CAP planes that will fly pre-determined flights, the observers will chart private, commercial, and military flights. "We certainly would not have scheduled our operation this Sunday if we had known of the other flying activities, but it will be even more of a practice than we had anticipated," Hoover said.

Other activities include the Barksdale Air Show, and the Naval Reserve Air unit's annual inspection.

Garden Center Notes

Dubach Garden Club Has All Blue Ribbon Show

An all blue ribbon flower show was presented at the Garden Center this week by members of the Dubach Garden club. All exhibits were point scored by an accredited judge.

Mrs. William Smith was awarded second place blue ribbon. Mrs. Smith designed a mass arrangement of blue Dutch iris in a square white bowl. Iris foliage was used in the background and the lavender shading into deep blue Dutch iris were skillfully placed, creating an attractive pattern.

Mrs. Dell Robinson and Mrs. Allie Ossenbeck combined talents in creating a most beautiful mass arrangement in red - violet shading into violet. Spikes of equisetum established the triangular pattern in the background. Red-violet stock followed the lines and violet verbena was massed low in the design. Small leaf ivy foliage was brought down the left side of the design and continued down to touch the rim of the container. A delightful color harmony.

Mrs. Herschel Colvin was awarded a blue ribbon for columbine. Mrs. Mack Henry was awarded blue ribbons for iris, variety Aldura, a blue and white plicata, and for Poetaz narcissi, variety Geranium.

We have just learned that Mrs. Esther Wheeler of Roslyn, N. Y., is teaching Flower Show School No. 1 in Toronto, Ontario. This is the first Flower Show School to be held in Canada. Mrs. Wheeler, who is well known in the south has been teaching and lecturing on flower arranging for the past fifteen years and has taught in many National Council Flower Show schools throughout the United States and the first Flower Show school in Mexico City last year. She has written more than 32 articles on the subject and has two chapters in the Rockwell and Grayson book, "The Complete Book of Flower Arrangement." Her last article on Design in Flower Arrangement appeared in the Brooklyn Botanic Garden's September issue. Mrs. Wheeler has also demonstrated flower arranging on television. Incidentally, Esther also served as a judge at the First and Eighth Louisiana State Flower shows. Congratulations to Mrs. Wheeler on another "first."

The flower show season is really in full swing — Gardeners in the Fifth district in addition to their own local shows are busy planning and preparing for the Fifth District Flower Show - May 8 through 13 at the Ouachita Valley Fair Grounds. The show will be held in conjunction with the Northeast Louisiana Home Show and Spring Festival. There will be a new show each day with all garden clubs in the area participating. Be sure and plan as many visits as possible as it promises to be most interesting. The theme, "Flowers for Gracious Living." Here are more dates to add to your calendar:

May 2 — Iris Garden Club flower show. "Television Interpretation" Delhi Country club, 4 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.

May 2 — Bastrop Garden Club Flower show — Morehouse Country club, "Flowers in Song." Time, 2:30 p.m.

May 3 — Farmerville Garden Club flower show — First Baptist church, education building. Theme: "Days of our Years 1839-1956." Time, 2:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Be sure to attend as many shows as you can and visit those iris gardens. They are lovely just now.

N. S. C. Announces Two Conferences

NATCHITOCHES, April 28 — (Special) — Another "weekend to top all weekends" is coming to Northwestern State College this Friday and Saturday.

Two statewide conferences, plus a state high school track rally, not to mention a college track meet on Saturday night, are on the schedule for these two days.

Beginning on Friday afternoon, high school athletes from Class AA schools will begin competition for championship honors, with the meet slated to last for two days.

Saturday will be the really big day. That morning, beginning at 9 a.m., visitors and participants from throughout the state will begin registering for the Louisiana Art Conference and Festival, arranged this year for the first time at NSC by Orville Hanchey, head of the Northwestern art department.

Meanwhile, students from various industrial education classes from all over the state will come to enter in Northwestern's sixth annual Craftsman's Fair, being sponsored by the NSC Industrial Education department, headed by Dr. Walter Robinson.

CHEERLEADERS

OAK GORVE, April 28 (Special) — The student body at Oak Grove High school elected cheerleaders recently for 1956-57. Students elected were Mary Alice Thomas, Myrna Mosely, Jerry Morris, Lavenda McPherson, Lawanda McPherson and Linda Rountree.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Lace Bugs Feed On Azalea Leaves

There is hardly a garden or yard in the south where you will not find azaleas and pyracanthas eaten up with lace bugs. While these little insects do not kill the shrubs, they certainly do leave both pyracanthas and azaleas in a messy condition. The foliage is scarred and half eaten, and some of it is so badly damaged that it turns yellow and drops off right in the growing season.

Lace bugs feed on azalea and pyracantha leaves from the undersides. The holes they eat under there show through like little windows on the top. Excretions from the bugs are little sticky black masses. It is hard to see how anything no bigger than ⅛ inch long and one-sixteenth inch wide could so completely disfigure the leaves of any plant. These little bugs have lacy wings with brown and black markings. They make the foliage they feed on look greyish, and, if you do not get rid of these bugs right away now, your azalea and pyracantha foliage is apt to look this way when fall comes around. They you will have to look at sickly foliage on evergreen azaleas till the new foliage comes next spring.

Lace bugs hatch out in early spring and keep going, generation after generation till cold weather. They are the guinea pigs of the bug world. The only way to control them is to spray right away now and again at the end of May and at the end of September. Use either nicotine sulfate ('Bpalck Leaf 40") with soap in it to make it stick to the leaves. Lindane is often used against lace bug, too, and so is Volck with nicotine-sulfate. All these chemicals are stomach poisons for the insects. Since lace bugs eat from the undersides of the leaves, it is a bit difficult to spray against them. Be sure that you direct the spray upwards and against the bottom of the foliage instead of downwards from above like rain. These sprays with nicotine in them will also destroy thrips on azaleas if they are attacking your plants.

The other pest that makes the foliage of azaleas look grey is red spider. You can easily distinguish between red spider damage and lace bug damage because the red spiders etch the leaves with such tiny scars that you can hardly see each one separately. Lace bug damage is easily visible. Hot weather and drought are what red spider likes. It is well to spray azaleas with a hard fine spray once a week in very hot dry weather. This is as good as using DDT if you will keep it up.

Evening supper for the gang: make-your-own sandwiches of salami and ham slices, cheese, tomatoes, onion rings.

Sunday Highlights

Susie (Ann Sothern) and her boss, Peter Sands lose control of a literary masterpiece when, to avoid reading a script by an amateur playwright, they assign the task to Vi, the switchboard operator in "Passing the Buck," on Private Secretary. John Nesbitt tells a dramatic story of a U-boat capture by a U. S. Navy boarding party on Telephone Time. Kate Smith marks her 25th anniversary in show business on the Ed Sullivan Show. Eve Arden will sub as master of ceremonies. Joseph Cotton plays the starring role in a tense drama of World War II in "H. M. S. Marlborough" on the General Electric Theater. As a result of unprecedented interest in, and requests for a repeat showing, "Out of Darkness," CBS Public Affairs' widely-acclaimed actuality drama which probes deeply into the world of mental patients and mental hospitals will be rebroadcast at 4 o'clock on the CBS network. Adventure will explore the world of deafness. Let's Take a Trip will visit the famous Karamu Theater, a unique cultural center where people, young and old, from all walks of life, come together to work and play. This Is The Answer — Despite promises to daughter, Bob Turner is unable to overcome craving for alcohol until helped by friends with a solution which might aid all alcoholics.

Stand Up and Be Counted, a new kind of panel show that will attempt solving viewers' problems will debut Monday, May 28. It will replace the Jack Paar show.

If Martha Raye does a regular spot for NBC next season, it is expected to be a situation comedy affair.

They'll be off and running at the Kentucky Derby for CBS on May 5. From 5:15 to 5:45 p.m.

Steve Allen will head up a new attempt NBC will make to undermine Ed Sullivan's dominance in the 8-to-9 p.m. Sunday spot for CBS. This means that the busy Allen will have to drop out of the five-a-week "Tonight" marathon he's been doing for two years a couple of nights each week.

BRADFORD SMITH

Yankees in Paradise: The New England Impact on Hawaii. By Bradford Smith. Lippincott.

In 1820 a band of New Englanders landed in Hawaii. They bore familiar, established names: Ruggles, Bingham, Thurston, Holman, Loomis, Whitney, Chamberlain. A band of New Englanders heading there today would aim for Waikiki, hula, lei, and girls with little on above or below their middles. But these pioneers were missionaries, and for all they knew they were risking their lives to take the word of God, the advantages of civilization, and the benefits of medicine and learning to cannibalistic heathen.

This is the story of their first three decades — one of the first Hawaiian women to wear a trimmed straw bonnet, the first mission burial, the first native queen to settle for one and only one husband.

It's the story, mainly, of very honest but very prim, devout and puritanical New Englanders venturing into a land where a handkerchief was enough to dress a man or woman, where sex with no holds barred was thought to be fun, where the closer the incestuous ties the nobler the offspring, where the dead were buried with extravagant orgies. For a time it might have been asked, who was going to convert whom, for some of the new arrivals were not so staid as their calling required. There was trouble with Catholics, with the French and the English, with visiting shiploads of sailors who had been used to wild times in Hawaii; and indeed with American traders who fought churchly interference with their pleasures and profits. It has been the fashion to blame missionaries, but Smith has generous praise for them.

Puritan meets Pagan — that is a wonderful topic. It suggests all sorts of spicy and dramatic ideas, and Smith makes the most of them.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Food Fallacies Cause Failure In Reducing

Many women cut down on their food intake in dramatic ways in order to lose weight but become discouraged and fail because of food fallacies they believe. Today I want to talk about a few of them.

This is the sixth day of my 9-Day Reducing Diet. Women all over the country must be experiencing that wonderful feeling which comes with diminishing pounds. Keep up the good work for another three days!

I want to talk about some of the mistaken ideas women have about reducing in order to help you in planning your meals from here on if you had more than five to 10 pounds to lose.

First, let us think about potatoes. About the first thing reduce is to cut out potatoes. Howwomen do when they decide to ever, a medium Irish potato, baked or boiled, has only about 90 calories and is a splendid food, nutritionwise. It is the way it is cooked, or the butter you use on it, which zooms the calorie count.

For instance, eight two-inch french fried potatoes give you about 160 calories, one-fourth cup of potato salad 100 calories, and one-half cup of creamed potatoes about 100.

The potato is nutritious and also delicious with salt and pepper and just a dot of butter. The sweet potato is higher in calorie count (185 calories) and while excellent food, had better be left off the reducing diet.

Bread is another food which is avoided by the reducing woman, and well she may, if she is thinking of hot breads or pancakes or waffles or such.

However, a slice of whole wheat bread gives you 75 calories and protein bread and Melba toast are much lower. You need some bread and cereal on the long term reducing diet. Most of the dry cereals give you 100 calories a cup while the cooked cereals run about 100 calories for three-fourths cup. Naturally you should use milk instead of cream, and should not go haywire with sugar.

There are many more fallacies which I do not have space to discuss today. Just remember to leave off the in-between snacks and the "trimmings," take smaller portions and no seconds, and boil, bake or broil, rather than fry.

If you have missed some of my 9-Day Diet menus, which will bring you a loss of from five to 10 pounds, or would like to have the complete diet in a convenient booklet send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Record Review

Popular Records

Tom Seymour is like many fathers who live in a big city. Come summer, he packs up his family and takes off for the country.

So last summer songwriter Tom left behind his record shop worries in Chicago and hurried with his two sons and two daughters to the wide open spaces of Michigan to relax and admire Mother Nature.

"One evening I was walking with my daughter and we were looking at the sky," Tom said. "It was really something to behold. No clouds, countless stars, and on seeing this great wonder, it left me speechless and I turned to my daughter and all I could say was, 'How can you not believe?'

"At that moment, we felt wonderful because in our hearts we felt and believed."

Back in Chicago and eighth months later, Seymour thought about the star-gazing incident and the spontaneous remark to his daughter. It took him less than half an hour to sit down and write a song.

It's called "How Can You Not Believe?" and was recorded a few weeks ago by the Gayden Sisters for the new but ambitious Bally Records.

On first listening this song reminds the listener of the Jane Froman hit of a few seasons ago, "I Believe." But on replaying it the listener forgets the suggestion of similarity and hears a new song of faith that should be in everyone's home, regardless of creed.

Tops in pops: "What a Heavenly Night for Love" by Pat Kirby (Decca), "The Nearness of You" by Robert Maxwell (M-G-M) "To Love Again" by Vic Damone with Percy Faith (Columbia), "Cherry Lips" by the Four Coins (Epic) and "Music Drives Me Crazy" by Patty Andrews (Capitol.)

Show time: "My Fair Lady," musical version of Shaw's "Pygmalion," is Broadway's newest sensation. Music with the original cast is now available on a Columbia LP. It's a fast-moving show and one of the numbers, "I could have Danced All Night," already is a hit.

Dorothy Kirsten, Famous Soprano, To Perform Here

Dorothy Kirsten, glamorous American soprano, is the final presentation of the 1955-56 season of Monroe's Twin City Concerts. The charming star of the Metropolitan Opera, Hollywood, as well as radio and television is to appear in a joint recital with tenor, Jim Hawthorne, Monday, May 7, at 8:15 p.m. at Neville Auditorium.

In reference to the event, Mrs. Freeda Anderson, membership chairman of Twin City Concerts remarked: "I wish to remind all of our friends and prospective members of the offer in connection with the Kirsten - Hawthorne concert. A limited number of those purchasing their 1956-57 memberships during the coming week will be admitted to this attraction as well as to all of next season's concerts."

Already announced for the 1956-57 season is the renowned Boston Pops Orchestra with Arthur Fiedler conducting.

Mr. Max Kulcke, one of the Twin City Concerts vice-presidents, cited the array of internationally known artists who have appeared in Monroe due to the efforts of this organization. "We have heard Lily Pons, James Melton, and Igor Gorin perform just as well here in Neville Auditorium as they have in Carnegie Hall. And let me tell you, Neville is a better concert hall, too."

Opening lead: Jack of hearts.

The astute player will try to avoid placing all his eggs in one basket and remain alert to any additional chance for the fulfilment of his contract, however remote such chance may be.

The slam contract in diamonds was reasonable enough. South was content with a simple free bid on the first round, but when North made a free rebid of three clubs, he swung into action with a jump bid of his own. North now showed the ace of hearts and South showed the spade control. After North's belated diamond support, South made a justifiable slam bid.

West opened the jack of hearts, which was taken in dummy with the ace. To declarer it appeared that there was nothing to it but the club finesse; so he extracted trumps and made his try. When East took the king he cashed the setting trick in hearts. Whereupon North and South commiserated with each other, agreeing that the contract was a sound one and had been reached on a delicate sequence of bids but unfortunately went down on a 50-50 chance.

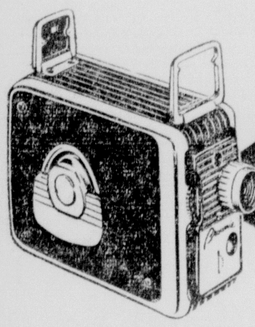

Lost in the atmosphere of good fellowship was the awareness that the contract could have been brought home had the declarer availed himself of an additional chance to win the hand instead of relying entirely on the club finesse.

If the spade honors are favorably located, declarer may set up a discard without giving up the opportunity to take the club finesse later. Upon winning the ace of hearts, he plays to the ace of spades. He then leads one of the high diamonds (retaining the four) and overtakes with the king. Fortunately, the six falls on the trick, establishing the five of trumps as an entry. A low spade is ruffed by declarer, and by this time East has contributed the jack and ten of spades. Dummy is reentered by leading the four of diamonds to the five, and then comes the nine of spades. East shows out, but declarer concedes the trick to West, discarding the losing heart. When the king of spades is driven out South has a parking place for the low club and need not be subjected to the hazard of a finesse.

Hollywood

Joan Fontaine

HOLLYWOOD, April 29 —When Hollywood stars go to Europe, they usually spend more money for excess luggage than they do for their transportation. Glamorous trappings and trimmings are their first consideration. They seem bent on proving to the whole world that they are STARS — in capital letters!

Joan Fontaine is the exception that proves this rule. She's every inch the glamour girl. When the occasion demands it, she can outglitter the most dazzling diamond-studded star in the Hollywood diadem — but on her trip to Europe this summer, she's traveling light.

It isn't easy to sit in a gorgeous blonde's dressing-room and accept the following statement: Quote: We're going to rough it. I'm taking some cotton dresses, blue jeans and a couple of old sweaters. I'm not packing even one informal gown! Unquote. That's what the lady said. It took me a little while to be convinced, but on second thought, I believe her.

We were chatting between takes of "Beyond a Reasonable Doubt," at RKO Studios. This is a movie which states the fallacy of circumstantial evidence and poses the old question about capital punishment. Dana Andrews is the male star.

I asked Joan how she felt about capital punishment.

"Let's talk about my trip to Europe first," she said. "I like to think of happy things once I get away from the camera. I'm enjoying this picture, but I'm getting sick of drama. I'd like to do a comedy next. It's got nothing to do with my career. It's because I've never been so happy in my whole life as I am now. Collier (her husband Collier Young) and the children and I are having such fun together, I feel as if it must show on me. I have to force myself to submerge my inner happiness, while I'm working on a dramatic picture. And being happy is such a great feeling, I hate to give it a detour even for a minute!

Miss Fontaine glows when she talks about her family and her family life. And she places the reason for the glowing, upon her successful marriage to Collier Young and the fun she is having with their two children, Debbie aged seven and Martita, aged ten, whom they adopted. To look at her, you'd think Joan couldn't successfully boil water. To listen to her, you discover that for all her fragile-seeming helplessness she's a good cook!

One of the big projects going on in the Collier Young home at the moment, is a cooking class in which Debbie and Martita are being taught by mama that cooking is just as much a creative art form as acting or painting or dancing. What's more, they farm their own vegetable garden, because according to Miss Fontaine, "too many kids nowadays think that everything grows in supermarkets. I want my kids to know the facts of life — from the ground up!"

In line with this dynamic approach to child-training, Joan and her husband took the children to see "The Man With the Golden Arm" which deals with drug addiction.

"They didn't understand the whole picture," says Joan, "but I think they learned a lesson they'll never forget. They learned the difference between right and wong! I admit the picture is pretty strong stuff — but then, drug trafficking among innocent children is a brutal fact. I believe in having my kids face the facts."

"That brings us around to a legal discussion," I said. "Do you want to talk about capital punishment now?"

With a laugh she replied, "all-right — I'll talk about the trip later. We'll save the best for last." Her face grew serious and she went on: "I don't think I could ever sit on a jury and demand a life for a life. . .But there's one thing I am positively certain of. I wouldn't hesitate for a second to demand the death sentence for drug peddlers. That's how the law should read. They are the most dangerous criminals in our society today — because they start their destruction among children. . ."

"I want to know!" his wife said . . . "will you always belong to Maria . . . to the war child she bore you? Do you catch yourself wishing for her when you're making love to me?" This is an important scene from the best seller "Man In The Gray Flannel Suit" opening today at the Paramount Theater starring Gregory Peck, Jennifer Jones and Fredric March in CinemaScope and color delux.

'Man In The Gray Flannel Suit' Opens Here Today

Darryl F. Zanuck's personal production of "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit," Twentieth Century-Fox's CinemaScope screen version of Sloan Wilson's best-selling novel, will have its local premiere today at the Paramount Theatre.

A distinguished cast, headed by Gregory Peck, Jennifer Jones, winner of the nation-wide Audience Award, the National Critics Poll and more recently, the Photoplay Gold Medal as the most popular actress of 1955, and Fredric March twice an Oscar winner, bring this popular novel to life on the CinemaScope screen in color by De Luxe. Other members of the cast, which numbers 38 players, include Marisa Pavan. Lee J. Cobb, Ann Harding, Keenan Wynn and Gene Lockhart.

The man in the gray flannel suit, who changed to civvies from the olive drab uniform of World War II, is a fairly universal figure in America today and it is the wide appeal of a story of such a man that prompted Mr. Zanuck to pay a fabulous price for the book when it was first published. It has been on the best-seller list ever since and has received both critical and popular acclaim. In translating the story to the screen Mr. Zanuck used every resource of the Twentieth Century-Fox production organization to capture the emotional impact of Tom Rath's struggle with his conscience, his exploits in the war, and his efforts to rise in the business world.

Gregory Peck plays the role of Tom and Jennifer Jones is his wife Betsy in the story. They married when he was twenty-one and shortly after he went to war. As a paratrooper he killed seventeen men. He had an affair with an Italian girl in Rome which later disturbed his life with Betsy and made them question whether their life has been really what they wanted. Fredric March is the tycoon of the Broadcasting industry, who gives Tom a $10,000 a year job in return for white-collar slavery. Marisa Pavan plays the winsome Italian girl who is introduced to Peck by Keenan Wynn, an Italian-American G.I. buddy of Peck's. Ann Harding and Gigi Perreau appears as the neglected wife and daughter of the dynamic March.

Nunnally Johnson wrote the screen play for "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit" and also directed it. Charles G. Clarke, ASC. was the director of photography, with color by De Luxe.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By FLETA D. LATHAM

Usually, we give you a rundown on the play and follow it up with the cast that is selected. However, "The Rainmaker" was cast so quickly that we reversed things and haven't talked of much except the excellent choices Ivan Uttal made to portray the characters in this romantic comedy. But it's time to tell you something about the play. The following is the synopsis which appears in the script for "The Rainmaker."

"At the time of a paralyzing drought in the West, we discover a girl whose father and two brothers are worried as much about her becoming an old maid as they are about their dying cattle. For the truth is, she is indeed a plain girl. The brothers try every possible scheme to marry her off, but without success. Nor is there any sign of relief from the dry heat. When suddenly, from out of nowhere, appears a picaresque character with a mellifluous tongue and the most grandiose notions a man could imagine. He is a rainmaker and he promises to bring rain for $100.

It's a whacky idea, but the rainmaker is so refreshing and ingratiating that the family finally consent. Forthwith they begin banging on big brass drums to rattle the sky while the rainmaker turns his magic on the girl and persuades her that she has a very real beauty of her own. And she believes it, just as her father believes the fellow can actually bring rain. And . . ."

So you think we ended that rather abruptly? And so we did. But it wouldn't be any fun for you to see the play if you knew the ending. So, you'll just have to wait until "The Rainmaker" opens at the playhouse to find out how everything turns out.

Random notes: The set for "The Rainmaker" is rapidly taking shape. We wonder if you'll recognize the backdrop used. You should —it was also used in "She Stoops to Conquer". Once in awhile the things that are saved from show to show come in real handy. . .

Ivan Uttal has his summer plans mapped out. He will be in Quincy, Illinois directing shows for the summer season of the Quincy Community Theatre. We think they are real smart to have selected our talented director to do their shows.

We may sound like a broken record but we keep reminding you to get your Little Theatre membership now because we'd hate for you to miss the shows which will be presented next season. . .

And with that important reminder, we'll pull the curtain.

BEAUTY AND THE ROBOT—Anne Francis, as the inhabitant of a remote planet in 2200, A. D., has the advantage of being waited on by a remarkable all-seeing, all-knowing robot in "Forbidden Planet." Walter Pidgeon and Leslie Nielson co-star in the M-G-M science-fiction thriller, filmed in CinemaScope and color, opens today at the Jim.

'Forbidden Planet' Opens Today At Jim Theatre

Aspects of life on a planet in the year 2200, A. D., are unfolded on the . . . screen in "Forbidden Planet," with Walter Pidgeon and Anne Francis playing the father and daughter who dwell in a realm of tomorrow's wonders as fantastic as any ever dreamed up by the writers of today's popular science-fiction dramas.

The picture marks M-G-M's "maiden flight" into outer space, and the studio went all-out in giving its story of a space cruiser, sent from earth to rescue Pidgeon and Miss Francis, a breathtaking background of marvels and the eerie atmosphere of the mysterious forces of the future.

The employment of CinemaScope and color reaches new heights in depicting the strange settings and vistas of planetary existence, and audiences will be goggle-eyed as they view the remarkable exteriors and interiors of the space ship, Pidgeon's futuristic dwelling, and an electronics laboratory which contains the secrets of the planet's former inhabitants.

They will also envy the super-efficient housekeeping arrangements supervised by "Robby," a giant robot capable of driving a jeep (2200 style), cooking synthetic dinners, and even able to whip up Miss Francis' dresses at a moment's notice. He represents the definitive answer to the servant problem.

Combining imagination, humor and thrills, the plot of "Forbidden Planet" revolves around Pidgeon in the role of Professor Morbius who, while marooned on the planet, has succeeded in decoding the startling secrets of its now extinct peoples, but who is reluctant to share his knowledge with earthly mankind. The situation becomes even more complicated when his daughter, Altaira, falls in love with Commander Adams, captain of the rescuing space cruiser. Matters are brought to a head when several members of the crew are mysteriously disembodied, and the story rises to a spine-chilling climax when an unknown and unseen terror, impervious to man-made weapons, threatens to destroy all.

Pidgeon gives a persuasive performance in the role of Morbius and Anne Francis is delightful as the attractive daughter who is new to the ways of earthly males. They even have to teach her how to kiss! M-G-M's handsome new star, Leslie Nielsen, makes an able space ship commander, with Warren Stevens, Jack Kelly, Richard Anderson and Earl Holliman as members of the ship's crew.

Authority Warns Against Needless Worry, Fretting

(This is one of a series of articles written by George S. Stevenson, M. D., medical consultant for the National Association for Mental Health. Dr. Stevenson is a widely recognized authority on mental health)

Do you worry about things that happened to you a long time ago? Do you worry about things that might happen next year?

All of us have worries. Some worries have a real basis. But lots of us are worried and fearful when there is absolutely no good reason for it. We worry about mistakes we have made ten years ago about which we can do nothing, or trouble that may occur year after next, or day after tomorrow.

If, by thinking about a past mistake, we can learn something for the future—fine; a certain amount of planning ahead is good too. But worrying about the past or future—letting it spoil the present—is quite a different matter.

Worry is really fear. A certain amount of fear is normal and good; it keeps you from walking in front of moving cars, from burning your fingers on a hot stove, from any number of things that jeopardize your health or life. But fear that does not strive for a solution, that goes round and round in unproductive circles, is unhealthy and interferes with the satisfactions and joys of living.

When you have worries, it's a good idea to try to bring them out into the open, talk them over with a level-headed person, and do something about them if you can. Of course, this is easier said than done. For some people it is more difficult than it is for others. But if you are able to examine your worries and bring them out into the open, you may find that, like phantoms, they disappear in the light of day.

You may enjoy reading a little leaflet, with entertaining pictures, that exposes some of the ghosts and phantoms which are our unrealistic fears. It is published by the National Association for Mental Health and is called "Are You Living In A Haunted House?" It can be obtained by writing the Northeast Branch of the Louisiana Association for Mental Health, Monroe, La.

Sterlington Lodge Slates Ceremony

Sterlington Lodge Number 420, Free and Accepted Masons, will celebrate a Quarter Century as a Chartered Lodge, with a meeting in the A. L. Smith School auditorium at 7:30 p.m., May 5.

D. Allen Long of Opelousas, Grand Master of Masons of Louisiana, will make the principal address. Music will be presented by members of the Northeast Louisiana State College chorus.

Sterlington Lodge was instituted February 21, 1930 under dispensation from Grand Master Leon S. Haas. There being no Lodge building in Sterlington, meetings were held in Louisiana Power and Light Company's community center.

At the expiration of the dispensation, the members of the Lodge U. D. applied to the Grand Lodge for a Charter as a permanent Lodge. The Charter was voted in Grand Lodge in February 1931, and was delivered by Grand Master E. E. Sykes at a Special Communication of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana held in Sterlington June 15, 1931.

Sterlington Lodge, starting with 27 members when the charter was granted, now has 178 members and is one of the most active Masonic Lodges in North Louisiana.

Fund Started For Randy Winfrey, 2, Victim Of Cancer

Rev. A. T. Mitchell, pastor of Ridge Avenue Baptist church, said that a special fund, the "Randy Fund," had been established at the Ouachita National Bank in West Monroe in behalf of two-year-old Randy Winfrey, a victim of cancer.

Ridge Avenue church started a fund for the two year old child in order to give aid to the family who is staying with the small boy in Houston, Tex.

Randy Winfrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Winfrey, 3205 North Eighth Street, West Monroe, has a type of cancer for which there is no known cure. Local doctors here, after informing the parents that the case was hopeless, recommended the M. D. Anderson Hospital for Cancer Research in Houston in hopes that a more complete diagnosis by cancer specialists might reveal additional information.

Reports from Houston Saturday revealed that the child had shown no progressive signs.

Randy was stricken on Easter Sunday. His mother said that the child was running a high fever. "I thought he was cutting teeth and the situation did not alarm me too much," she said.

When the two - year - old continued to cry and run high fever the parents took him to a local baby doctor. His case was diagnosed as cancer.

Both parents said that not knowing at what time the cancer will take its tolling effect they felt that each ought to be at his bedside.

The Winfrey's are in financial straits due to the child's illness.

Rev. Mitchell said that Ridge Avenue church had organized the fund in order to give financial aid to the family. "When a family has a little one who is stricken by an incurable disease there is not enough that any church or individual can do to render them aid at such a trying time," Rev. Mitchell said.

Rev. Mitchell said that Mrs. Harry Carpenter, phone 2-4535, and Mrs. Charles Teddlie, phone 3-6713, could also be contacted concerning the matter.

Dewitt Henry's Mother Succumbs

Mrs. J. Wood Henry, of Pine Bluff, Ark., died at her home there Saturday morning, according to word received by relatives here yesterday.

She was the mother of DeWitt Henry, who is affiliated with the Ouachita Citizen in West Monroe.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at Pine Bluff.

A TRIBUTE TO OUR NURSES

The spirit of Florence Nightingale lives on today in countless homes and hospitals throughout this community. Working long hours, faithful and efficient, the nurse exemplifies the finest qualities of modern womanhood. What a blessed comfort it is to know that she, in her immaculate, starched uniform and cap, is instantly at your bedside at the touch of a button. Her happy smile and air of authority bring renewed confidence and hope to the most discouraged of patients. She is a practitioner of love and indispensable to the medical fraternity!

SOFT BACK FULLNESS—PATTERN OF A McMULLEN ORIGINAL

PATTERN A 882 by McMullen

PROMINENT DESIGNER—Behind the scenes of summer's prettiest fashions — that's where the news most often appears! In this case, a clever blousing of fabric on this McMullen Original, that sets it apart from its classic cotton sisters. The soft look is a well-known signature of McMullen fashions — infinitely wearable styles for America's smartly dressed women. In Pattern A882—a soft treatment is given to the graceful front view as well; displayed by a bow-draped neckline, easy-flowing skirt. Ideal for the cool, sheer cottons of summer (voile, gingham, lawn) with petticoat beneath. Ideal for the woman who wants to sew the newest, most flattering silhouette!

Pattern A882 is available in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16 requires 5⅝ yards 35-inch fabric.

Send fifty cents (in coins) for Pattern A882 to Morning World, Pattern Department, P. O. Box 59, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N. Y. Please print plainly your name, address with zone, style number and size.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

A FUNNY NAME FOR A FLOWER

"Queen Anne's Lace"

Even the real queen's lace could hardly have been prettier than that on this wild flower.

It flourishes all over the United States and Canada during the warmer months, growing from one to three feet tall. The little fine-petaled white flowers have tiny touches of green here and there, and there is a dark spot in the center that is a small purple flower.

Suggested by the name of the flower is the picture in the background that shows a little girl hanging out some white lace against a bright blue sky. The yellow clothes basket at her feet has a pink cloth on top.

You will see many wild flowers this summer if you look for them, just as the Pilgrim children found them in their first spring in America. Let's all be friends of the wild flowers by helping to keep them alive and growing.

Now you can collect all the pictures and make a scrapbook of your wild flowers.

(Marcia Anderson, Richmond, Va., suggested this idea first and she gets Junior Editors' $10 award. If you have an idea we can use, send it in care of this newspaper and perhaps you will get an award too. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures) 4-28

LOOK! SAFETY BELTS for your car-at less than ½ usual cost!

As a contribution to safer driving JOHNSON'S WAX makes you this wonderful offer!

RETAIL VALUE $9.95

NOW ONLY $3.50 EACH

With the cap-liner from Deep Gloss Carnu, Car-Plate Wax, Car-Plate Cleaner, or Johnson's Chrome Cleaner. Or with the insert from a can of new J-Wax —or the last inch of its metal key-opening band.

Made to exceed CAA standards

Automobile accidents last year killed more than 36,000 and seriously injured another 1,250,000. Accident-research experts believe two-thirds of this needless destruction could have been prevented by these safety belts!

Tested to withstand a sudden thrust of more than 3,000 pounds, these nylon-webbing safety belts surpass even the rigid specifications of the Civil Aeronautics Association. Made by the Irving Air Chute Company—world's oldest and largest manufacturer of parachutes and aviation safety equipment. Special buckles can be unfastened instantly with one hand in emergencies. Available in gray only, complete with fittings. Can easily be installed in any car.

It's America's first choice for color beauty— IT SHINES THE DEEP-DOWN COLOR BACK!

Deep Gloss Carnu actually makes reds redder, blues bluer—deepens any color. Simply rub it on and dull road film, grease and grime vanish. Then just wipe it off and it shines automatically without hard rubbing. Here's a real "spring tonic" for all fading colors—the easiest way ever to keep new cars looking new!

CLEANS AS IT SHINES! Outlasts any auto polish known!

Order your set now—save $6.45 each!

I KNOW! HOW ABOUT ROSCO SWEENEY?

OKAY, I RECKON. BUT WE'RE SURE SCRAPIN' THE BOTTOM OF THE BARREL.

I'LL GIVE IT TO YOU STRAIGHT, SWEENEY. WE NEED A MAN... A MAN WHO IS NOT ONLY FEARLESS, BUT ONE WHO IS BLESSED WITH STERLING CHARACTER, KEEN INTELLIGENCE, AND A WILL OF IRON.

SO, NATURALLY, WE THOUGHT OF YOU, SWEENEY.

ME?

PERFECT!

SO WITH GREAT PRIDE I DEPUTIZE ROSCO SWEENEY AS DEPUTY TOWN MARSHAL.

I'M PROUD OF YOU, BROTHER.

HOT DINGIES! A POLICE BADGE!

HERE, LET ME POLISH IT.

NEVER MIND. LET'S GO AFTER THEM BULLIS BOYS.

NO, WAIT! I CAN'T GO! I CAN'T LEAVE BABY SISTER HERE ALONE, UNPROTECTED!

HOW SILLY, ROSCO!

WELL, OKAY, MARSHAL, BUT I—I'M SORTA WORRIED.

HEAR THAT, BOO BOO? THE NEW DEPPITY'S GONNA BE AWAY FROM HOME, LOOKIN' FER US.

The PHANTOM

By LEE FALK and WILSON McCOY

WHY DO YOU STARE LIKE THAT?

BECAUSE WE JUST SAW YOU GO THAT WAY~NOW YOU COME THIS WAY!

CAN YOU REALLY BE IN TWO PLACES AT ONCE, O GHOST WHO WALKS?

MEANWHILE, JACK THE IMPOSTOR~HUNGRY AND PUZZLED.

IF IT WERE ANYONE ELSE I WOULD SHOOT. HAS THE PHANTOM FALLEN SO LOW HE WOULD STEAL CHICKENS?

THE ESCAPED CONVICT ROBS AND STEALS~NO ONE OPPOSES HIM, BECAUSE OF THE COSTUME HE WEARS.

NO MATTER WHAT I DO, NO ONE BOTHERS ME, BECAUSE OF THIS OUTFIT, WHATEVER IT MEANS.

NEWS TRAVELS FAST IN THE JUNGLE~~

~CHICKEN THIEF~

~ROBBED MAN~

IF I DON'T FIND THIS IMPOSTOR SOON, THE PHANTOM'S GOOD NAME WILL BE RUINED FOREVER~ BUT WHERE TO FIND HIM?

I'VE LOOKED EVERYWHERE~ NO SIGN OF THIS MAN WHO STOLE MY CLOTHES~AND MY REPUTATION~ HMM~A LIGHT~

WILSON McCOY 4-29

I GOT A GOOD RACKET. AS LONG AS I WEAR THIS SUIT, NOBODY WILL COME NEAR ME~ WONDER WHAT IT STANDS FOR!
